EASLEY, S. C.

for just a few months or years. Then what takes place again? The Governor soon pardons this criminal and he is sent back home to brag and boast about what he has done and he thinks the whole community is afraid of him. He seems to think he has done an honor.

What impression does this have on some one else, especially the rising generation? They will say, "So and so killed a man and he got out of it. I can do the same."

Now, where does the thing stop? What does the old Moses law say? "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." That is a divine injunction we should adhere to strictly.

Of course twelve jurors are sworn to go according to law and evidence when chosen on a murder trial, but it behooves them to be very discreet as to the character of the murderer and to his veracity and likewise to the witnesses.

Human life has got to be too cheap. It seems to us that we are living in a dangerous state.

As stated above, with shrewd lawyers and a pardoning power the law breaker is not afraid. Something will have to be done to check the tide or we had better move to another state. We hope the editor of every paper and every preacher that occupies a pulpit in this State and all correspondents to papers will take this important matter up and try to educate the lawless to obey the law and to teach those who have the execution of the law in their hands the importance of enforcing the law.

Let us hear from other correspondents on this question.

Citizen Writes on Important Question

Mr. Editor: Will you please allow us space in your paper to discuss a very important question—a question that pertains to the life of, and involves the property of, every citizen of the State of South Carolina.

First, we want to ask the questions, Are we living in a civilized State? Have we any laws? If so, why are the laws not enforced?

We are taxed to defray the expenses of men to go to Columbia to make laws for the State of South Carolina in order that our lives and property may be protected, and we are then again taxed to pay sheriffs, magistrates and magistrates' constables to have these laws enforced.

What is the result? A low down kind of a man who doesn't care for himself or anyone else will get about half drunk, light a cigarette, put a deck of cards or a set of dice in one pocket and a cheap pistol in another, and start out to take the thing in. The first man he meets who looks cross-eyed at him, he jerks out that little cheap pistol and what is the result? The life of a poor, innocent man is taken with maybe not time to ask God one time to have mercy on his soul, saying nothing about maybe a poor woman and a gang of little fatherless children who are left with no one to look to for support.

What is the outcome of this murder? Because we have shrewd lawyers who are working for the money of course, regardless of the future welfare of this dead man or his family, their services are sought at once. He begins to work of course for his client and maybe secures a whole lot of affidavits from parties who are "pals" to the murderer and who disregard law and order as much or more than the one who committed the crime. What is the result? When Court comes on the murderer is either turned loose or sent to the gang or penitentiary
