

Court Proceedings.

The court of general sessions was opened last Monday morning. The Solicitor, stenographer and all the jurors were on hand and everything in readiness for the wheels of justice to begin to turn but there was no Judge at the steering wheel. Judge Rice, who was expected to be promptly on hand, missed his train at Greenville and did not reach here until Monday afternoon. Court was promptly called at 3 o'clock and immediately got down to business.

This is Judge Rice's first visit to Pickens and the manner in which he started the wheels going impressed all present of his ability and fairness.

Quite a number of bills was handed to the grand jury.

The first case for trial was the State vs. Joe Hughes, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. The testimony for the State tended to show that during last winter Mr. Joe Hughes struck Mr. G. T. Hendricks with a stick on the side of the head, which came near being fatal. The testimony for the defendant tended to show that a previous misunderstanding had arisen between Hendricks and Hughes, by which bad feelings had been engendered, and that on this day the defendant apprehended trouble, and after hot words, he struck Hendricks. This case consumed all the afternoon and was not finished till Tuesday morning, when the jury rendered a verdict of "guilty of assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature."

J. G. Hughes was sentenced to pay a fine of $200, or serve five months on the chain gang. Notice of appeal was given and the defendant was admitted to bail in the sum of $500.

The first case called for trial Tuesday morning was the State vs. Mason Clardy for removing crop after levy made. After hearing the testimony the Judge directed a verdict of not guilty, because the testimony failed to show the defendant removed the crop.

The next case called for trial was the State vs. Thomas Vick charged with assault and battery with intent to kill and robbery. The testimony for the State tended to show that on the night of July 18th, the dependant, in company with one Brisse and a boy named Smith, were drinking, and while under the influence of liquor went to a creek near Glenwood about midnight to go in washing. Brisse had about $20, and as he stooped to tie his shoe Vick pushed him over and took his money. Begging Vick to give him his money, Vick struck him, knocked him down and he was unconscious for several hours. This Vick denied. The verdict was guilty.

The case against C. R. Parton was not pressed upon payment of cost.

Fed Harper and John Graves, both colored, plead guilty to a charge of larceny and were sentenced for one year each on the chain gang.

James Morgan plead guilty to violating the dispensary law and was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 or to the chain gang for one year. Upon paying $50, the Judge suspended the remainder of the sentence during good behavior, but warned him if he was ever convicted again of any offense he would have to serve the remainder of this sentence.

The grand jury returned no bill in the case of the State vs. W. C. Voils, charged with murder. This is the case where a man was killed by a train at Easley about two months ago, and Mr. Voils was engineer. It was shown to be clearly an accident, and the defendant was immediately discharged.

Court will probably last all next week.

Card of Thanks.

Kind Editor: Please allow us space in your paper to thank all our friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance during the sickness, death and burial of our dearly beloved son and brother, also Drs. Robinson, Valley, Black and Miss Hart, for their kind medical attention.

May the blessings of God rest with each one of them, and when it is theirs to pass through such sorrow may they be sustained by the same comfort and kindness they have shown to us. D. B. Adams and Family.

Wanted—Reliable party to share (by obtaining a trade mark) half interest in an article of merit. No time for the curious. Mrs. S. E. Ervin, Norris.

Grand Jury Presentment.

Pickens, S. C., Sept. 23, 1913. To his Honor, Judge Rice:

We, the Grand Jury, desire to make this, our final presentment:

We have passed on all bills handed us by the Solicitor at this term of Court.

The Committee appointed by our body to examine the various offices and account of the County employed Mr. C. E. Robinson to make this examination for them. Mr. Robinson has made the examination and submitted his report to us. He finds that all the books of the various offices are properly kept, and all the monies handled by them have been accounted for in a lawful manner. His report is too long to be included in our presentment, but will be filed with this presentment in the Clerk's office.

The various committees appointed by us to examine the poor farm, the jail and the chain gang have made their reports to us. They find these different institutions well managed and cared for. We are glad to report that these matters require no criticism from us; on the other hand, we desire to compliment the various officers of our county for their efficient services.

The finances of the county are in excellent condition. We have no bonded debt, and the tax levy will practically cover the running expenses for this year.

We desire to thank the various officers of this court their assistance in the discharge of our duties.

There being no further business, we respectfully ask to be excused from further attendance at this court.

Respectfully submitted,
J. McD. Bruce,
Foreman.

The Sale of The Intelligencer

Seneca Farm and Factory. Announcement was made recently of the sale of the Anderson Intelligencer, one of the few papers in South Carolina that supported Governor Bleasor for governor.

The transfer of this property will mean that South Carolina's chief magistrate will lose one of his ardent defenders.

Col. Cheshire will enter politics and try for the seat now held by Congressman Wyatt Aiken, and his entrance in the political arena will mean a warm time next summer.

Through his paper he has fought Congressman Aiken for some time, many times referring to him as the "do-nothing congressman, pensioned by the people."

Cheshire is a born fighter, known as such by every reader of his paper.

He will be heard from and the race between him and Aiken will be watched with interest.—Adv.

Honea Path Chronicle. Col. V. B. Cheshire of Anderson has announced his candidacy for congress and is now making an active campaign. Col. Cheshire has a strong following in this county and will make it interesting for his opponents.—Adv.

Clements Adams Dead

Mr. Clements Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Adams, of near Concord church, died last Saturday night. He had only been sick a few days and his death was a shock to his friends.

Up until last Wednesday he was a picture of health, but on that day he was forced to take his bed and gradually grew worse until the end came. Drs. Robinson and Valley of Pickens, Dr. Black of Greenville, and a trained nurse of Spartanburg were called and all was done that loving hands could do, but all to no avail. He was 26 years old and was an honest upright straightforward man. He leaves a father, mother six brothers and five sisters, besides a host of friends and relatives to mourn his death. The body was laid to rest in Mt. Bethel cemetery Sunday afternoon the services being conducted by Rev. G. F. Kirby.

To the bereaved ones we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Mr. Paul Farmer, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Remus Henderson of Anderson.

Rexie.

In Memory of Martha Galloway.

She left this world of sorrow on September 6th, to be with her Jesus above. She was sick only three weeks and bore her sickness patiently until the end came. She was 27 years old and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Galloway of East Fork. For the past four years she has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. Bennie Chapman, near the Major's shop. Her body was laid to rest on the day of her death at Flat Rock to await the Resurrection Morning. She was a kind and loving friend and was loved by all who knew her. Earth weeps to give up such a Jewel, while heaven rejoices to receive it. We can not understand why one that we all loved so much is taken from us. She led a quiet and peaceful life and seemed to love the way of righteousness and she was always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need. It seems sad to us to think that there is a vacant chair in our home that can never be filled, and a seat vacant in our Sunday School. She leaves a father and mother, three brothers and six sisters and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death.

A precious one from us is gone. A voice we love is still. A place is vacant in our home. That never can be filled. Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe on his gentle breast Safe in the tomb she is sleeping Her soul is sweetly at rest. Her Friend,
Dora Aiken.

Singing at Liberty.

There will be an afternoon Song Service at the First Baptist church at Liberty on the Fourth Sabbath, September 28th, and all lovers of music are invited to attend and bring books.

Cross Roads News.

The death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Clark, on last Tuesday 16th inst., and carried away the spirit of little Clovie their 10 months old daughter. She was sick only a short while when death came to relieve her sufferings. The body was buried on Wednesday at noon after funeral services conducted by the pastor at Cross Roads church. May God comfort the hearts of the bereaved ones.

Thirty-five happy converts were baptized by the pastor into the fellowship of the church at Cross Roads on Sunday last. The weather was very inclement but a good congregation was present to witness the ordinance administered.

Rev. D. W. Hiott was unanimously elected pastor at Cross Roads for another year.

Deacon Joe B. Findley presented a nice lot of land to the church at Cross Roads, his son Elbert Finley, Esq., of Pickens, surveyed the lot, and drew the deed without charging the church anything. Such generous gifts will be much appreciated by our people.

Cross Roads is a prosperous community, and are waking up along all lines of improvement, but they do need a larger and better church house and when they take a notion to build they will do the thing right.

Married on the 21 inst., by J. D. Mauldin at his residence at Norris. Mr. Tede Galloway to Miss Annie May Mauldin. Miss Annie May is the youngest daughter of the late Hon. W. G. Mauldin. Mr. Galloway is a son of Mr. E. H. Galloway. Both parties number their friends by the score.

Eat 150 Chickens

Fried by Lightning

When lightning struck a barn owned by James Gill, near Sharpville, 150 chickens were shocked and fried to death. The barn was destroyed.

The victim of the fire took his loss philosophically and issued invitations to his neighbors to attend a chicken dinner.—Hearst's (Atlanta) American.

Local and Personal

W. E. M. Heaton, who has been living at the Easley mill for some time, has decided to return to the farm, and has moved to the Massey place on Pickens route 1.

The annual Fall millinery opening at the Millinery Shop will take place next Friday and Saturday, 26th and 27th. Miss Eunice Bethune is in charge this season and promises to have on display the latest creations in millinery. See their announcement in this issue.

Mr. C. W. Parrott, of Spartanburg, spent Saturday night at the home of Taylor H. Stewart. He is an old friend and schoolmate of Mr. Stewart. Mr. Parrott is a native of this county and entered the cotton mill business when quite young, and by hard work has gradually risen to superintendent. He is now superintendent of the Fairmont mills of Spartanburg.

The Easley Progress and Mr. T. A. Bowen have decided to award the premiums in the Girls' Tomato Club at the Pickens County Agricultural and Mechanical Fair, to be held at Easley in October. Valuable premiums will be offered. Anyone desiring to contribute to same may confer with the editor of The Easley Progress or Mr. T. A. Bowen.

A number of prominent men from over the county are here this week attending Court.
