Mrs. R. E. Steele

It becomes the writer's sad duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. Georgia Ann Miller Steele, which occurred at her home May 17. Mrs. Steele had been suffering from a severe stroke of paralysis since Sept. 13, 1913, which had rendered her an invalid for almost three years. She bore her suffering with Christian fortitude, always willing that "the Lord's will be done." She was attended by a number of our best physicians, but this dreadful disease could not be managed.

Mrs. Steele was born March 1, 1846. She joined the Presbyterian church in her early womanhood. She lived a consistent member of same until her death. Mrs. Steele was very enthusiastic in Sunday school and missionary work. She had a gentle disposition; to know her was to love her. She was ever mindful to entertain strangers. We thank God for the lives of such noble women.

Sister Steele, we'll surely miss thee
In our circles here below;
But the thought of a heavenly meeting
Is the sweetest thought to know.

She was married to Capt. R. E. Steele April 27, 1869. To this marriage was born three daughters, namely: Emily and Emma Love, who died when very young, and Miss Rosa, who died at the age of 17. (So mother and daughters are united just over the river.) There was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Steele five sons, who survive her, with their father. The sons are: Messrs. J. E. M., C. M. and J. F., Pickens; J. E. Steele, Indianapolis, Ind., and Dr. W. H. Steele, Jackson, Ga. No mother could boast of five more loyal sons. Mr. J. F., the youngest son, patiently answered her every call during the days of her invalidism and cared for her tenderly as she cared for him in infancy.

By her request funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. F. Murphree, assisted by her pastor, Rev. Wallis. Amid a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends the remains were laid to rest in Keowee cemetery beside her mother and her three daughters.

We would commend the grief-stricken ones to the Omnipotent One who worketh all things for good to them that love Him. It is a sweet consolation to know that "the Lord loveth whom he chasteneth."

"I shine in the light of God;
His image stamps my brow.
Thru the shadow of death my feet have trod
I reign in glory now.

"I have found the joys of heaven;
I am one of the angel band.
To my head a crown of gold is given;
A harp is in my hand.
I have learned the songs they sing
Whom Jesus hath set free.

"No sins, no grief, no pain—
Safe in my happy home;
My fears all fled, my foes all slain,
My hour of triumph come.

"Then why should your tears run down,
Or your hearts be sorely riven?
For another gem in the Savior's crown,
And another soul in Heaven."

A FRIEND.

Guests at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Hendricks Sunday were: Rev. W. C. Seaborn, Hovey Seaborn, Mrs. Jason Seaborn and little daughter, Vaughn Inabinet and Hal Hiott of Pickens.

Prue Hendricks returned to his home Saturday from Greenville, where he has just graduated from the Greenville high school.

Messrs. J. S. Porter and B. H. Powers of Pickens attended services at Oolenoy Sunday.

Old Soldiers' Reunion

Last Saturday was a great day for the old soldiers of Pickens county. The fifteenth annual reunion of the Confederate veterans was largely attended and greatly enjoyed. The reunion is held under the auspices of the Pickens Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy. This year about fifty veterans were present while last year eighty-three of these grand old heroes were present.

The exercises were held in the court house and were called to order by Judge T. J. Mauldin. Rev. W. C. Seaborn opened the exercises with prayer. A. H. Dagnall was the orator of the occasion and was introduced by Judge Mauldin. His address was brief but stirring and pleased his hearers. Mr. Dagnall was followed by several veterans who made short talks.

Dinner, one of the main features of the day, was prepared and served by the ladies. There was an abundance of everything for the veterans and it was good and served by willing hands.

The Pickens mill band furnished music for the occasion, much to the delight of the great crowd here and they did their part well.

We hope that every old soldier who was present last Saturday will be able to come back on the 3d of next June.

Two Sad Deaths

Miss Mona Hill, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Alfred Hill, of Dacusville, died suddenly Sunday morning, June 4, and was buried at Cross Roads church, where she was a member. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. W. Hiott, assisted by Rev. J. Marion Loper, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and sympathetic friends.

Mrs. A. F. McCord, one of the oldest and best known women of Liberty, died at her home last Saturday, June 3, age 73 years. Her body was laid to rest by the side of loved ones at Enon church Sunday following her death.

We hope to give full accounts of the two above mentioned deaths in the next issue.

Old Folks' Singing at Camp Creek

There will be an old folks' singing at Camp Creek church the third Sunday in June. This singing will be especially for the old folks, but time will be given others and everybody is invited to come and bring your song books, especially the old Christian Harmony. Don't forget to bring well-filled baskets and come prepared to spend the day.—Secretary.

From Pickens Route 2

Dear Sentinel: Everything looks so good on route two that I want to send a few news items.

Whit Garrett and family and J. A. Roper were among those from Six Mile who worshipped at Mountain View Sunday.

The Fourth of July will be celebrated at Mountain View by an old folks' singing and lovefeast.

Profs. Arthur Rampey and Seagle Bolding attended the singing Sunday at Wolf Stake, in Oconee.

The weekly prayer meeting was at the home of Rev. J. E. Merck Sunday afternoon.

A joyous surprise came to "Bob" Mauldin Sunday when he came from church and found a large crowd of his friends had gathered in with dinner to help him celebrate his birthday. Mr. Mauldin is one of our very successful farmers, and here's hoping he may be permitted to pass many more birthdays in our midst.

J. C. Pressley of Central visited homefolks Saturday night.

Mesdames Fannie Summerell and Sudie Vickery of near Seneca visited friends and relatives of this section the latter part of the week.

W. G. Pressley and family visited relatives in Central last week.

Mrs. Lora Thomas and son Clarence of Pickens are visiting relatives in this section this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bell spent a while Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Durham.

"Bob" Alexander ran down to Norris Sunday afternoon in an automobile to get surgical aid. It was a bothersome tooth he had pulled. NEWS-GATHERER.

Pickens Co. News 40 Years Ago

From The Sentinel, June 8, 1876.

Eggs, if the chickens in them are not too large, are worth ten cents a dozen.

Butter is only bringing ten cents a pound, and hard to dispose of at that price. Parties are frequently forced to carry it back home with them.

Lot Kenemore, an old citizen of this county, died at his residence near Easley Station on Saturday, May 27.

Mr. Whit Hamilton informs us that he had cotton shapes last week.

Pickens County Items

The Martin Home Demonstration club will meet at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Friday, June 9, at 3 o'clock. The members of the canning club will meet immediately after the program is finished for a picnic.

Charley Brown of the Praters section died suddenly at his home last Sunday. Mr. Brown was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and six little children. His remains were laid to rest in the Praters Creek church cemetery Monday afternoon. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community.

At a recent meeting of the Keowee chapter, U. D. C., at Liberty the following officers were elected for the next year: President, Mrs. A. L. Johnson; first vice-president, Mrs. J. C. Hunter; second vice-president, Mrs. Parker J. Brown; recording secretary, Mrs. J. F. Banister; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. B. Glenn; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Sheldon; historian, Mrs. W. M. Long; assistant historians, Mrs. Bessie G. Smith and Mrs. L. A. Boggs.

At a meeting of the county executive committee held at the court house Monday morning the assessments for county candidates were made as follows: House of Representatives $15, county treasurer $25, auditor $25, sheriff $25, clerk of court $25, superintendent of education $15, coroner $5, magistrates at Easley $10, magistrate at Pickens $2.50, magistrate at all other points $2.50. This was about all the important business that came before the meeting.

The city council of Easley has donated $150 to the public school there to be used in equipping a room with a full set of carpenter tools for the use of pupils who wish to supplement the literary course by learning how to use these tools. The members of William Easley chapter, U. D. C., have made arrangements to establish a domestic science department in the Easley school. The compulsory education law will be in effect in Easley school district next year. (Columbia State please copy.)

Mrs. Mary Perry, of near Easley, died in a sanitarium in Asheville, N. C., last Monday after an operation. Mrs. Perry went to the sanitarium some time ago for treatment and several days ago a foot was amputated and she died from the operation. She was about sixty years of age and leaves three grown children besides a host of friends to mourn her death. The remains were brought to Easley Tuesday and were laid to rest in Georges Creek cemetery. She was the widow of Irby Perry, who was killed on the railroad at Central about thirty years ago.

Court in Session

Court convened Monday morning with Judge T. J. Mauldin presiding. All the court officials were in their places and the court immediately got down to business.

The following cases have been disposed of up until Tuesday night:

The State vs Ollie Farmer, assault and battery, two years or $400.

The State vs Jim Morrison and Ben Chapman, housebreaking and larceny, plead guilty, six months.

The State vs Wade Dodgins, violation dispensary law, plead guilty, three months or $100. Upon payment of $25 or serving one month balance of sentence suspended during good behavior.

A pathetic scene occurred in the court room Monday afternoon. Three young boys, Hooper, Smith and Rice, aged 14, 15 and 15½ years, had plead guilty to a charge of house-breaking and grand larceny, having broken into a store and stolen $35 worth of goods at the Easley mill. The solicitor asked that the judge be lenient with the boys on account of their youth. The presiding judge told them he was sorry for them and gave them some good advice, but it was his duty to pass sentence upon them for their offenses. And it was fourteen months in the state reformatory for boys. There was a silence. Then came the pathetic part. Mothers of two of the boys came up with tear-filled eyes to the prisoner's dock where the boys were and talked to them and caressed them; then after a few minutes the mothers went out of the court room bowed in grief. Boys, think of your silvery-haired mothers when you start to do wrong.

It is probable that court will adjourn about Wednesday.

The Home Coming at Big Creek

The home coming and memorial services at Big Creek church in Anderson county on last Saturday and Sunday were largely attended. Many of our Pickens people were there: Mr. Martin J. Welborn and family, Mr. Judge Welborn and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Stansell and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Findley, Mrs. W. E. Hill and Mr. Jeff Welborn and family. Big Creek church is the place where the Welborn forefathers once belonged. It was a great reunion meeting. Rev. W. P. Holland of Easley made the historical address on Saturday, which was very interesting. Rev. Moses Holland was the founder of the church 128 years ago. He was the first pastor and served 42 years. He was a patriot in the Revolutionary war and was present at the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown. Rev. W. P. Holland, who made the address, is a great, great grandson of Rev. Moses Holland, the founder of the church. Saturday afternoon Rev. R. W. Alexander, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church at Williamston, delivered a splendid address. The famous Vaughn quartet was present and charmed the people with their singing. Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. D. W. Hiott, preached on "Heaven." After the sermon the graves in the large cemetery were decorated with flowers.

Memorial and home coming services ought to be held with all our churches occasionally.

Death of R. W. Willimon

Robert W. Willimon of the Six Mile section died May 12, 1916. He had been a sufferer for some time with dropsy and other complications, for several weeks he had been in a precarious condition and his family realized that it was only a matter of time until death would relieve his suffering.

Mr. Willimon was 73 years of age and a Confederate veteran. He was a devout Christian and consecrated member of the Methodist church. In the home, in the church and in the community he will be greatly missed. He is survived by his wife, five sons and four daughters. To these bereaved ones the sympathy of a host of friends goes out in their hour of sorrow.

After funeral services by Rev. F. R. Davis he was laid to rest in the Six Mile cemetery. (MISS) MARY TROTTER.

Death of Little Robt. L. Powell

On last Saturday morning, June 3, 1916, the death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Powell and claimed for its victim their youngest child, Little Robert Lee, age 14 months. On the day following his death the little body was laid to rest in the Golden Creek cemetery by the side of a little brother who preceded him about four years ago. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. C. Atkinson and witnessed by a large concourse of mourning relatives and friends.

To the stricken family I extend much sympathy and commend them to the God of all. A FRIEND.
