The ONCOOKER S. E. KISER

They live in style; she has a maid
To lace her shoes and hook her waist;
His bills are always promptly paid,
Her clothes exhibit faultless taste;
A butler meets you at their door,
Their car is big and swift and strong;
They have a million, maybe more—
Yet there is something that is wrong.

He has a man to trim his hair
And fix his bath and rub him down;
He is not forced to do any work,
The strain of toiling hard in town;
They travel when and where they please,
They seldom are at home for long,
While others work they live at ease—
Yet there is something that is wrong.

They say it was his wealth that made
Her choose him from the willing throng;
How suddenly some fortunes fade—
How often there is something wrong.

He and Byron.
"Your poetry reminds me very much of that of Byron," said the beautiful young woman.
The young bard drew himself up to his full height, threw back his head, struck a hand between the second and third buttons of his Prince Albert coat and with a satisfaction that he did not attempt to conceal replied:
"It is very satisfying to hear you say so—very satisfying, I assure you."
"He also began every new line with a capital."

Nothing for Him to Brag About.
"I didn't see you at Sabbath school last Sabbath," said the good man.
"Didn't you?" replied little Johnny.
"Well, you needn't think you're so blamed smart on that account. There was a whole lot more people didn't see me there, either."

A Picture.
Her eyes are like the violet,
Her cheeks are like the rose,
And marble never was more white
Than is her shapely nose.

Her figure is the supple kind
That artists like to draw,
But, oh, her voice, alas, is like
The filing of a saw.

Preposterous.
"No," said the matinee idol, "I cannot consent to play this part."
"Why?" asked the manager. "It will give you a grand opportunity to exhibit your histrionic powers."
"But I shouldn't have to make up so that I shouldn't appear at all like myself."

His Boast.
"Who gives this woman away?" asked the preacher.
"I do," said the father of the betrothed who was being married to a titled foreigner, "and more than that, I'm giving one of the biggest bonuses on record with her."

Mere Suggestion.
"Wait a year," she said, "and then ask me again."
"Ah," he complained, "you are cruel. What could I do in the meantime?"
"Well, if you don't mind you might go on making love to me."

Born for Diplomacy.
"Why do you think Charley Torkington would be successful in the diplomatic service?"
"He always manages to sit between my chaplain and me."

Poetic.
"Oh, Mr. Swartzeligh is a poet, isn't he?"
"Why do you think so?"
"I just heard him say 'at eventide.'"

Good Meeting at Tabor

The following letter from the North Pickens circuit appeared in last week's Southern Christian Advocate:
Dear Editor: We have just closed a glorious meeting here at Tabor Methodist church, conducted by Bro. Charlie Anderson. He is a good preacher and we believe he is a wholly consecrated man, full of the Holy Ghost. I believe the prospects are now brighter for old Tabor. I don't believe we had less than fifty conversions with five new members. The house was crowded every night and a good crowd in day time. It commenced Sunday night August 17, and closed the 24th. Old grudges were thrown away, enemies embraced each other, and God got the glory.
Yours in faith,
Mrs. W. L. Mauldin.

Pickens Wants the Highway

Quite a good deal of interest is being manifested in the proposed mountain highway from Anderson to Lake Toxaway, via Easley and Pickens. Hon. T. J. Mauldin has written letters concerning the route to the chambers of commerce of Anderson, Columbia and Charleston and to E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture. We would be glad to have the opinions of the people on the proposed route. Following is a copy of Mr. Mauldin's letter:

"Noting the general interest manifested along the general line of the proposed highway from Charleston via Columbia and Anderson to Lake Toxaway, N. C., and other points of interest, and because of a situation, and are becoming very much enthused over the possibility of bringing this route from Anderson to Easley and through Pickens on to Lake Toxaway, I beg to submit for your consideration the suggestion that such a route from Anderson traversing a country more thickly populated and containing scenery equally as attractive as any other possible route, giving a route more direct and some fifteen miles shorter than any route heretofore proposed, and giving the advantage of the selection of one of four possible routes.

"A road from Anderson to Easley can be constructed along the line of the survey of the old Carolina-Cumberland Gap & Chicago railroad, which route follows a natural ridge and practically no water courses are crossed. A good road is already in existence between these two points, and from Easley to Pickens a most excellent road is already maintained by the public. From Pickens we already have a most excellent grade by three or more roads to the foot of the mountains, which, with a little work, can soon be placed in the very best condition. By one route the distance from Pickens to the foot of the mountains at Sunnysdale is approximately ten miles, from thence through Beasley's Gap, following the same Carolina-Cumberland Gap & Chicago railroad survey, near to the residence of Lee Stansell in Big Eastatoe valley, thence to Laurel Fork, thence in the direction of Rosman, N. C., to Lake Toxaway, N. C., of approximately twenty-eight miles. From the foot of the mountains along this proposed route to Lake Toxaway is already in existence a fairly well graded road which, with a little work, could be placed in good condition. This route is considerably shorter from Anderson to Lake Toxaway than any possible route through Walhalla, S. C. It is estimated that the distance from Anderson to Lake Toxaway along the way suggested can be made in from sixty-one to sixty-three miles. "I am satisfied that if this matter can be properly placed before our people at Pickens and at Easley, and generally along the route suggested thru Pickens county, the people would readily respond in aid thereto, and if it is possible, we would like to have the opportunity from the promoters of this enterprise to show the advantage herein suggested, and I am prompted to say that if the promoters will appoint an engineer for the purpose of making this investigation and survey, the necessary funds to defray the expenses of such survey can be raised here.

"The purpose of this letter is to bring to the attention of the promoters what the people of this vicinity believe to be the most practicable route in the consummation of the purpose of securing a highway to the Sapphire country of North Carolina, and to give assurance that all reasonable assistance can be readily had from the people themselves, and to ask, if possible, that this proposed route be given an opportunity to enter the contest so far as the road from Anderson to Lake Toxaway is concerned. A route through this way would pass near Caesar's Head and Table Rock, where excellent hotels are already maintained, and also near Mt. Pinnacle, otherwise known as Bald Knob, the highest point in South Carolina. The scenery is unsurpassed, the possible grades are equal to any mountain roads, and I am sure that if the opportunity should be given these people, they would meet it with quick response."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

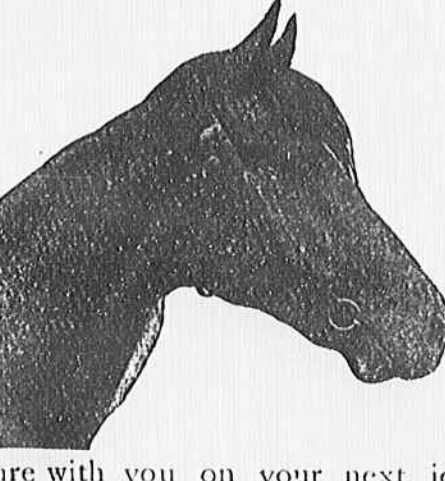

Carroll, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good, I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
