'ROLLED yet?

Oh! what a wetness!

GO AND ENROLL BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE!

ROOSEVELT can throw the Bull, but he can't deliver the Moose.

CHEER up, brethren. 'Possum and sweet taters are a-comin'!

MERCHANT submarines avoid the storm that beset other craft, at any rate.

JULY 25 is the last day on which to get your name on the Democratic club roll. Watch your step!

"CARRANZA sees the point"—headline in Charleston Post. You bet he does; and the point has a soldier behind it.

It is hoped that if Colonel Aftermath does get down into Mexico he will bring back a lock of Old Whiskers' whiskers with him.

Two ex-presidents are enough at a time. So we'll just let it go at that and keep Woodrow on the job four years more.

THE Mexican trouble, it is said, threatens the chewing gum industry on account of a shortage in chicle. It is an ill wind, etc.

IN 1908 Roosevelt stuffed Taft down the throats of the Republicans and made them like it. Can he do it with Hughes this year?

FROM the lofty Big I Am, Terrible Teddy has fallen to the level of a common ward heeler in trying to make the G. O. P. believe he can deliver the Bull Moose vote to the old liners.

WHEN Mr. Bryan entered the Wilson cabinet he said there would be no war during that administration. And if the jingoes don't hurry up the Commoner's words will prove to be true ones.

IF this country does not go to war with Mexico soon padded cells will have to be swept out for Willieheer and the editor of Chicago Tribune, who are now at the dangerous stage of their insanity.

IF there are any millionaires in Pickens county, as the Columbia State has insinuated, we are sure they did not get in that fix by raising cotton. If there are any at all they must have made it out of crossities.

WHAT has become of all those rambunctious fellows who were spoiling for a fight in Mexico and who were cussin' Uncle Sam for not taking a hand not so very long ago? Now's the time for them to show their patriotism.

IT is said that an American dollar will buy more foreign money now than ever before in the history of the world. But it will buy less rations by half than it did a year ago. Besides, who wants to buy any foreign money, anyhow?

MANY prominent Bull Moosers are not satisfied with being turned over as a chattel of Roosevelt to the old-line Republicans; and as a result they are affiliating themselves with the Democratic party, where they belonged all the while but didn't know it.

THIS year's cotton crop has been estimated by the government agricultural department at over fourteen million 500-pound bales. If Uncle Sam's forecast proves to be correct, which it generally does, we may look for some very low-priced cotton this coming fall.

THE Sentinel office was flooded with early cotton blooms and we are patiently waiting for the first watermelon to make its appearance. Our very liberal offer to present the first person bringing us a watermelon the famous speech of "Cyclone" Davis still remains open.

WHENEVER the Czar of Russia gets tired of his legislature messing around he just issues a "ukase" and the douma (Russian legislature) quits business. He has just issued one of them things and the douma won't make any more fool laws until next November. We know of several of these United States that need a czar with a full-grown ukase in perfect working order.

OUR WEEKLY RIDDLE.—What is the smallest piece of machinery in the world?

The generator under a lightning bug's wing.

AS A politician

T. R. has gone to seed; He now depends on The G. O. P. for feed.

MR. JAMES KEELEY, editor of the Chicago Herald, will be one of the distinguished visitors at the next meeting of the South Carolina Press Association at Beaufort. He has no connection whatever with these here Keeley institutes we often read about, nor with any other "college."

TOM F. McNALLY, who has been guiding the destiny of the Jeffersonian at Jefferson, S. C., has resigned on account of his health. During his stay with the Jeffersonian Tom got out a bright, newsy sheet, and we hope that his health will soon permit him to return to his duties; and in the meantime for the new editor, W. A. Edmunds, we hope that his fondest dreams will be realized.

If you want to get the latest "dope" on the Mexican situation just let one of the "know-alls" or "wise guys" whisper it to you. This is the way one of the diplomats not a thousand miles from here has it doped out: "Them Jaypons have got it in for us and them Spains ain't got over the liekin we gave 'em. Hit's a well-known fact that them Mexicoes don't like us a bit, and just as shore as the world if we go down thar we've got to fight them Jaypons, Spains and Mexicoes all put together."

LAST week on poetry we were shy; And now we'll tell the reason why: Ye editor is on vacation bent— He'd better come home and pay the rent!

Publishers Will Be Forced to Make Advance in Prices

The price of all kinds of paper continues to advance. Indications are that in spite of all that can be done this country will be hard pushed for any kind of paper. Our paper houses tell us that a paper famine is imminent. The price of print paper has risen so high as to drive many newspapers out of business. Today the price at which newspapers are sold doesn't anywhere near pay for the paper in them. Newspapers in some way will have to make up for the additional burden imposed upon them.

One instance of the effect the war is having on the price of paper is that cellulose, a fibrous matter produced from cotton and linen rags and wood pulp and the basis of all kinds of paper, is now in great demand by the munition factories of this country for the manufacture of high explosives. Munitions firms, rushed to the limit to fill war orders, are paying fabulous prices for this material and as a consequence paper mills have been compelled to keep on even terms in order to obtain the necessary supply for the manufacture of print paper. The Dupont powder mills, for example, have installed a battery of beaters with a capacity vastly greater than the capacity of any paper mill in the United States and are paying top prices for rag stock and commanding first choice of this stock from all over the country.

To the printer this means the necessity of advancing his advertising and circulation prices in proportion to the general advance in the price of paper. He has no alternative and the American reading public will have to foot the bill. The price of The Sentinel will remain $1.00 just as long as it is possible for us to send it out at that price, but from present indications that will not be long. From the present outlook we will be compelled to raise the price of The Sentinel before many days.

His Honor

Greenville News, June 29.

When some future John Belton O'Neill writes a second "Bench and Bar of South Carolina," a goodly place in it will be accorded to the present judge of the circuit, the Hon. T. J. Mauldin, who is now holding court here.

Judge Mauldin is the youngest wearer of the ermine in the state and is junior to all the judges of our bench, save one, yet he has established himself in the good will and good opinion of the bar generally. He discharges the onerous responsibilities of his exalted office with firmness, fidelity and impartiality, but in doing so he displays a most uncommon tact and patience. Urbanity and courtesy manifest themselves in all that he does. From him come no sharp language, no acidulous criticisms, no dyspeptic fulminations. It may be contempt of some courts to so say, but some judges are too prone to regard themselves as judicial demigods. In Judge Mauldin is found a most agreeable contrast to them—there is none of the surly judicial boor and bluff and bulldozer about him. For he is ever ready to listen to both sides in all reasonable length, never assuming the role of omniscience.

The future bench of this State is going to be made up very largely of men of Judge Mauldin's temperament. The Judge Mackey style of judge is going out of fashion. Good manners and good temper the bar has a right to expect from all judges. The judicial sour-belly and the judicial buffoon are anachronisms.

The eye specialist will be at the Pickens Drug Co's. store July 31. Read their ad in this issue for particulars.

A New Machine at The

PICKENS BANK

This machine is really a wonderful set of steel brains which we are putting to work in our accounting department.

With it we can handle our figure work faster than ever before and at the same time be sure that every item in our books is right.

Helps Us Give Better Service

By the machine method, every depositor's account is kept in balance all the time and there are no mistakes such as are unavoidable with other ways of handling figures.

The time saving made possible by the machine gives us an opportunity to improve the service to our customers in all departments of the bank.

Everything Is Done Automatically

It prints dates, adds your deposits to the old balance, subtracts checks, figures and prints your new balance. All of this is done automatically. The operator simply writes the amounts on the keyboard—the machine shifts from column to column and adds, subtracts, or prints the date as desired, without the least attention being necessary.

Come In and See It Work

There is no method of posting ledgers known which equals this Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine in either accuracy or time saving. Come in and see our new Burroughs at work in our accounting department.
