

FARMERS MAY GRIND FULL YEAR'S SUPPLY

Food Administration Rules Governing Grinding of Home-Grown Wheat Modified—Flour May Be Sold Under Certain Conditions.

Columbia.—Under modified regulations of the Food Administration farmers are now permitted to grind a full year's supply of flour from home-grown wheat. Millers throughout South Carolina have been authorized by the Food Administration to grind, from wheat made by farmers, enough flour to supply their families and their tenants for 12 months. This amount must, however, be based upon a calculation of 12 pounds per month per person.

Although using flour ground from home-grown wheat, farmers are expected by the Food Administration to nevertheless observe strictly the fifty-fifty rule and to use flour substitutes, pound for pound, with the flour they have ground. The fact that they have produced their own wheat does not release them from this obligation. They are also expected to see to it that their tenants, furnished by them, use flour substitutes on the fifty-fifty basis.

Farmers who grow wheat may sell flour to their neighbors who perhaps have not, but in such cases they will be required, under the rules of the Food Administration, to sell an equal amount of flour substitutes, the same as a merchant, or take miller's certificates from the purchaser showing that the purchaser has had flour substitutes ground to cover the flour bought, pound for pound. Farmers may sell flour, from their wheat, to merchants, but when merchants resell this flour it must be sold, pound for pound, with flour substitutes, to the persons who buy it.

These regulations apply to threshermen as well as to farmers.

LICENSES ARE REQUIRED TO DEAL IN POULTRY

Columbia.—Country or cross-road storekeepers who buy eggs and sometimes poultry from the farmers, for selling again, are required, under the proclamation of President Wilson of May 14th, to obtain licenses from the Food Administration. The fact that most country stores are in the retail business on a very small scale does not alter the case, but as a rule these storekeepers have not considered themselves liable. The President's proclamation required the licensing of all those engaged in certain lines of business, including "operators of poultry and egg packing plants not already licensed under the United States Food Administration." Under this classification, anyone who sells poultry or eggs in any way than at retail to the consumer, regardless of the amount of business done, must be licensed. In order to comply with the law all country stores buying eggs and poultry from farmers must fill out blanks obtained from the United States Food Administration, and have them returned to them.

WHY WE MUST SAVE FOOD

The United States the Last Reservoir of Man, of Ships and of Food to Save World Civilization.

By Herbert Hoover.

"If you could stand in the middle of Europe today and survey the land to its borders you would discover its population of 400,000,000 human beings. Millions of people, Finland, Serbia, Armenia are dying of starvation and other millions are suffering from too little food. Our Allies and the neutrals are living on the barest margins that will support life and strength.

"This, the most appalling and dreadful thing that has come to humanity since the dawn of civilization, is to me the outstanding creation of German militarism. The Germans themselves are not the worst sufferers. They are extorting at the cannon's mouth the harvests and cattle of the people they have overrun, leaving them in desolation. If the war were to cease tomorrow, the toll of actual dread from starvation and its attendant diseases within the German lines would double or triple the 5,000,000 or 6,000,000 of men who have been actually killed by Germany and her allies in arms. The 10,000,000 people in occupied Belgium and Northern France would have died of starvation had it not been for us and the Allies.

"We must build our food resources to stand ready for any demands upon us by the Allies. It is of no purpose to us to send millions of our best to France if we fail to maintain strength of their men, women and children on our lines of communication. The United States is the last reservoir of men, the last reservoir of munitions and the last reservoir of food upon which the Allied world must depend if Germany is to be defeated and if we are to be free men."

Telephone Courtesy

The people who get the greatest amount of good out of their telephone are those who talk over it as though face to face.

Courtesy smooths out difficulties and promotes the promptest possible connections.

The operators of the BELL System are trained to be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet with patience and politeness on the part of the telephone users.

The fact that you cannot see the operator or the other party should not cause you to overlook this. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.
