MARRIAGES

Lewis-Boggs

The marriage of Miss Ellen Lewis of Easley and Julius E. Boggs of Pickens, which was solemnized on last Wednesday afternoon in the Presbyterian church at Easley, was an event of more than ordinary interest.

This was the first wedding in the new Presbyterian church at Easley. The pulpit and the choir loft, covered in white cloth and completely filled with palms and ferns, formed a pretty background for the wedding party. White ribbons marked the reserved seats.

Just before the ceremony Miss Frances Robinson sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You," accompanied by Miss Sara Smith.

Promptly at 5 o'clock familiar notes of Lohengrin, played by Miss Frances Bruce, were heard and the bridal party entered in the following order: Walter Robinson, Paul Robinson and Alex Robinson and Earle Seaborn, ushers; Miss Inez Morris, a cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, in a lovely dress of plum charmeuse, carrying a bunch of yellow chrysanthemums; little Margaret Richey, flower girl. The bride entered on the arm of her father. She looked lovely in a handsome tailored coat suit of midnight blue with accessories to harmonize. Her bouquet was of bride roses. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Sidney Bruce of Pickens. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. C. D. Waller.

Mrs. Boggs is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lewis and has lived in Pickens practically all her life, but some time ago moved Easley. She is a young lady of pleasing manner and many accomplishments and numbers her friends by the score. Mr. Boggs is agent for the Pickens Railway company in Pickens and has many friends all over the county.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Boggs left in an automobile for Greenville, where they boarded a train for their honeymoon trip, and after their return will make their home in Pickens.

Hiott-Long

The marriage of Miss Ella Virginia Hiott to Mr. Robert S. Long of Edgefield was solemnized here Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Hiott. The wedding was a quiet home affair, only the immediate family and a few of their most intimate friends being present. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father.

Mrs. Long is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Hiott of Pickens. Mr. Long is a prominent in both the business and social life of Edgefield, holding a responsible position in the offices of the Addison cotton mills of Edgefield.

Immediately after the ceremony they left on their honeymoon, after which they will make their home in Edgefield.

Fine Christmas Goods

Dr. J. N. Hallum, enterprising and progressive druggist of Pickens, spent several days in Atlanta last week buying Christmas goods. Dr. Hallum says that notwithstanding the European war and the scarcity of toys and other Christmas goods, the Pickens Drug Co. will this year have the biggest and best lines of high grade Christmas goods that has ever been brought to Pickens. They will have things for the kiddies, and notwithstanding the fact that the pretty china dolls that the children used to go wild about at Christmas cannot be bought for love nor money, he will have the best the market affords in the American made unbreakable doll, besides other things for the children. Dr. Hallum is making a specialty this year of high grade goods suitable for gifts, such as silverware, cut glass, fountain pens, chinaware, hand painted chinaware, statuary, Japanese goods, baskets, mats for the table, etc., all hand made. He will also have a fine line of jewelry and toilet articles. He will have the biggest and best line of books and Bibles ever brought to Pickens. These goods are all high grade and are just the same thing that will be sold in towns many times the size of Pickens, so that there will be no necessity for the Pickens shopper going out of town for such goods as these when they can be bought just as cheap and perhaps cheaper than in larger towns.

Prepare to do your Christmas shopping early.

We are always glad to have our friends send us in any news item they may know.

Pleasant Grove News

The most small grain is being sown in this section that has been sown for many years at one season.

Mrs. Lina Barker and family are paying her brother-in-law, Mr. Bishop, a visit in Greenville. He is at a hospital being treated for cancer. From all reports he will not recover.

Frank McJunkin of this section carried to Greenville last week a two-horse load of roasting ears. We do not know what Mr. McJunkin is getting a dozen for them, but imagine he is getting a fancy price.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dill of Spartanburg were visiting relatives and friends here last week and attended the sessions of Baptist association held at this place.

Mrs. J. P. Anders and son Hassie have moved from this section to Greenville. We are sorry to have them leave us, but the best of friends have to part.

Mrs. Ed Griffin of near Pickens is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moody. A FARMER.

No China Dolls This Year

Many a little heart will be made sad this Christmas because there will be no big, beautiful China doll in the stocking Christmas morning. The nations across the water are too busy fighting to think of making dolls, and old Santa will have to do without them this year because he can't get them. He used to get all of his pretty china dolls in Austria and Germany, but the war has put a stop to this industry. Dealers say there are just a few china dolls in America and the price of these is very high. Santa will get all of his dolls in America this year and they are known as the American made unbreakable doll. While they are not quite as pretty as the china doll, they will last the children much longer. So don't be disappointed because old Santa doesn't bring you a pretty china doll. It's not because he doesn't want to, but just because he can't get them. Lots of other foreign made toys will be short also, but old Santa will supply as best he can with American made toys.

Debate at Dacusville

There will be a public debate at Dacusville graded school Friday night, October 27. Query: Resolved, That the United States should enlarge her army and navy. Affirmative—Messrs. Bates Aiken of Dacusville and Arthur Aiken of Greenville; negative, Messrs. Joe Hunt of Dacusville and Louie Perry of Easley.

The teachers and members of the literary society are planning for a Halloween party on Saturday night, Nov. 4. Refreshments will be sold after a short program, consisting of songs and an Indian Hunters' Drill, with tableaux effects, have been given. There will be an admission fee, and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Take a Trip to the Holy Land

At the school auditorium next Friday night, October 27, Rev. L. E. Wiggins will give a lecture on his trip through the Holy Land, which will be illustrated by nearly one hundred beautifully hand-colored lantern slides, showing scenes in this the most interesting country in the world, the land made sacred by the feet of the Son of God. Mr. Wiggins spent three weeks in the Holy Land during the summer of 1912 and is prepared to tell, while the pictures show, what he saw in that wonderful land. A small admission fee of 25c for adults and 10c for children will be charged, the purpose being to raise money to pay the purchase price of the machine which Mr. Wiggins is using in his Sunday evening illustrated mission lectures at the Methodist church. Let everybody come. Lecture begins at 8 o'clock.

From Sunset

Married, on Sunday, the 15th inst., at Antioch church, Mr. Leo Winchester to Miss Katie Gillespie. A. T. Winchester, assisted by Rev. H. F. Wright, performed the ceremony. The wedding was a surprise to their many friends and happened just after Sunday school. Ray Lynch acted as best man and Miss May Gillespie was the maid of honor. Mr. Winchester is a son of J. W. Winchester and is a prosperous young farmer of the Mountain Grove section, while his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gillespie of the same section. They have the best wishes of many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Winchester of Sunset were in Pickens shopping last Saturday.

We are glad to report that Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Winchester, who have been quite sick recently, are much improved.

If you are a good citizen of Pickens County you cannot afford to do without your county paper. You may do without it, but you cannot afford to. It costs more to do without it than it does to subscribe for it. Every subscriber to The Sentinel gets more pleasure and profit out of it than can be had for a dollar spent for anything else. You can't keep up with what is happening in your own home county unless you read The Sentinel. The more subscribers we have the better paper we can give you. Get your neighbor to subscribe and he'll thank you. We'll thank you, too. It costs less than two cents a week

HOGWALLOW NEWS

DUNK BOTTS, Editor.

SIM FLINDERS thinks protracted meetings should be held oftener, both for the benefit of the sinners and the preacher.

An all day singing, with dinner on the ground, was given at Dog Hill church Sunday. Raz Barlow, who was present, conducted himself well, with the exception of stepping on the table cloth a few times while reaching after pies.

The Methodists are preparing to give a picnic at Hog Ford next week. Everybody in that neighborhood is expected to be present except the Potlocks family. They are Baptists.

Tobe Moseley has been sitting around and saying nothing for so long it is thought by some that his wife is enforcing a strict censorship.

Cricket Hicks who has been reading a farm magazine about germs in drinking water, now always looks into the bucket before taking a drink of water.

During the hard times and while the water is up Atlas Peck has been using his hog trough for a skiff.

Columbus Alsop has put up a marten box for his English sparrows. He says these birds have to be looked after now-a-days, as they have gotten so they can't fight either—even when they have a lot of other different kinds of birds helping them.

There is talk of having another street in Tickville. If this is done the visitors won't have to walk back down the same street.

Yam Sims, while out riding on his mule a few evenings ago, ran into the ditch just this side of the postoffice. These ditches should all be moved back from the road for the protection of travelers.

The Mail Carrier ran over Jefferson Potlock's foot when he came in with the mail and dived up at the postoffice porch Monday. No serious injury resulted as the mail was very light on that trip.

The dry goods store at Tickville is putting on another grand "Closing-Out-to-Quit-Business-Sale." These sales are proving quite popular, and the proprietor has decided to put them on regularly.

Cricket Hicks, who recently took two boxes of pills sent him by a large factory in the east, has been asked for a photograph of himself. It will appear in an almanac to be issued by the company, and Cricket has ordered several extra copies.

Washington Hocks has got back from a prospecting tour through the woods of the Gander creek bottoms and reports a bountiful crop of autumn leaves.

The Postmaster has announced that he will make a speech from the front porch of the postoffice tonight. He has not decided what he will talk about, but that is of small importance.

Raz Barlow spent two days in Tickville last week. While there he put up at the ice cream parlor.

Sim Flinders walked from the Hog Ford still house Saturday evening.

One admirable thing about a dog is that when he has fleas on him he is honest enough to come right out in public and scratch.

One of the many serious faults that may be found with the Excelsior Fiddling Band by a close observer is that their feet are too large. This fact was demonstrated the other night when they went to serenade a young lady in the Calf Ribs neighborhood and tramped down an acre of potatoes.

Sizemore Hocks, residing on Little Pistol Creek, east of here, has sprung into high standing this week by inventing a monkey wrench that will also crack nuts and pull corks.

The Wild Onion school teacher has been invited to go to Tickville and deliver a talk at the teachers' institute. His subject will be "Intellect." The teacher will start off his talk by saying he has been highly honored to be called upon to address such a large and intelligent gathering. By doing this he will get the audience to liking him and then he will have easy sailing with the subject he knows nothing about.

Luke Matthews has been sitting in the doorway of the postoffice for the past several days, and has stopped all traffic between the interior of the office and the outside world.

Fletcher Henstep was over in the Calf Ribs neighborhood yesterday and got a good look at a man who is reported to have paid up seven years' back subscription to the Tickville Tidings.

Columbus Alsop has a good dawg to trade for something else useful. This will cut his number down to seven, but he says he has to do it, as he is afraid he could not make a good living for them all this winter, and at the same time look after his family—as is required by law.

Washington Hocks has got back from a prospecting tour through the woods of the Gander creek bottoms and reports a bountiful crop of autumn leaves.

Willborn Freeman Dead

Monday, October 9, 1916, a telegram came from Alabama that Willborn Freeman was seriously ill, and Tuesday morning, the 10th, Miss Joe Freeman and her brother, B. F. Freeman, boarded the train to be with him in his last hours. Wednesday, the 11th, they reached his bedside and found him seriously ill. Thursday evening at five o'clock the death angel came and claimed him as its own. He had been suffering with Bright's disease about eight years. He was 63 years old and was a member of the Methodist church at Arkadelphia, Ala., and his body was laid to rest in the cemetery at that place, Friday, October 13.

Mr. Freeman was born and raised in Pickens county, South Carolina, and about thirty years ago he moved to Alabama, where he became a citizen and numbered his friends by the score. He was the youngest son of Joseph R. and Caroline Freeman, who preceded him to the grave many years. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn his death.

"Passed he out of the shadow

Into a pure light,
Stepped he behind the curtain,
Getting a clearer sight,
Laid he aside the burden,
This weary mortal toil;
Done with the world's vexations,
Done with its tears and toil;
Ready to bid his friends farewell,
Wondering why they weep,
Passed he out of the shadow
Into eternal day.
Why do we call it dying—
This glorious going away?"

Pumpkintown "Deadhead" Stuff

Pumpkintown, Oct. 23.—"New corn bread and 'possum sop," etc.—only the hunters' license law has made the 'possum mighty scarce, we fear.

We came so near getting frostbitten one morning last week that we're looking bad yet.

And the world war reached Table Rock Cave Sunday. Here's hoping it will come no further this way. Gee! but we feel like a greyhound would have a tough job catching us this morning.

Several people from this part heard the masterful sermon preached at Saluda Hill Sunday by Rev. Mr. Morgan. After preaching dinner was served on the ground. The afternoon was spent in singing. A large crowd from different parts of the country was present.

Family Reunion

On the 16th inst., Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Roper were agreeably surprised when their children began to gather at their home. This was Mrs. Roper's 61st birthday. All the children were present except one—nine children and 30 grandchildren. They all brought well filled baskets and lots of nice and useful presents for pa and ma, and dinner was spread on the ground under the large shady oaks, and such an abundance there was. The afternoon was spent in conversation and music and was enjoyed by everyone. May God help us all to meet in another reunion, but if that is not possible, then let us all try to meet in that great reunion around our Father's throne in Heaven. G. A. G.

We are in receipt of a letter from Piedmont college, Demorest, Ga., giving an account of the organization of the South Carolina club at Piedmont college. There are about 35 members, and among the names are Miss Clovie Gilstrap, Ralph Gilstrap, Harry Robinson and Prue Hendricks, all of Pickens. Harry Robinson was elected vice-president of the club. They also invite any South Carolinian who may be in Demorest at any time to come around and see them.

From Pea Ridge

C. A. Few has bought the mill and gin known as the Rampey machinery, and he and his boys are doing some good work.

C. S. Dalton has sold his house and a few acres of land to R. E. Dalton and has bought the Henry Rampey farm, which adjoins him. He will soon move into the Rampey house and R. E. Dalton will move into the C. E. Dalton house. George Kennemore will move into the house now occupied by R. E. Dalton, as he has recently purchased the place from Mr. Seaborn.

E. W. Pickens has purchased a new 2-cylinder 12-horsepower kerosene engine and will be able to do better work in the future. He will give someone a bargain in his two-horse engine, and will sell with a cordwood saw or corn crusher.

Married. When? October 21. Where? Near Six Mile. Who? Mr. Lawrence Curtis to Miss Ruth Lollis, both of the Six Mile community. Who married them? Rev. C. B. Atkinson, of course. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks for the kindness shown us during the recent illness of our boy, also Dr. Porter for his skillful and patient attention. May the Lord bless and reward you all.
