

Mr. Larkin Hughes Died Tuesday, 23d

Mr. Larkin Hughes, one of the old and honored citizens of Pickens county, died at his home about four miles from Pickens at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. He developed a case of pneumonia only last Saturday.

Mr. Hughes was a little over ninety years old at the time of his death and was one of the oldest and best known men in this county. His friends were many and they will be deeply grieved to learn of his death.

Mr. Hughes was twice married, his second wife and the following children are living: Jas. A. and Alfred Hughes, of Laurens county; Mrs. Charlotte Clayton and Miss Tirzah Hughes, of Pickens county; and Mrs. Belle Davis, of Inman.

He was a member of Twelve Mile Methodist church and of Keowee Lodge No. 179, A. F. M. The funeral was held at Bethlehem church Wednesday and the body was buried with Masonic honors.

The Sentinel joins with unnumbered friends in extending to the family sincere sympathy.

Misses Mauldin Entertain

On last Wednesday evening quite a number of young people from Easley, Pickens and Liberty enjoyed a sociable at the hospitable home of Mr. E. E. Mauldin, near Easley. About 8 o'clock the "picnic tea" was spread on table covers in the yard, and turkey, chicken salad, cake and iced tea was served in "picnic" style. After feasting on good things to eat, interesting games were engaged in, and merry-making, laughter and song lasted until the midnight hour, when the guests upon departing agreed that Misses Gladys and Elizabeth Mauldin are ideal entertainers.

Pleasant Grove News

Boys, be sure to get your names on the club register, so you can vote for Coley next August.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Moody, who has been very ill, is better at this writing.

B. B. Barker is very ill at this writing of complicated diseases. Dr. E. C. Stroud of Marietta is his attending physician.

Part of the Pleasant Grove singing class met with the Oleanoysingers last Sunday evening and spent about two hours in some good singing.

W. M. Davis and his two little sons of Norris were in this section visiting relatives and friends. While here he purchased a fine tract of land.

On last Thursday, June 18, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dill of this section were called to the deathbed of Mr. Dill's mother near Sandy Flat. She had been in poor health for some time.

We had a nice shower of rain on last Thursday morning, but nothing like a season. It has been eight weeks since we have had enough rain for the water to run more than across the yard. A FARMER.

Automobile Turned Over

A serious accident was narrowly averted Sunday when an automobile containing eight people turned over near the bridge over the Southern railway at the Alice Cotton Mill. In the car at the time of the accident were Sam Craig and seven of his nephews. A son of Mr. John Craig, of Walhalla, was driving the car and was moving his hat with one hand when the steering wheel of the automobile got loose from him, the automobile running out of the road and falling down an eight-foot embankment, throwing Sam underneath the car. None of the party were seriously injured, several receiving only slight bruises, and not very much damage was done the automobile.

The congregations of the other churches in town and those of the country in reach of town are also invited to participate in these services.

In Memory of Little Neda Durham

On June 5 the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Durham and claimed for its victim Neda, the 14-month-old baby.

The little body was laid to rest the day following its death in Fairview cemetery. Rev. W. C. Seahorn conducted the funeral services.

To the heartbroken parents we would say, be glad that God loaned you this little life as long as He did. May it cheer and inspire you as you go down the journey of life. Think not of her as dead, but standing on the other side of death's river beckoning you to come.

She is now numbered with the angels, With the angels bright and fair; We can almost see her beckoning To that glorious land o'er there.

Darling Neda, she has left us— Yes, forever more; But we hope again to meet her On that happy, golden shore.

She is calling, ever calling— To that land so bright and fair; And, through faith in Christ our Savior, We will meet Neda over there. **

Death of a Little Child

Little Nora Burdine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Burdine, died at their home June 18, 1914. Little Nora had been very ill for about three weeks of typhoid fever. Although she was only two years old, she was greatly loved by all who knew her. She was exceptionally bright and attractive. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community. We know it was hard to give up such a darling, but God knew best.

The hearse was driven to their door; It brought a coffin as white as snow; Such coffins they had seen before, But never one concerned them so. They took the coffin from the casque; And placed a snow-white form inside; We looked once more—it was the last— On she who once had been their pride. The precious child! Oh, is it true That we shall see her face no more? Her life was like the morning dew— "The gone, our hearts are bleeding sore." A voice that whispers from above: "I grieve, I also take away." "It was our Father's voice of love! Our consolation, hope, and stay."

193 Voters Enrolled In Pickens Precinct

Up to 2 o'clock Tuesday 193 voters had put their names on the Pickens club roll. This leaves over 400 to enroll in this precinct alone between now and July 28. The time gets shorter every day. Better enroll now and be done with it. Those who do not enroll by the 28th of July cannot vote in the primaries this year.

Writes From Baltic Port

Douglas Jenkins, formerly a South Carolina newspaper man, now consul of the United States at Riga, Russia, a port on the Baltic near St. Petersburg, writes to Daily Consular and Trade Reports (Washington) that vast importations of American agricultural implements are coming into his district and that some of the largest orders are placed by cooperative purchasing associations. Mr. Jenkins was consul of the United States at St. Pierre, St. Pierre-et-Miquelon, for several years, and then was stationed for two years at Goteborg, Sweden.—The State.

Mr. Jenkins formerly practiced law in Pickens and is well known here.

Bertran Porter, Eugene Yongue, Henry Cureton, Furman Waldrop.

News Along Route 5

Mr. Editor: As I haven't seen anything from this part of Peardige recently I will give you a few dots.

W. E. Nelson has treated himself to a new top buggy.

Melyin Spearman and family visited W. D. Spearman and family recently.

Homeer Aiken has been very sick the past week, but is better at last report.

Mrs. W. M. Martin and her mother, Mrs. Collins, visited Mrs. D. A. Parrott Monday.

J. L. Durham has the contract to build the Martin graded school building, which he will commence about July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spearman attended the funeral of their little grandson, Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Davis, at Griffin Saturday.

J. W. and C. B. Grant are doing very good business with their threshing machine. Last week in five days they threshed something over 2,200 bushels of grain.

We had a nice rain Sunday afternoon, the 21st, which was gladly received. Cotton is looking very promising in this section. Grain harvesting is about over and pea sowing is the order of the day with farmers. Corn is very small for this time of the year, but is clean and in good shape. The small grain crop was very good considering the dry weather. FARMER.

W. O. W. Friends Indeed

Mr. B. Burdine, living near Cross Roads church, whose child had been sick for more than a month and died last week, has been the recipient of much kindness and sympathy from friends, as was shown in a practical way on Monday and Tuesday of this week. During the sickness of his child Mr. Burdine had gotten badly behind with his crop. On Saturday night in their meeting at Cross Roads the W. O. W. camp decided to meet on Tuesday and work out the crop of Mr. Burdine, as he was "up to his neck" in work. On Monday several of his neighbors, fifteen or twenty in number, came and started the work. Tuesday morning eleven plows began to run and twenty-six hoe hands began hoeing, mostly Woodmet and their families. The outlook at dinner Tuesday was bright with prospects that the crop of Mr. Burdine would be free from grass at sunset of the day.

Such acts of kindness show the right spirit, and brings to light the great principle of the brotherhood of man, which should be commended.

Tabor News Notes

Crops in this section are fine. Tabor church has put in a new organ.

Mrs. Anderson Evatt visited Mrs. J. C. Dodgens Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Evatt were visitors in the Griffin section one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Simmons were visitors in the Dacusville section Sunday.

Misses Sarah and Sunnie Barr visited Misses Clovie and Essie Evatt Saturday.

The young folks of this section furnished some fine music at Tabor church Saturday night.

Miss Alice Whitmire, who is working in the Pickens cotton mill, visited her folks Saturday night. WHIPPOORWILL.

New Fly Trap

A new kind of fly trap, gotten up at Clemson College, has been introduced in this county and has made a big hit everywhere it has been shown. It is of very simple construction, can be made at a small cost and has the greatest capacity for catching flies of any trap made. Farm Demonstrator Bowen brought one to Pickens last week and it made such a favorable impression that dozens of them have been made here during the past week and flies are getting scarce around the places where the traps are used.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Sallie Thompson, to Mr. Arthur King of Easley. The marriage to take place at the home of the bride's parents near Pendleton, Aug. 5.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Obe Hughey, who live near Georges creek church, died last Saturday, and was buried Sunday following.

Clarence Pace went to Greenville Tuesday, with the intention of entering a business school.

Will Order Vetch Seed Farm Demonstrator T. A. Bowen is now preparing to make his estimate of the amount of clover and vetch seed which will be used in Pickens county this year and those who wish Mr. Bowen to order seed for them should let him know the amount they want. The price of the seed is expected to advance soon, but if an order is placed within the next two weeks Mr. Bowen thinks they can be bought at the old price of eight cents a pound.

Frank B. Morgan, of Central, Died Sat.

Central, June 20.—This town and community mourns today on account of the death of Frank B. Morgan, which occurred at his home here at an early hour this morning. His friends, whom he numbered by his acquaintances, will be deeply shocked and grieved to know of his death as only two weeks ago he seemed in perfect health and strength. His sickness was critical from the beginning and his friends hoped against hope that he might be spared. Mr. Morgan was 59 years of age and for many years has been a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist church and for a long while served on its board of stewards.

He was an enthusiastic member of the Masonic fraternity and was time and again honored by his local lodge by being selected to serve the lodge as worshipful master. He was a member of the Living Arch chapter, R. A. M., also a member of the Greenville commandery and of Omar temple of the Mystic Shrine.

His activities were varied and at all times took a prominent part in everything looking to the betterment of the moral, educational and religious life of the community. As merchant, banker and farmer his life work was well done. He was one of the pioneer merchants of the town, having been established in business here for more than 30 years, during which time he accumulated considerable property. He was also a pioneer in the banking life of the town, having largely through his efforts established the Bank of Central some 12 years ago, in which institution he has always held a most responsible position. Many years ago Mr. Morgan was married to Miss Eugenia Robinson of Atlanta, Ga., who together with two sons, F. Burt and Carl, and two daughters, Misses Mattie May and Mary, are left to mourn his untimely death.

Besides his immediate family he has five surviving brothers—Lafayette Morgan, James Morgan, Jephtha Morgan, Mack Morgan and Davis Morgan, and one sister, Mrs. Harriet Holden. The funeral of Mr. Morgan will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late residence, following which his remains will be laid to rest in Mt. Zion cemetery.

A mistrial resulted in the case of Joseph G. Sullivan, charged with killing Col. John M. Cannon, in Laurens county.
