LOCAL AND PERSONAL

This is the time of year the farmer can look out for plenty of advice.

Gus Wilson of Pendleton was in town the first part of the week shaking hands with his old friends.

Don't forget the spring opening of made-to-measure clothing at Folger, Thornley & Co.'s store Friday and Saturday of this week.

O. P. Heath, a wealthy cotton broker of Charlotte, N. C., who committed suicide Monday, was an uncle of Mrs. T. L. Bivens of Pickens.

Miss Elizabeth Mauldin, home demonstration agent for Pickens county, spent last week with the Spartanburg county agent studying the work.

The Ladies' Aid society of Pickens circuit will meet Friday at 3 o'clock p. m. at Salem church, and Rev. L. E. Wiggins will preach. Everybody is welcome.

Usually it rains in Pickens during court week, but this time it snowed. The snow began falling Monday afternoon and reached a depth of three or four inches before it began sleeting.

Bishop Collins Denny of Richmond, Va., will preach at the Pickens Methodist church Wednesday night, March 1, at 7.45 o'clock. This is an opportunity not offered the people of this section often and everybody is invited to attend the services.

Misses Isadora Williams and Henrietta Yongue of Pickens were operated on for appendicitis at the Greenville hospital Saturday. Reports from their bed-sides Tuesday say they are improving nicely. Both have many friends who wish for their complete recovery.

J. Robt. Martin of Greenville was one of the prominent attorneys attending court here this week. Mr. Martin states that he will be in the race for solicitor of this district this year and is receiving much encouragement. He is well known and has lots of friends in this county.

H. Earle Seaborn, manager of Hobbs-Henderson Co.'s store in Pickens, has returned from the northern markets, where he purchased complete stocks of goods of the different lines carried by this store. These spring and summer goods are now arriving and you are invited to call and inspect them.

The Pickens high school track team journeyed to Liberty Friday and met the Liberty high school track team on the athletic field. The contest was won by Pickens, 53 to 18. The entire Pickens team showed up fine and the boys are coming along well. The trip to Liberty was an enjoyable one and the Pickens people were well treated while there.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Floride Davis of Marion to Mr. J. M. Smith of Easley. Miss Davis taught school at Easley several years ago and is most pleasantly remembered in this county. Mr. Smith is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith of Easley and is one of the best known and popular young men of this county.

President W. S. Currell, of the University of South Carolina, will deliver an address before the graduating class of the Pickens High school May 29. Prof. Melton invited President Currell some time ago to make this address and last week received a letter of acceptance. This will be good news to the people here. Mr. Currell is one of the foremost educators of the country.

The next lyceum number to appear in Pickens will be at the school auditorium Monday night, March 6, beginning at 8.30 o'clock. The attraction will be the Raweis, a trio of native New Zealanders, presenting in song, music, story and picture a most unique and fascinating entertainment, portraying native life of the South Sea islands. This is an entertainment out of the ordinary and will doubtless draw a crowded house. Regular admission price.

"Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing."—Proverbs 18-22. Believing this, two young men of the Enon section of this county started out some time ago to look for suitable girls to become a wife. So on last Tuesday, February 22, having succeeded in finding their ideals, they made a flying trip to Pickens, licenses were secured, a hurried run in an automobile to the residence of Rev. D. W. Hiatt, when, after a few solemn words by the parson on the subject of marriage, he pronounced Mr. George A. Bagwell and Miss Cora Cassell husband and wife. Under a separate ceremony Mr. James R. Christopher and Miss Lillie Chapman were pronounced husband and wife. Both young ladies were from Easley, and the young men are to be congratulated on securing as their partners for life wives so worthy of their love and affection.
