

CALOMEL IS MERCURY, IT SICKENS! STOP USING SALIVATING DRUG

Don't Lose a Day's Work! If Your Liver Is Sluggish or Bowels Constipated Take "Dodson's Liver Tone."—It's Fine!

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick, you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and cannot salivate. Give it to your children! Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Adv.

Slight Mistake.
One day an old country dame went to visit her son, who was a medical student in a large college. While she was waiting at the door a young man wearing a white coat and apron came out. Going forward to him, she asked in a meek tone:
"Are you a student coming out for a doctor?"
"No, ma'am," answered the young man; "I'm a painter coming out for a smoke."

To Drive Out Malaria
And Build Up The System
Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking, as the formula is printed on every label, showing it is Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form. The Quinine drives out malaria, the Iron builds up the system. 50 cents.

Weight for weight, a manila rope is just about as strong as a steel one.

WHAT IS LAX-FOS
LAX-FOS IS AN IMPROVED CASCARA A DIGESTIVE LAXATIVE
CATHARTIC AND LIVER TONIC

CASCARA BARK
BLUE FLAG ROOT
RHUBARB ROOT
BLACK ROOT
MAY APPLE ROOT
SENNA LEAVES
AND PEPSIN
In LAX-FOS the CASCARA is improved by the addition of these digestive ingredients making it better than ordinary CASCARA, and thus the combination acts not only as a stimulating laxative and cathartic but also as a digestive and liver tonic. Lilies of Peace

O! beautiful Easter lilies that open your hearts today
In the dusk of the proud cathedral, or the village chapel gray,
I look at your creamy petals and your buds of pearl and snow,
And think of the stifling trenches o'er the wide Atlantic's flow,
Where the soldiers wounded and weary, unshaven and unshorn,
Crouched like beasts in their burrows, wake to the Easter morn,
And their only Easter anthem is the rumbling cannon-wheel,
And in place of the Easter lilies are rows of cruel steel.

I think of the ruined altars with broken debris strewn,
The roofless walls that totter a-gape to the sun and moon,
The bells in the battered towers that hang so sad and still,
The silent pipes of the organs, the darkness and the chill,
The empty aisles and the silence where once the music poured,
In a silver flood of gladness to greet the risen Lord,
And kneeling among the lilies fragrant and pure and fair,
The white and wondrous lilies, I breathe an Easter prayer.

"Lord of the Easter morning, in thy compassion great,
Bind up the bleeding nations and cleanse their souls of hate,
To Europe's war-worn people their ravaged homes restore,
And bid the fields of battle grow bright with flowers once more;
And let these Easter lilies that gloriously unfold
Beneath the painted window of saints in blue and gold,
From snow-capped Fujiyama to purple isles of Greece,
Bear through the world a message of everlasting peace."
—Minna Irving in Leslie's.

Memories of Easter Days

ASTER memories, past and present! Tenderest vanities of earthland, fragrant with the odor of Annunciation lilies and bound about forever, with a scroll bearing words of promise!
Long ago the gowns whose soft harmonies delighted have faded; with the vanishing years have gone the dainty love tokens and the lover; still the covenant remains and the golden glory of the promise:
"I am the resurrection and the life!"
Far above the high-backed pew the minister's voice intones the Easter text.
Stretch as she may her fat little chubby neck, baby Anne cannot see the minister; so she gives herself over to thoughts of glories of her new Easter toilette; a round, pink-faced maiden she is, sitting straight and proper as becomes her years; she counts exactly five; in a new little gown, low of neck and short of sleeves, and a very round, short, little skirt; a monstrous scoop bonnet, tied with fat pink little bows under her fat, pink little chin.
Admiring contemplation of her two white-stockinged legs, projecting from beneath stiffly starched pantalettes, is intermingled with pleased anticipations of soon beholding the fat pink, also green, blue and red eggs, awaiting her at home after the Easter service.
The minister's voice soothes like lapping waves; of a sudden the prophecies of 1845 are forgotten; little Anne's golden head falls against her grandmother's shawled arms, and she sleeps!

"I am the resurrection and the life!"
Again the words of the Easter text fall upon "Miss" Anne's ears unheeded.
This Easter a lover in uniform stands by her side; about him all of her thoughts center.
His gift is the nosegay in the silver flower holder that dangles from the silver ring on her finger.
The new Easter toilette is even a thought of him, for were not its beauty and its modishness planned to win favor in his eyes?
Silver poplin it is, with a tight-fitting waist, pointed in front and in back, but its full splendor reserved for skirt effects, of yards of close-gathered, glistening broadths, falling over an enormous ermine, but lifted on one side to reveal the coquetry of a scarlet satin petticoat; a crocheted net of scarlet chenille confines her black curls, and scarlet are the loops of velvet that fall in a curtain from the back of her tiny triangle of a bonnet.
The minister and his world are so far away.
Life—and the Joy of Easter lilies, and love, are so near!

"I am the resurrection and the life!"
The little black-draped figure of the little old lady in the high-backed pew straightened perceptibly at the words of the minister as he read his Easter text.
For an instant her face against the crepe of the mourning veil she wore gleamed like a lamp of alabaster; then the flame went out in grief, for the losses of the years; the husband, the little ones, the bitterest loss of all, the boy—her first born—who died at Siboney.
Tremblingly she strives to draw the mourning veil across her withered, wrinkled little old face to conceal the slow-gathering tears of age; straightway a bundle of chiffon and satin shook itself away from her lap and a tender little rosebud face framed in a crushed, beruffled little bonnet of dainty rose pink looked lovingly into hers.

"Granny crying?" she begged. "Little Anne naughty? Little Anne sorry; don't cry, granny."
"Granny" Anne of seventy smiles through
"I am the resurrection and the life."
It is "Mistress Anne" now, if you please, in the old family pew; her husband on one side of her and her children on the other like heads upon a lily stalk, who smiles in happy thought.
How Jack had laughed at her coquettish confession that she had chosen black for her new Easter gown since she was afraid she was too old now for gay, bright colors. (As if the new Easter dress had not been chosen as a special test of becomingness, with its long, slender polonaise and perky little bows everywhere over the shirred, puffed, bouffante underskirt!) There was no confession of years in the tiny "capote" of glittering jet, with wide bows of filmy tulle.

Again the Words of the Easter Text.

The test had succeeded royally.
"To John and the children she would always be ever lovely, ever young."
"Granny's Heart's Ease!"
The joy of all the Easters that are dead and gone were not sweeter than her smile, for is not "baby Anne" the joy of the new, the "earthly always" of "Granny Anne," and full recompense?

Easter Night
The fasts are done; the Aves said;
The moon has filled her horns;
And in the solemn night I watch
Before the Easter morn,
So pure, so still the stony heaven,
So hushed the brooding air,
I could hear the sweep of an angel's wings
If one should earthward fare.
—Edna Dean Procter.

Easter's Message Still Impressive.
Easter crowns majestically the unfolding loveliness of the year, and if the world sends up echoes of discordant conflict, Easter time's message gains in impressiveness of meaning on that account.

Sound Advice.
The successful man of business was giving his son sound advice.
"My boy," said he, "whatever you do, don't brag."
"No, father," said the young man, dutifully.
"At least, not until after you have done it."
"And then?"
"Then," said the father, slowly, "if you were clever enough to do it really well, you will be clever enough to know that it's not worth bragging about."

GAS, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" settles sour, gassy stomachs in five minutes—Time it!

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it.
Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any dealer and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Adv.

About the time a man begins to have good common sense old age makes him childish and he can't use it.

To Prevent Old Age Coming Too Soon!

"Toxic poisons in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such poisons. If we wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase our chances for a long life, we should drink plenty of pure water and take a little Anuric," says the world-famed Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.
When suffering from headache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little Anuric (double strength) from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it many times more potent than lithia, and that it dissolves up acid as hot water does sugar.
