SOME of the stuff advertised as "bottled-in-bond" acts like it was bottled in hell.

THERE may be something else as uncomfortable as a corn on each little toe, but we doubt it.

WHAT has become of the old-fashioned horehound stick candy like we used to eat when we were kids?

A STORY comes from York that they have a ghost in that town. Which is not so bad if it can walk.

YOU can see who are the live merchants of Pickens by reading the advertising columns of The Sentinel.

WE hear there is some complaint about the looks of the new fifty-cent pieces, but they look all right to us.

TOBACCO is supposed to be well cured before it is put on the market, but a lot of it smells like it has had a relapse.

THE dove of peace knows how to fly all right; but, like Uncle Remus' mud turtle, he doesn't know how to light.

IT might help some if manufacturers of ladies' shoes would leave several dollars' worth of heel off of each shoe.

TO "Correspondent": With many blushes we make our most polite bow in acknowledgement of your note of recent date.

THAT booze the Arizona authorities confiscated and used to sprinkle the streets with probably came from the Sprinkle Distilling Co.

MEMBERS of the legislature visited Charleston and spent a day there last week, but we bet they never do it again. Charleston served them ginger ale!

SUBSCRIBERS will please renew their subscriptions promptly. Our parents moved from Pickens to Easley this week and we have to buy our own rations now.

WE understand that the people of Spartanburg are petitioning the legislature to pass a law forcing merchants to "throw in" a few crackers with each 5-cent can of sardines they sell.

THE original foolish question was when the first dentist asked, "Does it hurt?" - Greenville News. And the second fool question was when the first barber asked, "Does the razor pull?"

A MISSOURI woman wrote to her favorite farm journal to ask: "What shall I do to keep my calves from freezing?" We do not know what the answer was, but we would suggest thicker hose.

ANOTHER one of life's little mysteries is the man who chews up and spits out five cents worth of tobacco every day and then refuses to pay three cents a week for the county paper that his wife wants.

THE heading of that good newspaper, Newberry Observer, is illustrated, and we know it's all right and all that; but would Brother Wallace mind telling us whether the man in the picture is aiming a gun at something or taking a drink out of a long bottle?

ACCORDING to the Pee Dee Advocate South Carolina needs "less liquor and more learning." That's pinging the bull's-eye. - Greenville Piedmont. Probably if the legislature would make learning as easy to get as liquor there would be more learning.

REPRESENTATIVE ELLIS of Greenwood has introduced a bill in the legislature to prohibit the erection of advertising signs that resemble the cross-arm "stop, look, listen" contrivances of the railroads. A good bill, but inasmuch as nobody pays any attention to any sort of a danger sign while out joy-riding, it would amount to nothing if passed.

OUR WEEKLY RIDDLE. - What is it that we value more than life, fear more than death; the rich man wants it, the poor man has it, the miser spends it, the spendthrift keeps it, and when we die we take it with us?
Nothing.

We sympathize with Hiram Kantz; He has a wife who Wears the pants.

We have heard of a lot of mean tricks, but about the meanest one we ever heard of was perpetrated by A. M. Carpenter of the Anderson Daily Mail, years ago, when he was a printer on the Greenwood Index. For some reason or other Carpenter was not feeling very good one day when a fellow came into the printing office and said he just had to have some circulars printed. When the circular was "set up" it looked so bum that Carpenter was ashamed of it, and he didn't do a thing but print the Greenwood Journal's imprint upon the circular and palm it off as some of the Journal's work. But of course he has since reformed and wouldn't do anything like that now.

COLUMBIA newspaper correspondents are continually referring to F. M. Carey as being of Pickens. While we wish Mr. Carey was "of Pickens" he isn't. His home is at Seneca and he is in business at Anderson. He is a brother of J. P. Carey, Sr., of Pickens and a mighty fine man.

IT is now time for all good citizens to begin saving up money enough to buy an Easter egg.

AFTER all the earth has gone "bone dry," what will be used to christen new battleships with?

THE Society for the Prevention of Useless Noises should get busy with one T. Roosevelt.

1833 1917 The Mitchell Wagon

Approved By Three Generations—Eighty-Four Years of Faithful Service and Honest Goods—That Is the Record of the Mitchell Wagon and a Record to Be Proud of

We have sold The Mitchell Wagon for fifteen years, have sold hundreds of them in Pickens County, and can truthfully say that we have yet to find one customer who is dissatisfied with his purchase of a Mitchell Wagon. A few days ago a prosperous farmer, not a hundred miles from Pickens, came in our store and inquired about our stock of Mitchell Wagons, saying that he would want another one in a few days. He told us that he bought a 2 3-4 two-horse Mitchell Wagon from us five years ago, and the same day bought a 2 3-4 two-horse wagon of another make. Both wagons had been used regularly and the Mitchell is as good today as when he bought it, while the other is about ready for the scrap pile.

You will find others, farmers and lumber men, just like this man, who know the Mitchell Wagon by test.

We know from experience that the Mitchell is the best wagon made in the United States, regardless of price. If you don't believe this is so, just ask any man who has owned one.

A little higher in price, perhaps, than other wagons, but more than worth the difference. What does a few dollars amount to, when it means several years' difference in the wear of a wagon?

When better wagons are built, Mitchell will build them.

Yours truly,

Two to One in Quality and Quantity

Yes, Ma'am; and you don't have to take it for granted, either. You can prove the first by taste, and the second by arithmetic. Buy a can of Luzianne. Use half the quantity you ordinarily would. If it doesn't go farther and taste better than other coffee at the price, tell the man who sold it to you and he'll give you back your money. Make no mistake, Luzianne is great coffee—exceeding great. Ask for profit-sharing catalog.

The Luzianne Guarantee: If, after using the contents of a can, you are not satisfied in every respect, your grocer will refund your money.
