MADE IMMORTAL BY GOETHE

Leipzig Tavern in Which Poet Located Scene in "Faust," Was Well-known Gathering Place.

Auerbach's cellar was a tavern at Leipzig which disappeared in 1912. It owed its chief fame to Goethe, who in this place located the scene in "Faust" wherein Mephistopheles, standing upon a wine cask, takes his flight into space with Doctor Faust...

Neatly Put.

There had been a long silence in the dim-lit room. The atmosphere was tense.

"Edith," said the young man at last, breaking the silence, "I have a question to ask you—an important one."

"Y-y-yes, Tom?" faltered the young lady.

"I—I—I—well, anyhow, my name's going to be printed in the paper soon, and I—I—I wondered whether it would be among the deaths or—among the marriages, along with yours?"

GOVERNOR MANNING WRITES COL McCULLY

"WE GLORY IN YOUR PLUCK, YOUR DARING AND YOUR DASH," SAYS HE.

DISPATCHES FROM COLUMBIA

Doings and Happenings That Mark the Progress of South Carolina People, Gathered Around the State Capital.

Governor Manning sent a letter to Col. P. K. McCully, commanding the One Hundred and Eighteenth Infantry, formerly the First South Carolina regiment at Camp Jackson, to express the sentiment he wished to convey to the South Carolina boys...

My Dear Colonel: I am in receipt of your telegram and letter and the message from Colonel Springs, advising me of the necessity for calling off the parade and review of our South Carolina troops...

Please say to the officers and men of the South Carolina regiments that I had looked forward with eager pleasure to seeing them. When these regiments returned from the Mexican border, it was with pride and gratification that I reviewed them...

We, your friends and families, all wish you God speed. We will follow you in thought and deed, and our prayers will be with you now and always. On a foreign soil you will go as representatives of America...

In this war there will be two armies, on our side, one on the firing line and one supplying the food, arms and ammunition, equipment and clothing for you who are on the battlefield...

Not to be outdone. Governor Manning has issued a proclamation relative to sedition, espionage, etc. The proclamation follows:

"In order that the laws of the State and nation against espionage, sedition, traitorous conduct and desertion from the army and navy of the United States may be more thoroughly and promptly enforced, and in order that the people of South Carolina may know that in every locality there are agents of the government whose duty it is to take cognizance of and promptly report all violations of law affecting the national security..."

Yours sincerely, (Signed) Richard I. Manning.

200 Go to Clemson. Two hundred South Carolinians, graduates of grammar schools who have had some experience in mechanical lines and who have some aptitude for mechanical work, were ordered to report to the commanding officer at Clemson College May 16...

Men selected for this service will receive a course of training at government expense fitting them to serve in any positions.

Clemson Gets Trade Mark.

Application to W. Banks Dove, secretary of state, by the board of trustees of Clemson College, has been made and certificates issued permitting the college exclusive use of a trade mark on butter, ice cream, and other products made under the extension division cooperative enterprises and under the supervision of the college.

The trade mark which will be used bears the words, "Palmetto State," over a palmetto tree. The application for the certificate is signed by Alan Johnstone, president of the board of trustees.

Pigs for Clarendon.

The boys' pig clubs of Clarendon county are to be given valuable assistance in raising fine blooded hogs, through the public spirit of the Bank of Manning and the Home Bank & Trust Company. They have recently purchased a number of pure blooded sow pigs and will place them in the hands of pig club boys to raise and breed under conditions that in due time they are to return two pigs for one. The pigs are registered and the regulation is that they are to be bred to registered stock. Under this arrangement the banks will have double the number of pigs to let out next year from the increase and the stocking of the county with pure blooded hogs will have been well started. Under this endless chain scheme it is expected that in a few years Clarendon county will become well stocked with a highly desirable breed of hogs and that the live at home doctrine will be advanced to an actuality.

Proclamation by Governor.

Governor Manning has issued a proclamation relative to sedition, espionage, etc. The proclamation follows:

"In order that the laws of the State and nation against espionage, sedition, traitorous conduct and desertion from the army and navy of the United States may be more thoroughly and promptly enforced, and in order that the people of South Carolina may know that in every locality there are agents of the government whose duty it is to take cognizance of and promptly report all violations of law affecting the national security..."

Code Being Printed.

The acts of the general assembly passed at the session of 1918 and signed by the governor up to April 12, 1918, were delivered by the code commissioner to the public printers, April 19. The work of printing and binding them is now in progress and so soon as it shall be completed the acts will be ready for distribution. The work of the code commissioner has been carried on with promptness and expedition and the delay in the placing of the printed acts in the hands of persons requiring them will be little.

LOYAL DEMOCRATS ALL FOR WILSON

SOUTH CAROLINA CLUBS MEET IN VARIOUS COUNTIES OF STATE.

PLEDGES OF SUPPORT MADE

Resolutions in Many Counties Indorse Administration and Its Work for Winning the War.

Columbia.—Loyalty to the administration and emphatic indorsement of the policy of Woodrow Wilson featured the meetings of Democratic clubs in South Carolina counties to elect officers and name delegates to the county conventions to be held on May 6. Many resolutions were passed, all, however, expressing the same sentiment that South Carolina Democrats favor the action of the United States government in entering the war and pledge their support to the Democratic administration in carrying it to a successful conclusion.

Some resolutions expressed the thought in general terms while others specifically noted the selective service act and other legislation of the administration. Praises for the soldiers and sailors was included.

That factional lines were drawn was indicated in some reports of meetings. Charleston dispatches tell of "Tillman" or "Administration" tickets being swept into office in 20 out of 24 club meetings as opposed to supporters of C. L. Blease while news comes from York that the coming county convention will find anti-Blease men in a decisive majority.

Takes Blease to Task.

The following is correspondence of The Columbia State in reference to the former governor's Newberry speech recently re-published in that paper.

In your issue of April 26 you carry The Yorkville Enquirer's account of the speech of ex-Governor Blease delivered at Filbert on August 3, 1917, nearly four months after our entry into the world war. In this speech Mr. Blease used the following expression:

"Oh, God, people you don't realize what it means. Wait until you pick up the paper and read the casualty lists. They talk about a free America. I don't care what kind of an American it is when I am dead and gone."

Mr. Editor, can you imagine those words falling from the lips of Hampton or Butler of sacred memory? Would any of the thousands of patriotic South Carolinians who are serving our great government, either in uniform or otherwise, harbor such a thought for one moment? The answer can be found in a patriotic advertisement signed by "Citizen Soldier No. 258" of the National Army, appearing on page 10 of your issue of the same date which states in part:

"But, please God, our love of life is not so prized as love of right. In this renaissance of our country's valor, we who will edge the wedge of her assault make calm acceptance of its hazards. For us the steel-swept trench, the stiffening cold, weariness, hardships, worse. For you for whom we go, you millions safe at home—what for you?"

Compare the two statements, that's all. They need no comment.

Seeks Swearingen's Job.

Columbia.—Victor E. Rector, professor of agriculture at the University of South Carolina and member of the house of representatives from Darlington county, has announced his candidacy for State superintendent of education to oppose the incumbent, John E. Swearingen. Professor Rector was born and reared on a farm in Spartanburg county. He attended the county schools until he was 14 years old and was a student at Campbell high school from which he went to the North Greenville academy. At this time he received a certificate to teach in the public schools of the State.

To Die in Electric Chair.

Columbia.—Will Ferguson, Barnwell county negro, convicted of attempted rape, was brought to Columbia and will be electrocuted at the state penitentiary May 10. Ferguson was tried a Barnwell before Judge Ernest Moore, a special term of court having been ordered two weeks ago by Governor Manning on the request of Thos. H. Peoples, attorney general, and Solicitor Gunter of the second circuit. There was some threat of mob violence at the time the crime was committed.

Soldier Wounds Self.

Gaffney.—A furloughed soldier from Camp Jackson named Charles Clary, who resides a few miles west of Gaffney, wounded himself with a shotgun as he was crossing a fence. The great and second toes of his left foot were injured so severely that amputation was necessary. He was brought to the hospital by Dr. S. B. Sheard of Gaffney, who performed the operation. Clary's furlough had expired and he was absent from the camp without leave. He went to the home of his brother, who lives in Gaffney.

HOME FOR WAYWARD GIRLS

Fifty Thousand Dollar Buildings on State's 541 Acre Tract in Richland County.

Columbia.—Preliminary plans for the Industrial School for Girls, created at the last session of the general assembly and to be built on the State lands in upper Richland county, will be submitted for approval by May 15, and work on the buildings is to begin immediately thereafter.

An appropriation of $40,000 was made by the legislature and the federal government is contributing an equal amount for the institutions for wayward girls. The State has provided 541 acres of land for the reformatory tract and at least $50,000 will be expended on buildings.

The buildings are to be constructed on the cottage plan, this being determined at the meeting of the Board of Correctional Administration in the office of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, Mrs. Martha P. Falconer, representing the committee on training camp activities, having come to Columbia to assist in the preliminary arrangements.

The money from the federal government is being expended under Mrs. Falconer's immediate supervision, and N. O. Ludlow, a New York architect, was also sent to Columbia by the committee. Mr. Ludlow appointed George Lafaye, Columbia architect, to assist in the construction of preliminary plans for the cottages. The architects will submit their first draft of plans to Mrs. Falconer and Albert S. Johnstone, secretary of the State Board of Charities and Corrections and the work will begin immediately thereafter.

It was also agreed to admit girls as soon as one of the cottages has been completed. Refractory girls are to be admitted between the ages of eight and 20 years. The plan is a war emergency measure and is meeting with great approval in all States in which are located army camps.

Each unit of the cottages will be complete in its equipment, a kitchen, dining room, laundry and heating plant being attached to each.

No action was taken in the selection of a superintendent, who must be a woman. An advisory committee of three women was named to assist the correctional administration and the superintendent in the management of the institution.

Returned Soldiers Speak in State.

Columbia.—Fifty American soldiers who have received their baptism of fire fighting the Huns in France have been sent back to America by General Pershing to inform the American people concerning actual conditions on the other side, where British, French, Italian, Belgian and American troops are contesting every foot of ground with the legions of autocracy and militarism. These men, picked by General Pershing, have just arrived in America, and the State Council of Defense has just been advised through the War Department at Washington that they are available for speaking tours in South Carolina during the present month.

Said He Was Not Dead.

Columbia.—A rural policeman tells an unusual story about a negro who died but who later declared it was a mistake. The man was ill at Arthur-town, and to all appearances had died. A Columbia undertaker was called and preparations for the funeral were being made. The undertaker arrived at the house with his paraphernalia and as he was about to take charge of affairs the "dead" man sat up and said, "what's de matter here." The funeral director left instantly, and a physician was summoned. The man passed away on the following day.

Nabers Resigns Superintendentcy.

Columbia.—The resignation of the Rev. H. Z. Nabers, superintendent of the Epworth Orphanage was tendered to the board of trustees of that institution and accepted. Immediately thereafter the Rev. T. C. O'Dell of Rock Hill was unanimously chosen to succeed the Rev. Mr. Nabers, who will remain at the head of the institution until the Rock Hill man can take charge.

The trouble at the institution arose in connection with recent alleged cruel shippings, inflicted on inmates. The matron of the institution resigned 10 days ago.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS ITEMS.

F. J. H. Von Engelken, president of the government farm loan bank, located at Columbia, has been relieved of his duties there and will be sent by the government elsewhere. David A. Houston, formerly vice president of the bank, has been named successor. Wade Hampton Cobb has announced his candidacy for Congress from the seventh congressional district, to succeed Congressman Lever, who will oppose Senator Tillman.

John K. Aull has been appointed court stenographer by Judge W. H. Townsend for the Fifth Judicial Circuit to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late W. H. Macfeat. Mr. Aull is an expert stenographer, having been a stenographer for the Eighth Circuit a number of years. Mr. Aull has received his commission and will enter upon the duties connected with the office at once.

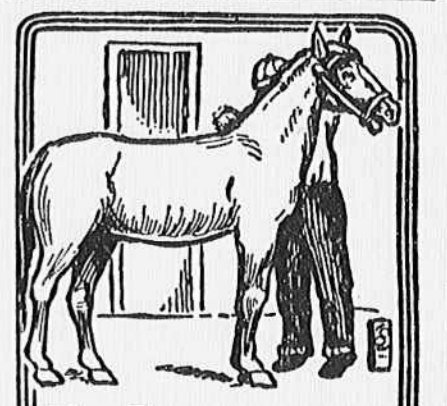

Former Senator John L. McLaurin has entered the race for governor. Although he states he is not anxious to hold office he will "give his friends a chance to vote for him."

To drive a tank, handle the guns, and sweep over the enemy trenches, takes strong nerves, good rich blood, a good stomach, liver and kidneys. When the time comes, the man with red blood in his veins "is up and at it." He has iron nerves for hardships—an interest in his work grips him. That's the way you feel when you have taken a blood and nerve tonic, made up of Blood root, Golden Seal root, Stone root, Cherry bark, and rolled into a sugar-coated tablet and sold in sixty-cent vials by almost all druggists for past fifty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

This tonic, in liquid or tablet form, is just what you need this spring to give you vim, vigor and vitality. At the fall end of a hard winter, no wonder you feel "run-down," blue, out of sorts. Try this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's. Don't wait! To-day is the day to begin! A little "pep," and you laugh and live.

The best means to oil the machinery of the body, put tone into the liver, kidneys and circulatory system, is to first practice a good house-cleaning. I know of nothing better as a laxative than a vegetable pill made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap. This is commonly sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and should be taken at least once a week to clear the twenty-five feet of intestines. You will thus clean the system—expel the poisons and keep well. Now is the time to clean house. Give yourself a spring house cleaning.—Adv.
