Along Marietta Route 2

Mr. Editor: There is said to be cold, colder and coldest, but we think Friday night, February 2, takes the cake for being the coldest weather ever experienced in this section.

Oscar Crenshaw, who has been confined to his room with measles, is able to navigate once more.

Perry Crenshaw is at home on a rest from his studies at Six Mile school, recuperating from a recent attack of measles.

L. B. Williams of Easley was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Rolis Mayfield, last week, who was quite indisposed with measles.

O. V., the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Williams, who has been real sick, is improving some at this writing.

Messrs. John and Herbert Williams are now turning out lumber on William O. Turner's plantation, but it is useless to say there is not much hauling of lumber to market now, owing, of course, to the condition of the roads.

There is a strong probability that a new camp of the W. O. W. will be instituted in the Mt. Tabor community at an early date, which will add much to the convenience of the choppers of this section.

If we don't freeze up, or get stuck in the mud, take the measles or some other disagreeable thing, you may hear from us again.

PROGRESSIVE.

Along Central Route 4

Frank and Tommie Oliver made a business trip to Central and Norris last Saturday.

Mrs. Mattie Stewart visited Mrs. Virginia Stewart last Sunday.

Mrs. Kannie Murphree, who has been ill for some time, is improving some at this writing.

Jim Madden and family of Salem have been visiting his sister, Mrs. T. T. Cox.

Uncle John Simpson (colored) died a few weeks ago of pneumonia. He will be missed far and near, as he was a famous well-digger.

Mrs. Minnie Craig of Pickens is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Robins.

R. G. Gaines of Central spent Thursday night with Tom Stewart and family.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Items From Central Route 4

(Too late for last week)

Health in this section is very good, except a few cases of measles.

Mrs. A. P. Alexander is spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. C. L. Williamson, of Six Mile, who is very low with measles.

Miss Lila Childress spent the weekend with her brother, Columbus E. Childress, of Easley.

Miss Louisa Mauldin of Seneca spent last week with her sister, Mrs. C. M. Steele.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cox of Seneca were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Childress last week.

Grover Haynes was a business visitor in Greenville this week.

Deo Haynes of Oconee was a welcome visitor in this community last Sunday.

J. A. Finley of Easley was in this community last week.

Luther Childress, who has been spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Childress, returned to school in Anderson last Saturday.

Frank Steele returned to Greenville last week to take a course in a business college.

B. F. Alexander and little daughter, Mary, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allgood last week. POSSUM EATER.

Central Woman Dead

In the death of Mrs. Si Stephens the town of Central has lost one of her oldest and most honored citizens. She was 83 years old. Her husband preceded her to the grave about three years. She leaves four children to mourn her death and are as follows: Mr. Claud Stephens, Mrs. C. W. Young, both of this city, and Mrs. R. F. Cox and Mrs. James Cannon of Atlanta.

Mrs. Stephens has long been a resident of our town and won hosts of friends who are deeply grieved at her passing away, she possessed a most lovable character, she was sympathetic and tender hearted, she knew how to enter into and share the grief of others as but few know how, and was loved and esteemed by all who knew her.

Appointments on Pickens Circuit

MRS. SLACK'S LETTER

To Mothers of Delicate Children

Palmyra, Pa.—"My little girl had a chronic cough and was so thin you could count her ribs, and she had no appetite. Nothing we gave her seemed to help her, until one day Mrs. Nebert asked me to try Vinol, and now she is hungry all the time, her cough is gone, she is stout and has a more healthy color. I wish every mother who has a delicate child would try Vinol."—Mrs. ALFRED SLACK.

We guarantee Vinol, our non-secret tonic, to make delicate children healthy and strong.

Pickens Drug Co., Pickens, S. C.; also at the leading drug stores in all South Carolina towns.

Around Route 3

Married, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Walker of route 3, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, their youngest daughter, Miss Janie Walker to Eugene Gillespie, Rev. C. B. Atkinson performing the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The attendants were T. Edd Porter and Miss Nettie Gilstrap, W. Tulla Porter and Miss Flora Kelley. The bridegroom is a prominent young farmer and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gillespie of route 3. This popular young couple has the best wishes of many friends for a long, happy and useful life.

Rev. S. M. Jones, pastor, preached a good sermon to several people who attended church at Porter's chapel Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Freeman of the Griffin section of the county visited Mrs. Freeman's mother, Mrs. Elbert Porter, Sunday.

W. H. Chastain returned to his home Saturday, after spending the week in Anderson on business for a lumber company which he represents.

Montvale graded school has enrolled ninety pupils this session.

New Grocery!

I HAVE opened a new grocery store in the old Harve Richey stand and will carry a complete and fresh line of groceries, which I will sell at prices that will make you forget about the high cost of living.

I have also moved my meat market and restaurant to my new stand and am better prepared than ever to serve the people. Come to see me. I want your trade and will treat you right.

Remember, everything I have in stock is absolutely fresh.

Give me a trial.

Resolutions of Respect

The following resolutions of respect were passed by Tate Lodge No. 292, A. F. M., in memory of Brother J. C. Garrett:

Whereas, The Grand Master of the universe has seen fit to call from labor to rest our beloved Brother J. C. Garrett, thereby breaking the chain around us, and since all true Masons believe in God, the resurrection of the body and the immortality of the soul, and as we know that Masonry teaches and stands for all that is good, noble and true; and Whereas, We know that Bro. Garrett was a true Mason, believing it and living it each day. He always kept that upright position before God and man, as all true Masons must do. He was ever thoughtful as he ascended the winding stairway of life of the goodness of God and His countless blessings. Therefore, he it resolved:

First—That we recognize in his death the loss of a true brother, whose love for all that was good knew no bounds and whose memory we shall always cherish in our hearts.

Second—That we believe that at the sound of the great gavel he was ready, and that when his spirit reached the door of the celestial body above he was clothed with the badge of a Mason and in possession of the eternal Grand Master's password entered into eternal bliss. But let us pause just a moment: Methinks I see a rift in the dark clouds that overhang our beloved craft, and from without that rift there comes a bright silver lining sparkling with gems of hope and good cheer, and I hear a voice so mellow, so sweet, exclaiming, "The life of a good man never dies."

"There is no death; the stars go down To rise upon some fairer shore; And bright in heaven's jeweled crown They shine forevermore.

"There is no death; the dust we tread Shall change beneath the summer showers

To golden grain or mellow fruits, Or rainbow-tinted flowers.

"The granite rocks disorganize And feed hungry moss they bear, The forest leaves drink daily life From out the viewless air.

"There is no death; the leaves may fall And flowers may fade and pass away; They only wait through wintry hours The coming of the May.

"There is no death; an angel form Walks o'er the earth with silent tread; He bears our best loved things away, And we call them dead.

"And ever near us, though unseen, Their dear immortal spirits tread, For all the boundless universe Is life; there is no death."

Third—That we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

Fourth—That we extend to his bereaved family our deepest sympathy in this their sore affliction, and remind them that he who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb looks down with infinite compassion in the hour of their desolation, and that He will fold the arms of love and protection around those who put their trust in Him.

Fifth—That a page be left in our minutes to his memory and that a copy of these resolutions also be spread there and a copy be sent to the family, and a copy be sent to The Pickens Sentinel for publication.

Respectfully submitted, JOEL R. GRIFFIN, J. W. HOLIDAY, J. L. CANTRELL, Committee.

Whatchu Mean, "It Ain't Done Nothing?"

The newspapers of the state ought to quit pickin' at the Pickens Sentinel. "It ain't done nothing."
