ENROLLED yet?

If you do not enroll by July 25 you can't vote.

Now is a very good time for all the Roosevelts to enlist.

There will be little trouble in getting recruits for the home guards.

Wonder if it will be safe now to put away all of T. R.'s latest pose pictures?

As an orator, John Madison Des Champs of Columbia took the bun at the Pickens meet.

Another pathetic little incident of everyday life is hearing an old maid plan her wedding.

There is nothing like having lots of good friends; but deliver us from the fool political friend, please!

MRS. CATT, suffragette leader, has roasted President Wilson for his views on votes for women. Scat!

SURELY Booker of the Spartanburg Journal isn't for Fairbanks, even if he is the original buttermilk booster.

JOHN T. DUNCAN, candidate for governor, was "in our midst" last week. He was accompanied by A. System.

"ROSE sells it for less."—Advertisement in Spartanburg Journal. What does Rose sell, Booker—buttermilk?

It is only seven miles from the capital to Camp Styx. Those Columbia girls, sometimes referred to as angels, won't have far to fly.

"SUPERFLUOUS hair quickly disappears," says a hair tonic advertisement. And some hair that is not superfluous disappears just as quickly.

If the parties sending out those millions of return postcard advertisements would put a stamp on them, perhaps some of them might be returned.

TWO PLANKS in R. A. Cooper's platform stand out prominent: More liberal education and equal standard of punishment for rich and poor alike.

CANDIDATE HUGHES, says he doesn't want Hitchcock for his campaign manager. Which shows that even a Republican politician has lucid intervals at times.

SOME men with good American names will be found here and there knocking the Wilson administration; but most always the Americanism ceases with the name.

A SUPREME court judge has no business wading around in the mire of Republican politics, and it is well for the people that Mr. Hughes is no longer on the bench.

THE scientist who has declared that "all idiots should be killed off in their infancy" evidently overlooked the fact that war all over the world is decreasing the population too fast as it is.

COL. RION MCKISSICK of Greenville recently had fourteen dollars and a speech stolen from his pockets while he slept in a hotel. He saved his sen-sen, however, having had the foresight to put that under his pillow before he went to sleep.

WHILE other employers all over the country are announcing that the pay of the members of the national guard who have others dependent on them, Henry Ford comes along to announce that he will not only stop their pay, but he will fire every one of his employees who answers the call.

SOME people are too inquisitive. In a nearby city one of the civic bodies had a committee of men out among the masses trying to get some recruits to bring the local militia company up to the required number. One of the committee while on his rounds, so the story goes, came across a young man and asked him if he would enlist, telling him they only needed two more. The young man said he had not enlisted, and asked the committeeman, also a young man, if he would enlist. "Oh, no; I am on a committee to get recruits." The civic body had the wrong kind of material on that committee, and the interviewed one was entirely too inquisitive.

OUR WEEKLY RIDDLE.—What lesson of life can the small boy learn from the fire engine?
It must work or it can't play.

Now is the time for all good citizens to enroll.

ANOTHER failure marked up for New York: A hotel is to be built in that city for girls only. It will be deserted the first week.

THOSE North Carolina militiamen can't be blamed much for going to Mexico. Anything to get away from that 2-qt. law.

Reid-Stewart

A beautiful home wedding on June 18 was that of Miss Corde Reid and Mr. Walter Stewart, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock at "Riverside," the lovely residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. L. C. Gassaway, Liberty route 3. The house was tastefully decorated in pink and white. The porch, where the ceremony took place, was especially attractive, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out. Just before the ceremony Miss Addie McWhorter played "Melody and Love" by Rubenstein, while during the ceremony she softly played "Melody and Love." To the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's the bridal party came on the porch. The little flower girls, Eunice and Edith Robertson, wearing dainty white frocks with pink sashes and carrying pink baskets filled with pink roses, came first. Then came the bride and groom, followed by Rev. W. C. Seaborn, who performed the ceremony in an impressive manner.

Miss Reid's exquisite bridal gown was of duchess satin draped with orange blossoms. Her veil was artistically draped with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of pink and white sweetpeas tied with pink and white.

Immediately after the ceremony a delightful informal reception was held, during which a tempting salad course was served by Mrs. B. W. McWhorter, Misses Claire Riechbourg and Addie McWhorter, Mrs. P. C. Robertson and Hovlo Seaborn. The guests who were present for the wedding were: Mr. Lemuel Reid of Atlanta, Ga., father of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Craig and children of Pickens; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McWhorter, R. C. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gantt and children, Roy Watkins, Misses Addie McWhorter and Claire Riechbourg of Liberty, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Robertson and children, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. O'Dell and Mrs. W. C. Seaborn, Misses Ruth and Kate Stewart, Hovlo Seaborn, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Goudelock and Miss Narcissus Clayton. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are at home to their friends at the home of Mrs. L. C. Gassaway, Liberty route 3.

Death of Little Marvel Simmons

June 10, 1916, the death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Simmons and claimed for heaven little Marvel Nathan, aged 11 months and 19 days. He was a sweet child and loved by all. It is hard to give our darling up, but the Lord knows best and we bow in humble submission to His death all things well, and we point the father and mother to the God of all comfort. His body was laid to rest in Porter's chapel cemetery the day following his death in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

Angel, call the little darling
From all care and pain away
To the realms of fadeless joy,
To that land of purest day,
We will miss thee, oh! how sadly;
No sweet face now to kiss;
But we will meet the little darling
In the home of Perfect Bliss.
