

CALOMEL SICKENS! IT SALIVATES! DON'T STAY BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

I Guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Give You the Best Liver and Bowel Cleansing You Ever Had—Don't Lose a Day's Work!

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver.

If you are bilious, feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you can have your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable, liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist or storekeeper about me.

Evidently Not Particular.

At a trial in the court of common pleas in Sandusky, O., in 1872, several citizens were subpoenaed to testify as to the character and habits of A—B—, defendant. Among the number was an ex-probate judge of grave demeanor. The state's attorney asked this gentleman if he was acquainted with the defendant, and he replied, "Yes."

"Are you sufficiently acquainted with the defendant to know his general habits?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are they good or bad?"

"Fair."

"Now, sir, do you, before this court and jury testify that you are in the habit of associating with the same kind of company as this defendant?"

"Oh, yes; I associate with all grades of company, from lawyers up."

SWAMP-ROOT SAVES KIDNEY SUFFERERS

You naturally feel secure when you know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

The same standard of purity, strength and excellence, prescribed by Dr. Kilmer many years ago, is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

Swamp-Root is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs. It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses. It is not recommended for everything. According to verified testimony it is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

If you suffer, don't delay another day. Go to your nearest druggist now and get a bottle. All drug stores sell it in two sizes—fifty cents and one dollar.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

STALLION OUT OF THE BREEDING SEASON

Richelieu, Prize-Winning Belgian Stallion.

(By W. L. BLIZZARD, Department of Animal Husbandry, Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater.)

Many stallions are at least partially ruined between seasons. This is due to improper feeding and care. Some men starve their stallions after the breeding season on the theory that they cannot afford to feed liberally when there is no income. This is certainly a mistake. It does not even result in a saving of feed, as it will cost more to put the horse back into the proper condition when the breeding season opens. It is cheaper to keep a horse in good flesh all the time than to allow him to run down during a part of the year and then by heavy feeding for a few months bring him back to the required condition.

Crushed oats and bran with good hay is hard to beat. Ground corn or kafir, together with plenty of water and oilmeal also makes a splendid ration. Horses that are overfed on corn or kafir are never sure foal-getters. Bran is always a valuable supplement to any grain ration. It relaxes the system generally, corrects or prevents digestive disorders, and at the same time furnishes an abundance of bone and tissue-building material. Soft, warm bran mashes once or twice a week will serve to keep the bowels in good condition, and a little epsom salts may be added. Roots should be used in some form during the fall and winter seasons. They certainly help to keep the stallion in good condition and to keep his digestive tract in a good, healthy condition. In the spring a few pounds of grass or other green feed may take their place.

Conditioning a stallion is not laying on flesh, but it is getting him in good health, improving his muscles and putting plenty of vigor and vitality into him.

The amount of grain that should be fed horses will vary so much in their requirements that it is difficult to name any definite quantity which a horse should have as his daily ration. It should be regulated by the man feeding the horse, and should be governed by the capacity and needs of the horse. A stallion should not be given more than he will clean up within half an hour after feeding. Always leave him a little hungry. Do not overfeed on hay, as it is not necessary to crowd the horse full of hay all the time. Do not stuff his manger full of hay once or twice a day and allow him to eat till he cleans it up. That is a poor way to feed hay. Chopped hay, mixed with the grain, increases the efficiency of the ration. The horse should be supplied with plenty of good, fresh, clean water. During the hot weather the horse should be watered quite frequently. Overfeeding and little or no exercise tends to cause swollen legs, scratches, grease; a wet stall causes thrush and canker.

When you have done your part so far as feeding is concerned, remember that the horse needs exercise. If you have a paddock in which he can run, so much the better. If there is no other way to furnish exercise, the horse should be walked. He must have exercise if you expect results from him. A horse that is confined is not a very sure foal-getter. The very best exercise for a stallion is to work him daily at some light work. If every stallion received a moderate amount of exercise, the number of foals would increase from 15 to 20 per cent. Keep him in a well lighted stable, and don't have him alone away from the other horses.

Another thing some people forget is grooming. Frequent and thorough grooming is very essential to keep the stallion comfortable and the skin in good, healthy condition.

PRODUCT OF THE DAIRY COW

Infection of Milk Comes From Body of Animal—Concrete Floor Is Most Sanitary for Barn.

(Prepared by Dairy Division of Clemson College.)

The Babcock test was first announced to the world in 1890.

The greatest source of infection in milk comes from the body of the animal and the air of the stable.

Anything that will make it easier to clean the stable will aid in the production of pure milk.

The concrete floor is by long odds the most sanitary for a dairy barn and should be used wherever possible.

In building a dairy barn, remember that one is providing a place where human food is to be produced.

Early breeding stunts growth. Heifers should be bred to drop their calves when about two years old or older.

As a rule, it is desirable to have cows go dry at least a month before calving. This has a beneficial effect on the calf.

Dehorning is a good practice. It makes cows quiet and docile and saves them much pain that may be inflicted when horns are retained.

Dairy cows have little spare flesh to protect them from the cold. Comfortable housing in winter is, therefore, very important.

The liquid manure of a cow is much more valuable than the solid. It can be saved by having watertight flooring and clean straw bedding.

MANNER OF SEALING A SILO

Where Silage Is to Stand for Some Time Before Feeding Covering of Some Kind Is Made.

(By J. G. WATSON, Missouri College of Agriculture.)

There is always some loss on the top of the silage unless feeding is begun as soon as the silo is filled. Where the silage is to stand for some time before feeding it is customary to run in three or four loads of cornstalks from which the ears have been removed. This material is packed thoroughly; then a liberal supply of water is added, which will help to seal the silo, and only a very small amount of waste will result. Some farmers use oat straw as a covering; others soak the top of the silage with water and sow oats, which, when they germinate, form a dense mass, which shuts out the air and keeps the silage from spoiling.

HOGS IN HEALTHY CONDITION

Mixture Given for Keeping Animals Free From Intestinal Worms and Supplying Mineral Matter.

(By DR. W. H. DALRYMPLE, Professor of Veterinary Science, Louisiana State University.)

The following mixture should be placed in every hog lot as it will help to keep the hogs free from intestinal worms and other parasites as well as supply mineral matter needed for the building of bones and other tissues:

One bushel of wood ashes.
Six bushels of corn cob charcoal.
Three bushels of common charcoal.
Eight pounds of common salt.
Two quarts of air-slaked lime.
Fifty pounds of raw rock phosphate.

After these ingredients are thoroughly mixed and broken up, 1 1/2 pounds of copperas, dissolved in water, should be sprayed over the mass and thoroughly mixed with it. Any quantity may be prepared by following the proportions given. It is fed by being placed in troughs, protected from the rain.

DORMANT PRUNING OF TREES

Most Fruit Growers Will Trim Off Sprouts Whenever Seen Regardless of the Season.

(By N. O. BOOTH, Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater.)

Fruit trees, and in fact, all trees, should be pruned during the winter at the time when the trees are thoroughly dormant. Most fruit growers will trim off sprouts, starting at the foot of a tree or the trunk whenever the sprouts are seen, regardless of the season. Where branches of any size are to be removed the work should be done during the winter.

In case the trees are tender, such as peach or apricot trees, the pruning should be done in the latter part of the winter, after all danger of freezing is over.

It is a mistake to prune cherry trees except to keep sprouts away from the foot of the tree and from growing on the trunk. The only pruning that cherries should ever receive is that given at the time of setting.

SERENADERS IN HARD LUCK

Princeton Students Meant Well but Evidently It Was Not Their Night to Make a "Hit."

One night not long ago four Princeton boys went gayly forth to serenade two belles of the town. Arrived at the house of the fair ones, they took their stand under the correct window, as they thought, and for some time made the night more or less melodious.

They were just preparing to leave when a door opened and the jolly old father of the girls appeared. Had it been light they might possibly have seen a twinkle in his eye.

"Boys," said he "we are much obliged. That is, I am much obliged, for I happen to be alone tonight. I am sorry to say that the family's in New York, but I thank you for coming. Maybe if you come again you'll have better luck. But in the name of old Princeton, boys, if you do come when the girls are here, don't play to the bathroom window!"

What Mamma Said.

Little pitchers not only have long ears, but wide mouths sometimes. One of these is in Buffalo, and when the bell rang the other day, she went to the door, where she found some ladies.

"My dear," said one, "will you please tell your mother that we would like to see her?"

The child departed silently, and after a while returned, sat down and silently watched the callers.

"Well," said one at length, "and what did mamma say?"

"She said, 'Oh, dear! I don't want to, but I s'pose I must.'"

CURED OF PELLAGRA; WOMAN IS SO HAPPY

Ratliff, Miss.—Ida Creel, of this place, writes: "I am enjoying fine health, better than I have in years. My weight is 116; when I began taking your treatment it was 98. I sure can praise your treatment; can eat anything I want and it don't seem to hurt me."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., box 2090, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—Adv.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. RESCH, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
