PICKENS, S. C., SEPTEMBER 23, 1915

Number 20

Court Will Begin Monday

Judge R. W. Memminger of Charleston is scheduled to preside at the next term of court of common pleas and general session for Pickens county, which will convene Monday, September 27, and which is expected to continue in session about two weeks.

Those who attend court will find a great improvement in the interior of the court house. All of the offices have been renovated and the walls kalsomined and the court room has been given a general cleaning up and the benches repainted. This will be welcome news to the taxpayers who have paid for and own the court house and who like for it to be kept in sanitary condition.

Following is the list of petit jurors who have been drawn to serve at this term:

E P Norton, J L Bagwell,
J H Bryant, W T Freeman,
B H Duncan, P C Marchbanks,
Jno L Durham, L H Bolding,
W B Heaton, M O Looper,
Jno J Lee, J C Jennings,
Lawrence Roper, Joe V Ellenburg,
J R Morgan, Jess V McCombs,
L V Jones, M L Simmons,
C O Perry, W B Mann,
A M Walker, W M Martin,
C W Boggs, G L Stewart,
G Earle Keith, D L Barker,
W A Porter, R E Bowen,
C W Hunter, E H Davis,
T C Herd, Evans Nicholson,
W F Gaines, A R Hamilton,
E L Bolt, L B O'Dell.

Good Road Across the Mountain

All persons who are interested in a good road from Price's store to Rosman, N. C., are asked to meet in the court house Monday, September 27, at 2 o'clock and discuss this subject. It should interest many, and as this will also be the first day of court a large crowd is expected at this meeting. Be on hand.

Preparing for Fall Trade

Indications are that Pickens merchants are preparing for the biggest fall and winter trade they have ever had, judging by the quantity and variety of new goods which are coming into Pickens daily. There is probably no other town its size in the state which shows a larger, better selected or more up-to-date line of goods than can be found right here in Pickens. Pickens merchants know the needs and wants of the people of this county and they buy goods which will please our people both in quality and price. When you trade with Pickens merchants you will receive fair treatment. Pickens business men have always reached out into the neighboring country for trade, but this season they will make greater efforts than in the past, and it is sure that the town will maintain its established reputation as the trade center of the county.

Ford Automobile Agency

B. L. Hendricks, popular and well known all over Pickens county as a hustler from "away back," has secured the agency for Ford automobiles in the townships of Pickens, Central, Hurricane and Eastatoe, and has opened headquarters at Guy McFall's garage in Pickens.

He is expecting a carload of Fords to arrive this week and has already received a large shipment of accessories, different parts of automobiles, etc., with which he can supply Ford owners on short notice.

Those who are expecting to purchase an automobile for any purpose should see Mr. Hendricks and have him demonstrate the Ford for you. There are more of these automobiles sold than any other one kind. They seem to give satisfaction and Ben will treat you right.

You can get a 25-cent tooth brush and 25 cents worth of tooth paste both for 25 cents at the Keowee Pharmacy this week. You can't get a bargain like this every day, so you better get a supply now. This week only.

Mrs. J. P. Carey, Jr., has returned from Atlanta, where she has been visiting.

Oolenoy News Notes

Prof. W. M. Hammond, the efficient principal of the graded school here, and sisters, Misses Emma and Velma, spent the week-end with homefolks near Seneca.

W. E. Edens, Jr., was a business visitor to Greenville Saturday.

Hon. J. P. Carey, Jr., and J. T. Richey were demonstrating a handsome new Overland car here last week. They were accompanied by Misses Chastain, Boggs and Looper, who made a short call on the former's sister, Mrs. A. C. Sutherland.

D. W. Roper was in Greenville on business last week.

S. B. Edens has returned after spending several days at Rock Hill, where he attended Federal court as a grand juror. While there he made an interesting visit to Winthrop college.

A farmers' meeting was held at the Oolenoy graded school house last Friday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the establishment of a creamery route thru this section. Mr. Watkins of Clemson College gave an interesting talk on the subject. P. C. Cartee, a patron of the Liberty creamery route, was present as a booster and gave a short talk.

L. Vernon Jones, a student of a Greenville business college, who has been spending some time with homefolks here, returned to his duties last week.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Crenshaw were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sutherland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lynch spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Edens.

Miss Pearl Sutherland and brother Lawrence spent the week-end with Miss Lois Hester of Pickens.

Misses Jessie B. and Montine Edens were the Sunday guests of Miss Gladys Hill of Dacusville.

Among those attending the baptizing at Nine Times Sunday afternoon were Misses Emma Hammond, Annie May Williams, Viola, Ione and Cleo Hendricks, Mary Roper; Messrs. W. M. Hammond, Paul Edens, Prue and Rudolph Hendricks and John Roper.

Miss Cleo Hendricks very delightfully entertained the younger set at a lawn party last Friday evening. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Lou Goudelock of Six Mile is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Edens.

Prue Hendricks has gone to Greenville, where he entered Central high school.

Farmers' Meeting

Friday, September 24, there will be a meeting at Clemson College especially for the farmers of Pickens, Oconee and Anderson counties and all farmers are invited to attend. Arrangements have been made to have a lecture by Prof. Conrady on worms and insects and one by Prof. Barr on plant diseases. The lectures will begin at 10 o'clock. T. A. Bowen, demonstration agent, is expecting Pickens county to be well represented at the meeting.

Congressman Wyatt Aiken was in town Tuesday.

Marriages at Catechee

Married, on the 15th inst., at the residence of the officiating officer, Mr. Lewis Hoicomb to Mrs. Zephia Galloway, J. Alonzo Brown, N. P., at the throttle.

Married, on Sunday evening, Sept. 19, at the residence of the officiating officer, Mr. Claud Sexton to Miss Bettie Martin, J. Alonzo Brown, N. P., at the throttle.

These two happy couples have the congratulations of their many friends.

As fall of the year is at hand and marriages as well as cotton will be either on the up or down grade, we want all of a matrimonial inclination to know that the old matrimonial mill at the residence of J. Alonzo Brown is still turning out stuff that makes people either happy or miserable, as the case may be, and one dollar to the probate judge and one to the mill starts the old wheel to rolling.

Several cases of typhoid fever and one of scarlet fever reported on Norris cotton mill hill.

W. Y. Mulkey is very low with fever. There has been a trained nurse with him for some time.

We are sincerely glad to know that the majority of the people voted dry on the 14th inst., but sincerely sorry to know it still remains wet and has been so all the while around Catechee. Say, you officers of the law, why are you not upon your job? If you don't take steps to stop it Governor Manning will have to. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

The hearts of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Rogers were made to overflow with joy when the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren gathered at their home on Liberty route 3, Friday, Sept. 3, to celebrate the golden wedding of this good couple. And they were the recipients of many beautiful presents of gold, linen and china.

The good housewives never forgot their duty when it came to the table, which was placed in the grove in front of the house. There was a plenty and more to satisfy the inner man, which all present did.

Inclement weather prevented some from attending. Those present were Mr. Walker Clardy and family of Piedmont, Mr. Willie Rogers and family of Easley, Mr. Laban Rogers and family of Easley, Mr. Walter Evatt and family of Easley, Mr. John Rogers of the Enon section, Mr. Alex Waldrop and family of Liberty route 4, Mr. J. F. Rogers and family of Liberty route 4 and Mr. M. M. Rogers and family of Liberty route 3.

Everybody had a jolly time, and parting and goodbye time came all too quick.

May Mr. and Mrs. Rogers live to enjoy many more years of happiness and usefulness and may their last days be their happiest. ONE PRESENT.

Begin Double-Tracking Soon

The contracts for the double-tracking of the Southern road between Greenville and Central, a distance of about 26 miles, were let last week in Washington, D. C. The work between Greenville and Easley was awarded to H. J. Dunavant & Co., of Knoxville, Tenn., and between Easley and Central to M. M. Elkan of Macon, Ga. The amount specified in the contracts could not be learned, but is probable that it will run over a million dollars.

Stores Close Early

Pickens, Sept. 16, 1915. We, the undersigned merchants of the city of Pickens, hereby agree to continue closing our stores at 6.30 o'clock, excepting only paydays at the Pickens cotton mill and Saturdays:

B. F. Parsons, Craig Boos Co., Pickens Hardware & Grocery Co., Hobbs-Henderson Co., Heath-Bruee-Morrow Co., B. S. Johnson, Morris & Co., Pindley & Stansell, T. D. Harris, Folger, Thornley & Co.

On Sunday, in the presence of an immense congregation at Cross Roads, the pastor baptized thirty young converts into the fellowship of the church. Dr. L. E. M. Freeman, of Raleigh, N. C., preached some wonderful sermons and Bro. Walter Lee Croker, a student in Furman, did some good preaching during the meeting.

Pickens County Items

At a meeting of the township pensioners at the court house recently Messrs. B. C. Johnson, Matthew Kendricks, Wm. Gantt and S. H. Brown were elected members of the Pickens county pension board for the ensuing year.

Rev. F. S. Childress, a student in Furman University, has been called to supply the church at Cross Roads next year. Mr. Childress has also been called to the pastorate of Six-and-twenty church in Anderson county. Both are large and influential churches.

B. P. Kelley and family, who live near Norris, Pickens county, visited at the home of Mrs. M. A. Cooley Sunday. They came over in their auto. While here Mr. Kelley and family visited at the tunnel, and on the return visited at the home of J. A. White, in the Wolf Stake section. — Wallalla Keowee Courier.

Mr. Cornelius Keith, formerly of the Pumpkintown section, who purchased the old McCann or Glenn place at Slabtown about two years ago, has sold his possessions there to Mr. W. M. Hagood of Easley, and has repurchased the old Jack Arthur place near Pickens from Mr. Will T. Bates. Once a Pickens county man it is hard to live contented elsewhere. — Easley Progress.

Hobbs-Henderson Co. invite you to visit their store Thursday and Friday of this week and inspect their fall and winter goods, of which they have many in the very latest styles. Their millinery opening will also be held these two days. They have a store full of new goods which you will like to see whether you buy or not. You will be welcome. Read their page advertisement in this paper.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond has reversed the decision of Judge Smith in the case of Chiles Fullerton and others against Maplecroft Mills of Liberty. The lower court directed a verdict against the Maplecroft company and adjudicated it bankrupt, but the Court of Appeals in their opinion filed Thursday reversed the judgment of bankruptcy and the company is allowed to continue under its present management and the proceeding in bankruptcy dismissed.

Our good and esteemed friend R. A. Bowen brought to The Sentinel office last week about the largest stalk of cotton we have ever seen. The stalk is over six feet high and contains 126 bolls and blooms. Mr. Bowen says he has half an acre in cotton like this stalk and thinks it will make at least a 400-pound bale of cotton. The cotton grew on a patch of land near his home, but he does not know what kind of cotton seed it came from. If a Confederate veteran over 71 years old can raise cotton like this, what can younger and stronger men do if they try?

R. L. Henderson, S. B. Edens and John H. Ballentine, jurors from Pickens county at the United States court held at Rock Hill last week, have returned home and report that there was not much business to transact at this term and court lasted only two days. The petit jury did not sit on a single case. The second story of the Rock Hill city hall was fitted up as a court room and used. Mr. Henderson says Rock Hill is right smart of a town—a little better than Easley, but not quite so good as Pickens.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holder and Furman Holder spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Billy Jameson in Anderson county. Mr. and Mrs. Jameson are both well known in Pickens county, she being a daughter of Mr. Smith Griffin. They have a fine family of eleven boys and three girls living, one child being dead. Recently Mr. Jameson was drawn to serve on the jury, but it was practically impossible for him to leave home at the time and he wrote the judge and told him that he thought he had already done enough for the country, so the judge wrote a nice letter and said he thought he could excuse Mr. Jameson.
