Obituary notices and tributes of respect of not over one hundred words will be printed free of charge. All over that number must be paid for at the rate of one cent a word. Cash to accompany manuscript. Cards of thanks published for one-half cent a word.

German officers must be getting lop-sided toting those iron crosses.

"I love my United States, but oh, you submarine!"—Der Kaiser.

"Giva da monk five cent." Italy got the jit and went against the under dog.

"Bad Cotton Weather"—headline. Meaning, of course, good weather for less cotton.

About all there is in the magazines these days is alleged war news and automobile ads.

Have you a little Ford in your home? —Hartwell (Ga.) Sun. No; can't afFord one yet.

"Return of Prosperity"—headline. Seems like we've read that heading somewhere before.

That sure must have been an awful battle at Szszepanowice, if the name had anything to do with it.

"Shall we learn Russian?" asks an exchange. Not so you can notice it. We might try, but learn it—never!

When those Mexicans get together, as President Wilson wants them to, there will be a general hanging bee.

Why the South Carolina editors want to go to No'th Caliny is a mystery. They only have a quart every two weeks there!

"Now, what is a woman?" asks the Charlotte Observer. That's what we've been trying to find out lo these many years.

Missionaries to heathen lands should be transferred to some of the enlightened (?) nations, where they might do some good.

It is said there are about 5,000 words in the English language that have no rhyme to them. For which we should be truly thankful.

The Allies are patting Italy on the back now. But we suspect that as soon as old Von Hindenburg gets wound up he will also go some patting.

It's been a long time since we've seen Hon. Joe Brown's name in the papers. Where is he?—Hartwell Sun. If it's "Little Joe" you ask about, here's hoping he's interned for keeps.

According to the Record, if Germany should invade South Carolina Columbia would have her trenches ready-made in the red ditches in her residential section. Ever try the split-log drag?

Having issued white books, blue books and green books, it is now up to some one of the European nations to issue a red book. That color would match the business they are engaged in.

Bachelors were taxed in England in the seventeenth century. And nearly every state in this union has a legislator to bob up at every session with this same seventeenty century antiquity.

This world would be a happier place if some people were like opportunity, and didn't knock but once—Greenville News. Yes, but opportunity is knocking all the time, just as there is some one knocking all the time.

Having secured "them pants," The Sentinel "boss man" will welcome the necessary wherewithal to enabie him to attend that blowout at Chick Springs the editorial association has arranged, which begins June 28 and lasts three days. And remember the time is growing shorter all the time.

Tugaloo Tribune don't like the way The Sentinel spells some of its words—tho (though), thru (through), etc. Bro. Gossett should read his Literary Digest; then he would think The Sentinel was tame on the phonetic way of spelling. For instance, the Digest spells it "discust" for discussed and "crusht" for crushed.

Wayne Mauldin, the magnanimous manager of the Pickens Oil Mill, says he recently overheard a conversation between two colored employes of the oil mill. The conversatibn was regarding the big guns being used in the European war, and one negro said to the other: "Dem English has got guns what will shoot clean ercross de ocean." "Sha, nigger, dat ain't nuffin'," said the other; "all dem German guns wants to know is your add-dress!"

Another Pet Idea Smashed!

By MOSS.

Of course you know our dear old friend, the ichthyosaurus, is as dead as a doornail.

He's about as out of date as the idea that newspaper advertising doesn't pay.

Newspaper advertising absolutely pays under two conditions: When the newspaper is a good medium and when the advertising is properly displayed and truthful.

It pays the merchant and it pays the buyer. Experience has proved this a million times.

This paper is a good medium.

Old Soldiers' Reunion

The fourteenth annual reunion of the Confederate veterans of Pickens county was held at Pickens Thursday, June 3, that day also being the 108th anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, first and only president of the Confederate States of America. The reunion was made possible by and held under the auspices of the Pickens Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. Eighty-three of the hoary-haired heroes and a large crowd of other citizens of the county were present. The clouds of the early morning kept many from attending, but later the day was turned into a rare one, even for June.

At ten-thirty o'clock the Daughters of the Confederacy, followed by the old soldiers and preceded by the Easley Mill Band playing a popular air, marched up Main street and into the court house, where seats were reserved for the veterans, daughters and band. The court house was crowded with people who would do honor to the memory of the departed chieftain and the guests of the day.

Judge T. J. Mauldin, son of a Confederate soldier, presided over the exercises held in the court house. Rev. D. W. Hiott opened the exercises with prayer. Mr. Mauldin then introduced Hon. J. J. McSwain, of Greenville, who delivered the annual address. Tho Mr. McSwain's throat gave him some trouble his address was excellent and eloquent and pleased his hearers greatly. He gave proof that under the constitution of the United States the Confederates were right in their views and in their actions. The most eminent historians and authorities of this day acknowledge this. He paid a beautiful tribute to the men who wore the gray and was applauded for his most appropriate address.

After this address the band played and several of the veterans made short talks.

Among those who made talks was Rev. B. Holder, who is 92 years old and was the oldest man present. He said there were two things of which he was glad, one was that he didn't kill any Yankees and the other was that they didn't kill him.

Capt. Wm. B. Allgood was the next oldest person present, he being 78 years old. He was in command of the veterans on this occasion.

W. Nelson Bolding, who was a sharpshooter under General Lee, made a splendid short talk. Pointing toward a large bust picture of General Lee, which hung upon the wall, the old veteran said he knew "that man" and next year he hoped he could see a large picture of the "general" mounted on his grey horse—it would look so natural.

B. J. Johnston made a nice talk and reminded his comrades that they should get ready for the meeting with Lee and Jackson and others who had crossed the river. He said the greatest strength of this country was not in its big guns and fortifications, but in its splendid citizenship.

J. M. King, who entered the war when he was sixteen years old, said his mother's prayers were answered and God allowed him to return safely home.

B. C. Johnson wanted pensions for all Confederate soldiers.

Dinner, prepared and served by the patriotic ladies, was one of the main features of the day. It was spread under the shade trees of the court house yard, and was the result of much but loving labor of the ladies. There was plenty and it was good.

The Easley Mill Band came up on the first train Thursday and furnished excellent music thruout the day, much to the delight of the large crowd. This is a splendid band composed of eighteen gentlemen, and their music was the cause of much favorable comment. The management of the Pickens railroad furnished free transportation for members of the band from Easley to Pickens and return. This act of courtesy of the railroad company is greatly appreciated.

No applications for Crosses of Honor were made in time for them to be presented on this date.

All in all it was a great day for the old soldiers and Pickens county. Occasions like this tend to make a better and more patriotic citizenship.

Dacusville News

(Too late for last week.)

General Green has almost taken possession of this country since the recent rains.

The grain crop in this section is going to be light on account of the long drouth.

Mr. S. F. Robinson is no better at this writing and is not expected to recover.

Last Monday morning, May 24, the death angel visited the home of W. E. Hunt and claimed for its victim Mr. John H. Hunt, aged 81 years. Mr. Hunt was a member and deacon of the Nine Forks Baptist church. The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Welcher, assisted by Rev. J. E. Foster and S. M. Looper, the day following his death and the interment took place in the Nine Forks cemetery. He leaves a host of relatives and friends to morn his departure.

The union meeting and singing at Peters Creek was well attended. Some good talks were made by C. E. Robinson and J. T. Taylor of Pickens. The singing was also fine. Among the leaders were Professors Burns, Lee and Cassell of Cedar Mountain, N. C., Sissons, Moody, Anders and Hendricks of the Pleasant Grove section, Baker of Travelers' Rest, Robinson of this section, Lesley and Tompkins of Easley, and Sissons and Chapman of the Cross Roads section. We hope to have another such day in the near future.

Among those prominently mentioned are present Congressman Wyatt Aiken, of Abbeville; M. L. Bonham, Lee G. Holleman, John A. Horton, A. H. Dagnall, J. Mack King and John V. Stribling, of Anderson county; Henry C. Tillman and C. C. Featherstone, of Greenwood; Fred H. Dominick, of Newberry; E. C. Doyle and C. R. D. Burns, of Oconee. Every county in the Third district is represented in this list except Pickens, but it is more than a year until election time.

Resolutions of Respect

The members of the young men's prayer meeting of Mountain View Baptist church passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, God in his all-wise providence has removed from our midst Bro. Leland Bolding, whose life and influence was bright for the future. In his death we deeply feel a personal loss in the young men's prayer meeting services, of which he was a member. As a young man his life was noble.

Resolved, That we bow to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That our sympathies are with the bereaved family for the loss of their only son.

RALPH GARRETT,
NOAH LARK,

Liberty U. D. C. Elect Officers

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. J. C. Hunter was the charming hostess to the Keowee Chapter, U. D. C. This being the time for the election of officers the following were elected: Mrs. A. L. Johnson, president, Mrs. H. G. Smith, vice president, Mrs. J. F. Banister, recording secretary; Mrs. J. N. Blum, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. G. Smith, historian; Mrs. L. A. Boggs, registrar. An interesting program was carried out after which the hostess served a tempting salad course. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. L. A. Boggs.

Mountain View Dots

(Too late for last week.)

J. M. Cater lost a fine mule last Wednesday morning.

We have had plenty of rain the past few days and thinning cotton is the order of the day.

The stork visited Mr. and Mrs. Julius M. Cater May 25, and left them a fine boy, which will be called Julius Randolph Cater.

Miss Fannie Hudson and brother, Laban, visited their cousins, Ben and Ola Hudson, Saturday and Sunday and also attended the singing at Tabor Sunday.

Two of the five for selling forfeited their bonds of $25.00 and two were tried and found guilty and were given $50 or 30 days. Two of the six for transporting compromised and were given $15.00.

Chief Black says "that he is going to put a stop to whiskey traffic if it takes another bunch of black and white ones."—Liberty Gazette.

Children's Day

Please state in your paper that King's Grove church will have a children's day celebration on the 2nd Sunday in June. Prof. R. M. Bolding has promised to be with us and the afternoon will be devoted to song service. The public in general and all good singers in particular are cordially invited to be present.

Only two newspapers in the United States, printed in English, which defend the sinking of the Lusitania by the Germans is the Milwaukee Free Press and the St. Louis Times. The former paper is owned and edited by Germans and all its support comes from that source; while the Times is evidently edited by a pervert.

Let's not fight, but feed, the Mexicans—Greenville Piedmont. Let's don't. Let's quit feeding not only Mexicans, but stop feeding all other nations which are at war. Let Uncle Sam forbid the shipment not only of war munitions, but stop all shipments of food, or anything else. Then the war in Mexico and the war in Europe will end, and quickly.
