LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Born unto Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Julian June 20, a son.

Guy McFall sells more Fisk tires than any other kind.

Mrs. H. B. Hendricks is visiting Mrs. Dr. Williams at Roebuck.

Bailey Robinson, of Greenville, spent Sunday in Pickens with his family.

There will be an all-day picnic at Lawrence shoals on Keowee July 4th.

Misses Mattie and Emmie Griffin visited their sister, Mrs. W. A. Woodruff, at Catechee last week.

Miss Nellie Grandy entertained the Tattlers last Wednesday afternoon. Delicious salad and tea were served.

Miss Blanche LaBoon has returned from a two weeks' visit to her aunt, Mrs. Olga Goodwin, in Rock Hill.

There will be an all day singing at Pleasant Hill church, three miles south of Six Mile the second Sunday in July.

Messrs. L. C. Thornley, Byrd Carey and T. L. Bivens are spending several days in the mountains fishing, etc.

Pickens Drug Co. has just received a shipment of Rat Corn, which is said to be the best thing on the market for killing rats.

After catching all the blue cats in Keowee river during his vacation, Bennet Powers has returned to Pickens and gone back to work.

Wilton Hester, Ralph Hester and Miss May Gresham of Atlanta spent last week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hester in Pickens.

A Quartette composed of Messrs J. H. Baker, J. F. Lesley, L. C. Chapman and R. L. Boggs, of Easley, will sing at Mountain Grove church next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Ed Young, a colored employe of the Pickens Cotton Mill, reports that one of his hens last week hatched out a chicken with four perfectly-formed legs. It only lived about three days.

Hail storms have visited several sections of Pickens county recently. Much damage has been done by the hail around Catechee, in the Mt. Carmel section and above Griffin church.

Jordan Alexander, one of Oconee's oldest citizens and a Confederate veteran, died at his home in the Cheochee valley section on June 17, age 81 years. His body was buried at the family burying ground. He leaves several children among them being Mrs. Mary Hudgens of Central.

We regret to report that the condition of Mrs. J. D. M. Keith, an aged lady of the Oolenoy section, does not seem to improve, although she underwent an operation several months ago. She has been suffering a long time from a cancer on her face and many friends are uneasy about her.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lewis arrived in Pickens from Jacksonville, Fla., Saturday to spend sometime with his mother, Mrs. Maggie G. Lewis. Jesse has been conducting an automobile garage in Jacksonville for the past year or so. This is his first visit home in about six years and his old friends are glad to see him looking well. Since he was last here he has taken unto himself a wife.

The Dacusville Literary Society will give a public meeting in their school auditorium on July 4, beginning at 6 p. m. Refreshments will be served from six until 8.30, when the regular program will begin. A feature will be the debate between two Dacusville boys and two Tigerville boys, the subject being Resolved, That women in the United States should be given equal suffrage with men. Everybody invited.

Guy Curtis and Miss Lula Meadors, both of Greenville, were married in that city last week by Rev. Geo. W. Quick. Mr. Curtis is a son of of Mrs. Lou Curtis of Pickens. He is head pressman for the Greenville News and has been with that paper about twelve years. Both have a wide circle of friends and are popular. After the ceremony they left by motor for Asheville and other Western North Carolina points.

J. Harvey Chapman of the Six Mile section has ten acres of the prettiest new-ground corn we have seen and if no disaster hits it it will make fifty bushels to the acre. He also has five acres of younger corn which promises just as well, and his cotton is coming. He has fifteen acres in cotton and it looks like it will make a bale an acre. He also has a fine sweet potato patch and watermelons half grown. He says in about three weeks he will invite the editor and his friends over and have Prof. Duff Bolding to sing "Home Sweet Home." H. (Editor's note.—The editor is willing.)
