

GARY HIOTT, Editor and Mgr.

DEATH OF MRS. ELVIRA ROBINSON.

Mrs. Elvira J. Robinson died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. H. Williams, on the 12th inst, in the 82nd year of her life. Her husband, Mr. George Frank Robinson, preceded her to the grave by thirty-two years. Mrs. Robinson's maiden name was Griffin and she was reared in the Peters Creek section of the county and was baptized into the fellowship of Peters Creek church. For about forty years past she has held her membership with the Cross Roads Baptist church of which her husband served as an honored deacon till his death. Since his death Mrs. Robinson lived at the old home till all her children grew up to manhood and womanhood, married and left home. After her youngest son married, Sam L., she lived with him at the old home for several years, but finally sold out the old home and moved to Easley. She continued to make her home with Sam, but visited the other children. While on a visit to Mrs. Williams, her daughter, she suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she died after lingering for several days. She sweetly passed away, bidding farewell to earth and her immortal spirit winged its flight to mansions not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Mrs. Robinson was one of the best business women in the county. She managed to raise and educate her children left fatherless by the death of her husband. But with such help as the eldest children could give she managed well. One of our very best christian women, faithful to her church, to her loved ones and to her God. She chose a good name which the Bible says is better than great riches. She leaves to her children an untarnished name as a precious legacy.

The children are as follows: A. Robinsen, Easley; Mrs. B. H. Williams, Easley; Mrs. C. J. Robinson, Easley; Mrs. G. E. Williams, Easley; Mrs. W. S. Mauldin, Easley; J. T. Robinson, Easley; Sam L. Robinson, Easley; Mrs. M. P. Bryant, Greenville; Mrs. Ossie Hunt, of Greenville; Mrs. George W. Griffin and Mrs. Eliza Aiken, of Easley are her brother and sister. George Robinson, another son, went home to heaven several years ago.

Her funeral was conducted on the 14th inst. at Cross Roads church by Rev. D. W. Hiott, and her body was carried and laid beside her husband in the Mansel graveyard in sight of the old home where she had spent so many happy years with her husband and children.

Beloved, sleep on and take rest, Thy head upon thy dear's breast; Sleep on, good night, sleep on." D. W. H.

MANY ELECTIONS TO BE MADE BY NEXT GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Columbia, S. C.—There will be numerous elections in the general assembly which convenes on January 10, and already candidates are looking to their "constituents," the members of the two branches.

The chief race will be that for the associate justiceship, left vacant by the last legislature, after many futile efforts to break a deadlock. All four of the candidates who were in the race last winter will be voted on again, M. L. Bonham, of Anderson; Jessie I. Carter, of Bamberg; Senator J. H. Marion, of Chester, and Judge S. W. G. Shipp, of Florence. It is expected that a "dark horse" will be likely entered when the voting is renewed in January. Governor Cooper is being mentioned in this connection.

There will also be elections of seven circuit judges. The judges whose terms expire in 1922 are I. W. Bowman of Orangeburg, Hayne F. Rice of Aiken, John S. Wilson of Manning, Edward McIver of Cheraw, Ernest Moore of Lancaster, Frank B. Gary of Abbeville and Thomas J. Mauldin of Pickens.

The only one of these races about which there is as yet any political talk is that for the first circuit, of which Judge Bowman is now the presiding judge. The name of Marvin M. Mann, prominent lawyer of St. Matthews, and clerk of the state senate, is being mentioned as a possible candidate for the judgeship now held by Judge Bowman.

M. C. SMITH'S COTTON DOPE

The poor farmer fooled the Government on his reductions in acreage. The Bureau now says they did not have the money to find out early in the season that the farmer had made a false report, yet they spent thousands of dollars of your tax money on these reports.

If an ignorant farmer can fool them what do you think the ginners might do? The Bureau reports acknowledge once that they were fooled. Why not fool them again?

Taking their ginners' report to December 1st—7,640,000—do you believe they are going to gin 700,000 more bales? If so where do you think they will get the cotton? It is reported to you daily there is no mill demand for spots. Yet for the last five months the mill takings are far in excess of a million bales each month.

as Judge Bowman will probably be nominated for the place. Mr. Mann is very popular with the members of the general assembly, serving now his seventh term as clerk of the senate.

An election in connection with one of the important state commissions will be that of the chairman, of the state tax commission. A. W. Jones is the present chairman, but it is understood he will not offer for reelection.

There are numerous other offices to be filled by the legislature as follows: Two members of the board of visitors of the Citadel the terms of John P. Thomas of Charleston and James H. Hammond of Columbia expiring. Three trustees of Clemson College, the expiring terms being those of J. J. Evans of Bennettsville, I. M. Mauldin of Columbia and B. H. Rawl of Lexington.

Two members of the board of visitors of the Colored Normal, Industrial Agricultural and Mechanical College at Orangeburg, those whose terms expire in 1922 being G. B. White of Chester and C. F. Brooks of Laurens.

One trustee of the John de la Howe Industrial school, in McCormick County, the trustee whose term expires in 1922 being J. M. Nickles of Abbeville.

One trustee of Wintrop College, at Rock Hill, the term of J. E. McDonald of Wintrop, expiring in 1922.

Two trustees of the University, the two whose terms expire in 1922 being C. E. Spencer of York and L. P. Hollis of Greenville.

Two directors of the state penitentiary. Those whose term of office expire in 1922 are A. H. Hawkins of Prosperity and W. H. Canfield of Anderson.

FEDERAL TAXES TO BE REDUCED.

South Carolinians as well as everybody else will have some tax reductions with the beginning of next year whether the legislature does any reducing or not, as the new internal revenue act passed by congress will afford "relief" in a number of instances.

For example, beginning January 1 the eight per cent war tax on all railroad tickets will be abolished. Another "relief" will be the abandonment of the tax on soft drinks sold over the counter at soda fountains.

Probably the biggest factor in the new law will be the abandonment of the excess profits tax. This tax brought in nearly $20,000,000 alone in South Carolina for the past fiscal year. The tax is still in effect and will not be abolished until January 1. With this tax abolished the collections from South Carolina after next year will probably drop to about half the amount as of the present fiscal year.

Instead of the tax on soft drinks sold at fountains a tax of so much a gallon on the manufactured syrup will be imposed. The tax on the manufacturer of bottled drinks is also repealed and in lieu of the former soda and bottle taxes a tax of two cents a gallon on all beverages derived wholly or in part from cereals or substitutes thereof, fermented fruit juices and other bottled soft drinks and mineral waters will be imposed. A tax of five cents a gallon will be placed on syrups used for bottled drinks, nine cents a gallon for syrups to be used at fountains and four cents a pound on carbonic acid gas. Any person liable to pay tax on syrups, etc., as mentioned will be required to procure and keep posted a certificate of registry from the collector of internal revenue on or before January 1, 1922.

The 3 per cent tax on all freight shipments as well as the eight cents war tax on passenger tickets will be repealed as of January 1 and this will mean a big saving. The tax on toilet articles and medicinal preparations will also be abolished with the new year. The five per cent tax on jewelry will remain the same for next year.

Do you know that the stock of cotton at New Orleans has decreased in the last three weeks, when it should have increased?

Do you know that there is only about 100,000 bales of cotton in New York that can be delivered on contracts if called for.

Suppose John Smith, Sam Jones and McGink has bought this cotton, and sold it to the mills, what will happen to December and January shorts.

Do you know that there is always from two to three million bales of cotton in farmers and merchants hands? I am not bullish on the market, but just think what might happen if this cotton is called.

Will say if there is 8,340,000 bales this years crop, this is not bearish. Smith, Greenwood, S. C.
