Porkless Saturday! Don't be a razor-back.

"Family wash to go up." It generally does, on Monday.

Autocracy started the war. Democracy is going to finish it.

There is a scarcity of sugar and there is no time to mobilize the honey bee.

Faced by the horrors of a sugar famine some people will be driven to eating candy.

It is well enough to hope for an early peace, but working for a speedy victory is much better.

Much has been said in praise of the fireless cooker, but the fireless heater has no friends.

The tanks that won the Cambrai front were not the kind that crawl home at 2 a. m.

It is impossible to conserve the use of food in the family by merely hanging a card in the window.

London reports turkeys at $15 and rabbits at $2.12. Surely this must be per cwt. It can't be each.

If, as reported, the Germans are eating dogs, does this mean the elimination of the dachshund?

With rare presence of mind the department of agriculture is trying to change the subject to gardens.

The hotel men, it is understood, are giving three cheers for wheatless and meatless days. There is a reason.

Some people who say that Americans have no sense of beauty never saw the knitting-bag brigade in action.

The cold wave has taught the country a lesson which ought to make fuel shortage impossible in the future.

Economy is doing without, but it's hardly good economy to ask the workman to get along without his wages.

There were never enough railroad cars for peace times, and with a war to supply something was bound to give way.

According to the new psychological charts in the army, a man with flat feet may serve his country, but not with a flat head.

What a football manager Hindenburg would make, with his consummate ability to cook up bear stories about his camp!

One now begins to understand the reasoning of the woman who carried a thermometer in her pocket so that she could enjoy the weather.

The announcement that summer shoes are to be simple fails to overcome the financial complications involved in getting a pair.

The old saying about "a rich man's war and a poor man's fight" loses point when the proceedings of the exemption boards are examined.

The atrocities of war are not confined to Europe. Some people, wishing to help us muddle through, are advocating an "eat-an-onion day."

Butter is selling in Berlin at $2.25 a pound. Perhaps that is one of the reasons the kaiser does not know which side of his bread is buttered.

All indications are to the effect that the only place where the eligible man of draft age will be made to feel at home is in the army training camp.

Silk as a substitute for the more costly gingham is one of the instances how in these upside-down times the whirligig of time is taking its revenge.

Nineteen and a half billion dollars was the value of our farm products last year, and that's quite a bit of money even for these times in this country.

Considering the increasing high cost a great many young fellows admit the truth of the statement that 'tis better to have loved and lost than never to have lost at all.

What the men of this country need more than anything else is a collar that will allow a four-in-hand necktie to slip through without twisting the collar or tearing the tie.

Exercise is a good means of keeping warm and there is no limit on it. Even exercise of the imagination as to the precise causes of congestion and congestion is permissible.

Our sympathy goes out to the man who, coming over here from Paris in order to get fed up carnivorously at the center of the meat industry, arrived on meatless Tuesday.

This is a sort of topsy-turvy world. No one seems satisfied. One man is struggling to get justice, and another is flying from it. One man is saving up to buy a house and another is trying hard to sell his dwelling for less than it cost to get rid of it. One man is spending all the money he can earn in taking a girl to a theatre or show and sending her valuable presents in hopes that he may eventually make her his wife and his neighbor is spending all the gold he has saved trying to get a divorce. One man keeps a pistol to protect himself against burglars, while his neighbor doesn't keep one for fear of shooting himself or some member of the family. One man pays for his paper in advance because he can read it with a greater relish, while another takes it four or five years without paying a cent for it, and enjoys it hugely all the while. Surely a queer old world this is.

To Make Your Town Prosper.

Don't fret. Talk about it. Write about it. Beautify the streets. Patronize the merchants. Be friendly to everybody. Advertise in its newspaper. Elect good men to all offices. Don't grumble about hard times. Avoid gossip about your neighbors. Keep your side walks in good repair. Do your trading with your own merchants. If you don't think of any good word don't say anything about it. If you are rich, invest something; employ somebody, be a rustler. Remember every dollar invested in permanent improvements is so much on interest. Be courteous to strangers that come among you, so that they may go away with good impressions. Always cheer on the men who go in for improvements, your portion of the cost will be nothing only what is just. Don't kick at any proposed improvement because it is not at your door, or fear your taxes will be raised fifty cents.

Dots from Sunset.

There are some light cases of the Flu but none have proved fatal yet.

Crops are fairly good. Picking cotton, making syrup and sowing grain is the order of the day with the farmers.

Rev. B. F. Murphy and D. T. Alexander were in our section on business last week.

A. T. Winchester was in Walhalla recently and reports cotton as being good on the Oconee side. Mr. Winchester has also recently built a new store house where Sunset post office will be kept. He is thinking of putting in a stock of goods which will be a great convenience and help to this section.

A petition has been filed with the P. O. Department in Washington to change the mail route from Nimmons to Sunset. The petition asks that the carrier be sent up big Eastatoe one mile before crossing, thence up Smiths creek, over by the Sam place, on across head waters of Oolenoy creek, on over on little Eastatoe creek and then down to Sunset. This will be a great convenience to the people of upper Big creek, Ready Cove, Rocky Bottom and upper little Eastatoe and we trust that this petition will be granted and put into force at once.

By special invitation of Dr. F. S. Porter the scribe accompanied him to the Greenville hospital where Drs. Porter and Black performed an operation on a patient. We were not permitted to see the operation, but soon after saw the patient returned to his room and then Dr. Porter carried us through the hospital. It was a great, but sad sight to us, to see so many afflicted from the children to the grey headed. The scenes of this trip will ever linger with us. After the trip through the hospital we remarked that we didn't see how much better an institution of this kind could be fitted up or equipped. The Dr. said it was about the poorest in the south but the ground was being broken and the foundation being laid for a larger, more modern and up to date building where many more could be taken care of. We are very grateful to Dr. Porter for the trip and hope to take another when the new building is completed and occupied.

Mr. J. R. Meece, has returned from a two weeks stay in Transylvania county N. C. visiting relatives and assisting in protracted meetings.

Messrs R. E. Bruce and Jas. P. Carey of Pickens was in our section on business one day last week.

Squirrel hunters are plentiful this fall. "Mountain Sprout."

Buy Your Winter Shoes, and Buy Now

This is the advice we give you, and the reason we give it is not only from the fact that shoes will be higher in price, but they will be scarce and hard to get.

One well known shoe concern has allotted us to a certain amount of shoes for next spring, and other concerns will fall in line. Buy such shoes as you need, but no more, and buy the best quality always.

Our shoe business for the month of October was nearly as large as our entire shoe business for last winter.

We attribute the reason for this to the lines we are handling, as we think in the Walk-Oveer shoe, Endicott, Johnson & Company, and H. C. Godman, that we are handling three of the best lines of shoes made or sold in America.

Call On Us For Your Shoe Needs

For we have a very good stock at present, with prices the same as last year, and we are endeavoring to keep our stock up so we can supply your needs, and we are ordering constantly to be shipped by express.

When you buy your shoes consider quality more than price. It pays to buy the best; cheap shoes are cheap at any price. Stick to quality first, last and all the time.

Yours truly,

more uniformity in observing meatless and wheatless days would prevent a man from getting meat or wheat denied him at one restaurant merely by going to another.

Every time a housewife orders beef instead of veal she is giving that calf a chance to grow into full steerhood. A three-year-old will feed more American boys at the front than a calf will.
