Card of Thanks

Mr. Editor: Please allow us space in your paper to thank our good neighbors and friends for their help and kindness to us during the sickness and death of our mother. May God's richest blessings rest upon each one of them is our prayer.

J. S. FINLEY.

Horrible Crime

One of the most sordid and cold-blooded crimes Greenville county has known in years came to light Sunday afternoon when J. D. Nix, a man of 62 years, was arrested by Sheriff Rector and brought to the county jail, where he confessed to having committed incest with his own niece and when the baby was born carried it into a nearby field and buried it in a shallow grave dug by his own hands.

Death of Mrs. Jane Finley

On July 25 the death angel came and took from this world one of our good women, Mrs. Jane Finley, and carried her to that bright home above. She had not been strong for ten years, and eight weeks ago she was confined to her bed. On Saturday before she died she called her children to her bedside and told them she was ready to go home and that she wanted all of her children to meet her in heaven.

She was 58 years of age and had been a member of the Baptist church for over 35 years. She was a daughter of Abe Hendricks and the widow of William Finley, who preceded her to the grave 21 years. She leaves two brothers, Mace Hendricks of Laurens county and Bob Hendricks of this county, and six children, J. S. and W. B. Finley of Greenville county, Mrs. Della Medlin of Anderson county, and L. A. Ernest and Verner Finley of Pickens county.

The remains were laid to rest the day following her death in the Cross Roads cemetery, Rev. J. E. Foster conducting the funeral services.

To the Public and All Concerned: There will be a meeting of the county candidates at McKinney's shop, August 7, 1914. All the candidates are requested to be on hand and discuss the issues as they may be presented. The meeting will be called to order at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

J. C. MCKINNEY.

To The Voters of Pickens County

Owing to my invalidity and having no conveyance, I shall not attempt to canvass the county. I was born and raised in Pickens county and well known in the county. I am thoroughly competent to discharge the duties of the office to which I aspire. It is my intention to attend all the county campaign meetings and there present my claims. I hope to meet every voter in the county at those meetings and ask them to come out, see and hear a man that has never known what it was to walk as other men walk but has had to sit in a rocking chair for 44 years. That is the kind of a man who is asking to be elected to the office of Probate Judge.

Respectfully,
J. ALONZO BROWN.

After Twenty Years.
The self made man stalked into the office of a great financier with whom he had an appointment.
"You probably remember me," he began, "but twenty years ago when I was a poor messenger boy you gave me a message to carry."
"Yes, yes!" cried the financier. "Where's the answer?"—Christian Register.

His Manifold Aspect.
Small Boy—Mamma, is it really true that the devil has horns and a club-foot?
The Mother—Ah, my dear, sometimes the devil appears in the shape of a very handsome and charming young man.
Small Boy (pityingly)—Oh, mamma! You're thinking of Cupid.—Punch.

No Gentle Joke.
Hemmanthaw—When Beanbrough got married one of his friends threw an old shoe through the carriage at him and hit him on the head.
Shimmergate—Couldn't he find out who owned the shoe?
Hemmanthaw—No; it belonged to a horse.—Judge.

Widow Was Shocked.
"You will," said the attorney, during the course of their conversation, "you will get your third out of the estate."
"Oh!" exclaimed the widow, aghast, "how can you say such a thing with my second scarcely cold in his grave!"—Green Bag.

ALL WORK.

She—I think marriage should be like sliding downhill—just one round of happiness.
He—Some say it's more like dragging the sled back up the hill.

Lucky Girl.
There was a dashing debutante, who had a winning way. In fact, she cleaned up tiny sums at bridge, "most every day."

Sense of Relief.
"What's this?" asked the dictator, nervously, as the courier handed him a "can ultimatum."
"Another ultimatum? Then it's all right. I thought maybe they were trying to start something."

The Modern Girl.
"But are you sure, young man, that you can support my daughter in the style to which she has been accustomed?"
"Much better, sir. To be frank with you, I rather suspect it to be one of her reasons for marrying."

Distinction of Terms.
"That man who paid a fortune for a bogus rare book must be a very judicious bibliophile."
"Well," replied Miss Cayenne, "there are bibliophiles; and then there are what Josh Billings would have called 'bibliophobes.'"

Bridge.
Nick—Are you a good card player?
Dick—No. At bridge I'm a regular Horatius.

Nick—What do you mean—a regular Horatius?
Dick—I keep the others from coming across.—Judge.

Giving Him Room.
"The orchestra is too crowded."
"They will have to sit tight."
"But the trombone player hasn't room to work his slide."
"I can't give him any more room laterally. I'll cut a hole in the floor if he likes."

Old Man Lost the Show.
"Did your father ever lick you?"
"Once, but I got good and even."
"How?"
"Why, when the circus came to town shortly afterward I said I didn't care to go."

Naturally.
She—I'm disgusted with our club.
He—What's the matter with it?
She—Do you know, at our last meeting, some women gossiped so much there that I hadn't a chance to be first with the scandal in our neighborhood.

Soaked.
"Dolberry made a speech at the banquet last night without at first familiarizing himself with conditions."
"Oh, his own condition was responsible for that."

Bad for Dentists.
"How are those two young men who went into partnership as dentists—getting on?"
"Rather badly. Somehow they don't seem to pull together."

Natural Fireman.
"Is your husband one of these men who always want to run to a fire?"
"Yes," replied Mrs. Cornsloss; "and then sit down in front of it and go to sleep."
