The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

Miss Nina Griffin will be found at home now after her term of school as assistant at Gates.

Mrs. S. C. Gassaway and niece, Miss Coda Reid, spent Thursday with Mrs. P. M. Durham, of Six Mile.

Mrs. M. N. Goudelock, Miss Narcissa Clayton, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Mrs. Brown Goudelock, spent one Saturday recently with Mrs. S. C. Gassaway at her country home, "Riverside."

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mauldin called on Miss Narcissa Clayton one Sunday afternoon recently.

Miss Cora Reid has returned to Riverside after a three week visit among relatives in Birmingham, Ala.; Atlanta, Kennesaw, and Cornelia, Ga. She had the pleasure of going to see the scenery and improvements of Tallulah Falls while visiting in Cornelia.

This is the day when the microscope is more generally used than the telescope. We have discovered that the housefly may have more influence on our social life than the flight of a comet across the sky. Also that it often requires the aid of a powerful magnifier to measure the man with the little hammer. One knocker can do more real damage than a thousand boosts can repair. We find the knocker everywhere—in our families, in our churches, in our business, in our cities and towns, among our friends. If we are about to make an investment the knocker is present to discourage us. He is like the old woman in the story, who, when a case of contagious disease broke out in town went among her neighbors and said: "Well, if you haven't got it you will soon have it."

You can't saw wood with a hammer. Hammer throwing should be encouraged in every town. Throw it into the river or any other out of the way place. Don't knock, boost. The world in which we live is increased by building up, not by tearing down. The law of all life is, "First the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear." It is a world in which it is ordained that acorns should go forward to oaks, huts become houses, tents temples and babes men. The first wheel was but the forerunner of our modern Pullman train; the town the nucleus of a great city. Most of the world's inventions and really great men have been victims of the knocker's discouragement. Dryden, who founded the Prudential Insurance Co. was looked upon as crazy when he submitted his plan of industrial insurance to those who had capital to invest. But the time came when the trademark "Gibraltar," of that company was known all over the world. The men who predicted wireless telegraphy and the flying machines a few years ago were considered fit subjects for the insane asylum. No one is of much help to the world nor is he the best adviser, who denounces all things, nor is that man who holds that "whatever is right" the most useful. The first manner of man will hunt for trouble. Not that he may administer the remedy for it, but for the purpose of finding something that will justify his miasmatic faith in things. On the other hand there are always plenty of things to be changed, and these, like lost golf balls, will not cry out where they are. "Do you know there's lots of people, Settin' around in every town, Growling like a broody chicken, Knocking every good thing down?"

"Don't be that kind of cattle, 'Cause they ain't no use on earth. You just be a booster rooster. Crow and boost for all you're worth. These lines about "the knocker" came to my mind WHILE IN PICKENS a few days ago. Chigger.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR MAY 11.

JOSEPH MADE RULER OF EGYPT.

LESSON TEXT—Gen. 41:25-32. GOLDEN TEXT—"God giveth grace to the humble." 1 Peter 5:5.

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." Surely Joseph had had enough of deferred hope during his thirteen years of humiliation, yet he did not lose faith in God during those days of the seeming failure of God's Word (Ch. 40:8; 41:16) and now there is dawning the day of his exaltation. Two years have elapsed since the events of last week's lesson and again his powers of interpretation are called into use.

I. Pharaoh's Dreams, vv. 25-32. Pharaoh is perplexed and his perplexity recalls to the butler his forgotten promise to his fellow prisoner, 40:14 and 41:9-13. It does not seem to us that the butler was much possessed by honest sorrow, but rather he is impelled by a desire to secure the advantage he felt sure would accrue if he could succeed in securing for Pharaoh the interpretation of his dreams. He ought to have remembered Joseph's words that "the thing is established (prepared) by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass."

II. Pharaoh's Deliverer, vv. 33-40. Joseph told Pharaoh the meaning of his dream which had been repeated and which seemed like two different dreams whereas it was but one in the lesson to be taught. It is not enough, however, to tell a man what is the matter with him, most men know without being told, but it is quite another thing to present a rational cure. Joseph's interpretation commanded Pharaoh's confidence and his suggested policy is one of wisdom and good judgment, viz: (1) a man who shall be the executive supervisor of the plans for meeting the impending catastrophe; (2) a governmental department which shall devote itself solely to this matter, and (3) abundant storage of provisions during the seven years of plenty.

Pharaoh's Wisdom. This man of piety knew how to properly improve his opportunity and Pharaoh saw the secret of Joseph's wisdom (v. 38), "a man in whom the spirit of God is" (2 Tim. 1:7). Pharaoh had the wisdom to set in authority the spirit-filled man, a broad suggestion for voters, business men, and even church members. True discretion is God taught (v. 39) and we now begin to see that Joseph's testimony for God is being honored (No. 12:26) and that Joseph was worthy of the honor and power conferred upon him (vv. 40, 41, 44; cf. Matt. 23:12). The source of Joseph's wisdom is open to all (Jas. 1:5), and his worthiness came because of his obedience (Isa. 1:19). His training and testing had prepared him to occupy his exalted position with proper humility and zeal. Faithfulness is of great value and always pays well in the long run. Joseph's exaltation to power is a good type of Christ, (a) in the power bestowed upon him (v. 32); (b) in that the power was unlimited—all the princes were under his feet, Ps. 105:22; Eph. 1:20-22; 1 Peter 3:22; (c) by the certainty of Pharaoh's promise, "I am Pharaoh," see Ex. 3:13, 14.

Joseph did not use his great power for his own selfish ends as do so many modern rulers among men. He did not at once send for the members of his family and place them in lucrative positions, but at once set about making provision for the future. It has been suggested that the unsuccessful interpreters of Pharaoh's dream must have ridiculed Joseph but he certainly was sustained by the conviction that God's word was true and that he was sure that things were certain to come. This ought to admonish us to improve our present, priceless, opportunities (Eph. 5:16). Joseph's open confession was his leaning back upon God.

This story gives us a remarkable revelation of the value of faith as the chief element of strength of a man. It is also a valuable lesson in its revelation of the methods of God in ruling and over-ruling the affairs of men. When we remember Joseph in a pit because of the hatred of his brothers and see him now occupying the supreme place of power in Egypt it seems impossible to reconcile the two events, and yet we see how perfectly natural the order of events are and remember how God is constantly performing these seemingly impossible feats.

Put the Load Where It Belongs

If you are to make the most of your time and opportunities, you must have efficient tools to work with. You have enough hard, tiresome work without wasting your time and energy at wood-sawing, water-pumping, grindstone-turning and the like. Use an IHC engine to furnish power for such work. In less time, and with far less effort, the wood is sawed, the stock watered, the tools sharpened, all at one-tenth the expense of hand work. Put the load where it belongs. Buy and use an

IHC Oil and Gas Engine

It is the cheapest engine you can buy because it costs less per year of service than others. It is so powerful that it will carry a load ten per cent or more above its rated horse power. Perfect combustion makes it economical. IHC oil and gas engines operate on gas, gasoline, naphtha, kerosene, distillate, alcohol. Sizes are 1 to 50-horse power. They are built in every approved style; vertical, horizontal, portable, stationary, skidded, air-cooled, and water-cooled. Sawing, pumping, spraying outfits, etc. IHC oil tractors for plowing, threshing, etc., 12 to 60-horse power. See this engine at the IHC local dealer's place of business and learn what it will do for you. Or write for catalogues.

Dear Editor Sentinel: Please find enclosed one dollar, for which send me your paper for another year.

Tell the good folks of Pickens that I am still in the land of living people. I see in your paper the death of a good many of my good old friends, for which I am very sorry. Perhaps you all would like to hear a few words from Hendersonville, N. C. It is a good little town with a population of about four thousand inhabitants and in summer from ten to twelve thousand visitors. We have an electric car line running from Main Street to Laurel Park and a proposed line from town to Oseola Lake. There
