LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The Sentinel will publish cards of thanks from candidates at the rate of one cent a word, cash to accompany card. It costs us this much to set the type and furnish the paper to print it on and anyone who is very thankful is thankful enough to pay this small cost.

Misses Martha Cureton and Belle Yongue are in Baltimore studying the latest in millinery and buying goods for Miss Cureton's millinery shop.

The Freeman reunion will be held at the home of Newton Freeman at the old Clement mill on Saturday, September 2. All relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend and bring well-filled baskets.

The Mauldin Memorial Home at the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, Greenwood, will be dedicated September 2nd. Rev. D. W. Hiott of Pickens will make the address of the occasion. All relatives and friends of the late Laban Mauldin, who gave the money to build this home, are invited to attend.

"The Pine Hill Ladies Aid," a humorous three act entertainment will be given in the Pickens school auditorium next Monday evening, August 28th, at 8:30 p. m. This play is under the auspices of the Georges Creek Aid Society and is for the benefit of the church. It is given by local talent from the Georges Creek community and from Easley. Come and laugh it does you good. Admission 15 and 25c.

Governor Manning has proven his loyalty to the people of South Carolina and his remarkable record of constructive legislation is ample reason for his re-election. Has Mr. Bleese, Mr. Cooper, Mr. DesChamps or Mr. Duncan shown any reason why Manning should not be re-elected? What would either one of them do for the good of South Carolina, if elected, that has not already been done by Governor Manning? Has either of them shown where they would make a better governor than Manning? Has either Mr. Bleese, Mr. Cooper, Mr. DesChamps or Mr. Duncan proven their desire or ability to do any more for the cause of LAW, LABOR, EDUCATION and humanity than has Governor Manning?

ish it word for word as written.
 J. D. LANFORD.

We have several lawyers from Greenville County asking our votes for Solicitor of our district. Each one has friends, but there are many voters still asking themselves and others who to vote for.

There is no lawyer from Pickens county in the race. We have to vote for a Greenville man. But which one of them comes nearest being like a Pickens County man? Which one, sure enough, is the one who worked himself up from a poor mountain boy, like lots of our mountain boys have done, and got an education? Which one deserves it? He is Jack Lanford.

We are not saying a word against the other boys in the race. We just want to tell you about Lanford. We know him. He is not much to brag on himself, but here is what he says in his circular:

"John D. Lanford was born in the mountains of Greenville County of poor parents and has worked for his living. Till he was sixteen years old he followed a mule in the shade of Hogback and Glassy mountains, and after that for four years he worked in the cotton mills of Greenville County. While some of his opponents, who are now so loudly proclaiming their love for the cotton mill boys, were lolling in the lap of luxury and fortune, John Lanford was a cotton-head boy down at Piedmont on seventy-five cents a day.

By his own efforts, J. D. Lanford has secured a legal education and has been successfully practicing law for the last seven years. He is a firm believer in hard work and a square deal for every man. His methods are to fight hard, but fight always in the open. He has never been a 'straddler' or 'dodger' in politics. He says, 'The people have a right to know where I stand, and I purpose to tell them on every stump in this Circuit.'

My fellow citizens, all this is straight goods. His father, Judge W. L. Lanford, used to be Magistrate in Glassy Mountain township. He was a good magistrate and a good man, but he was poor. He wanted to make more money than he was making as magistrate and on his little farm, so he could give his children a good education. He bought a saw mill outfit, but failed in business. Before he went into the saw mill business he had to mortgage his place, and when he went to the bad in the business he had a mortgage hanging over him. To pay off this mortgage the whole family went to Piedmont and worked and made the money to pay off this mortgage, and did it. Jack stayed with his father until the farm was clear.

After that, Jack worked and studied hard on his books at odd jobs and times till he got an education. He worked and saved money enough to pay his way through college at the University of South Carolina and got as fine a law education as any lawyer in the state. After he got through the law school he borrowed $50.00 and opened a law office at Greer. He did a good business there for a few years. Then he moved to Greenville. He is a good lawyer today in Greenville, and he has the respect and favor of all the business men and people in Greenville.

Now, my fellow citizens, if this boy, born and raised just across the line from us, in the mountains of Greenville county has this much sand in his craw, can't he make us a good Solicitor? We've got to hand it to a fellow like this.

He wants your vote on the 29th. He is as good lawyer as any in the bunch. He is clean, sober and a hard fighter, and works all the time with a level head. If he is elected Solicitor, and one of our people was to be tried, he would do his best to convict him if he had the evidence, but he wouldn't try to break a fellow's neck just because he was up in Court. He believes in justice to the common people because he is one of us.

There ain't much sputter and spatter about him, but he's got the brain and the grit, and would give every man a square deal. Can't we give him a lift on the 29th? Pickens County Voter.

—Adv.

JOHN A. HORTON The People's Candidate For Congress

THE MAN WHO CAN

A farmer boy who by his own efforts and hard work made his way through the common school and college and by honesty and persistency worked himself up to place of influence in his community and state and has the confidence of all who know him. He is an example of what a poor boy can do if he tries. Mr. Horton has made a success of everything he has tried to do. He will make a success as congressman. If you elect John Horton to congress you will not only have a good representative, but it will be an example to show your boy what he can do if he tries. He knows the conditions and needs of the people better than any other man in the race for congress. He came from the people and he will stand by the people.

A FRIEND

Mrs. J. P. Carey, Jr., and daughter are spending a while in Hendersonville, N. C.

Frank Allgood was elected cotton weaver at Pickens Saturday. The election was quiet and resulted at follows: Allgood, 206; Jones, 114; Parsons 7.

As this will be the last chance for candidates to address the voters through 'The Sentinel' before the first primary we are giving them a good deal of space. We are sure it will prove interesting to the voters and ask you to read it all.

The Sentinel will not be published next week until we can give our readers some definite election returns. It may get out as usual or it may be a day late. Watch 'The Sentinel' for election results. If your subscription is out you had better renew today.

Miss Florida Carey has returned from a visit to friends in Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morris and child of Washington, D. C., are visiting his parents in Pickens.

The protracted meeting which began at the Pickens Baptist church last Sunday is running smoothly and bids fair to be a great revival. Rev. Mr. Williams is doing the preaching in a powerful and pleasing way. Everybody has a cordial invitation to attend and take a part in the meeting.

Miss Myra Lou Cochran and Metha Hoggan leave this week for a visit to Washington and other points of interest north.

T. A. Senwright is at Chick Springs playing in the checker meet for the State championship.

How the Years Do Roll

Again we find ourselves in another canning season whether there is much to can or not. There are some things, however, that we will need for winter that can be saved. We are ready to supply you with Fruit Jars, Rings and Tops. We sell the tops for economy; jars also. Have you tried the White Crown Tops for Mason Jars? They are an improvement on the old way. Let us show you how they work. We also have Rings for White Crown Tops.

PLENTY OF JELLY GLASSES

Lunch Baskets for the children, and Hats, too, for the boys and girls. They have about worn their old ones out. Get them a new one before school begins.

Remember, we are in the market for butter all the time, regardless of the weather.

Come to see us and bring what you have to sell.

Communication.

It always has been that the people of S. C. were in favor of punishing criminals. The vote on the 29th will decide that question. If decided in the affirmative will it not be wise and economy for our lawmakers to abolish trial by court and jury for crime? You can look at this as you please. If the first decision is consistent or reasonable the second is more so. No way of explaining it otherwise. We have a government that protects all the people and metes out justice to all classes of people in like manner to what has been the custom all down through the ages. With our laws obeyed and enforced as never before are not the people satisfied with it? All other states are. To change conditions will divide the white people of the state. Do you favor that? If not, tell me how you explain it.

Vote for Horton for Congress

HORTON A WINNER

John A. Horton, of Belton, is bringing to a close what his friends term one of the cleanest campaigns ever waged in the Third Congressional District. He has not indulged in any mudslinging, nor has he attacked the private lives or character of any of his opponents. He has been bold and fearless in discussing the rights and privileges of Organized Labor. Some of the cotton mill officials are opposing Mr. Horton for the frank and open manner he has handled the labor question, but they are forced to admit that he has not said or advocated anything that was not right between man and man. We need such men who have the moral courage to come out in the open and discuss issues in their true light. Mr. Horton's friends all over the Third District are confident he is going to win. Those who are in close touch with the political situation believe he is going to lead the ticket in the first race and be an EASY WINNER IN THE SECOND. Those who know Mr. Horton best do not doubt that he is a TRUE FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE.
