Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bowen Entertain a Lawn Party

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the lawn party at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bowen last Thursday evening, given in honor of Miss Otis E. O'Dell, sister of Mrs. Bowen, and her guests, Miss Mamie Jett, of Atlanta; Miss Vivian Allgood and Miss Annie Brown, of Liberty.

The evening was a beautiful moonlight one and old people, young people and children, of Pickens, Liberty and vicinity gathered on the lawn about 9 o'clock to the number of about 200. The yard and home were beautifully and artistically decorated with Japanese lanterns, roses and daisies. Any pedestrian passing by would have taken the scene to be one of a veritable fairy land.

Promptly at nine o'clock Miss Otis O'Dell and others entered the diamond as umpires and called the game of drinking native American made punch and talking to native American made girls, to order, and Gentleman John, the ever persistent, handsome and handy widower, of Pickens, with all the grace and gallantry of a Chesterfield, came first to the bat, knocked a home run and won the game for his best girl, Farmer George, age 27, worshipful master of Twelve Mile Lodge, Bachelor's Fraternity of Pickens, and minister plenipotentiary to the department of the Blue Ridge, then on deck, came to the bat next and called for time to find his best girl, whom he said must either be lost, strayed or stolen. The umpire consented and he started out for that purpose, but was soon arrested by J. P. Glenn, chief marshal, for exceeding the minimum speed limit of one mile in a thousand years, by standing so long in same place that the rose bushes and grass did under his feet for lack of fresh air and sunshine. Blocked the way to the punch bowl, but not from it, for nobody left it after getting to it; and impeded the progress of pedestrians in various ways. He was promptly arraigned and pleaded guilty to the charges of damaging private property and feloniously, deliberately, willfully, maliciously, did, then and there, with malice aforethought and with negligence in his heart divert, steal and carry himself away from his best girl against the peace of the young lady and the dignity of himself. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5,000 and talk to a young lady thirty minutes, both of which he refused to do, but offered to give bond for his prompt appearance at the next lawn party if the young lady would agree, securely handcuffed to his best girl that she may not lose him again.

Gentleman John was also arrested for the double crime of exceeding the speed limit and talking to two old maids at the same time, neither one being the right one, and both talking so fast he couldn't tell which one he was talking to, thereby endangering the life and limbs of others. Charges were preferred against him by his best girl for the above and breach of promise and false pretense committed in the night time. He plead the statutes and bond was fixed at $10,000 for his appearance at the next lawn party. Immediately twenty old maids came forward from near the punch bowl each one wanting to sign his bond first, but were all rejected by the Judge because they couldn't repeat the oath of Justification. (That punch must have been spiked.) Promptly at eleven o'clock Gentleman John failed to give bond, the prosecutrix, woman like, repented and came to his rescue, claimed him innocent and in the presence of all those twenty old maids signed his bond and took charge of him herself. Gentleman John and the prosecutrix in all her angelic beauty walked quietly away from the temple of injustice and when last seen by the writer they were sitting quietly in the shadow of a pecan tree rejoicing over the terms of compromise and declaring to each other in tones audible only to themselves and the angels that such love and loyalty is not born of Earth but is Heaven born only.

We predict a season of prosperity for Probate Judge Newbery's office in the near future and recommend that owing to the high cost of living he issue three for a quarter.

The Pickens Band furnished music to the very great delight of all present. We think we can safely say that all present enjoyed the evening to the fullest extent of their ability and that the hospitality, kindness and courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, Miss O'Dell and others will not be forgotten.
