

Make Every Day a Pay-Day

A farmer told me last week, I use to have White Leghorns and I carried a bucket of eggs to the store twice a week. I haven't had any to carry since I got rid of them. I sure want some of your eggs as soon as my hens go to setting.

U. D. C. MEETING

The March meeting of the U. D. C. was held at the home of Mrs. Guy McFall, who was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Hagan.

The president, Mrs. T. J. Mauldin, has just returned from Richmond, that old city which is so full of reminiscences of the days of the sixties, and she gave a fine description of it. This was given in a most excellent and instructive manner, which vividly impressed all present. Mrs. Vestta McFall read an original paper on Wade Hampton, which was one of the very finest.

Immediately after this the ladies were invited into the dining room where on the table sat a beautiful cupid in the person of little two-year old Guy McFall, Jr., who was surrounded by a great number of handkerchiefs, which were a shower from the Daughters to Miss Mildred Cox, one of the members who is soon to wed.

Ice cream and cake was served and a most pleasant social half-hour was enjoyed.

COX-WOODRUFF

The following handsomely engraved wedding invitations have been issued:

Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Cox request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Mildred Octavia to Dr. Paden E. Woodruff on Wednesday afternoon, March 22, at five o'clock, Grace Methodist Episcopal church, Pickens, S. C.

ENTERTAINMENT AT PICKENS MILL NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT.

There will be a play given at the Pickens Mill school house next Saturday night by the Pickens Mill band. "Always in Trouble" is the name of the play.

A small admission fee will be charged and the proceeds will go for the benefit of the band.

Do you need money? If so there is no reason why you can't get it. Cross ties at Pickens are bringing 70 cents. This is a good price and within the last two weeks the wagons are hauling them in.

D. A. R. MEETING.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week the March meeting of the Fort Prince George Chapter D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. Wayne F. Mauldin with Mrs. Frank McFall as joint hostess.

Several members were absent on account of sickness, but those present will ever remember the occasion with pleasure. Mrs. Mauldin had numbers of beautifully blooming hyacinths and victrolas in her living room and the bright spring sunshine cast a halo of loveliness over the scene which will not be easily forgotten.

In the absence of Mrs. T. J. Mauldin, Regent, and Mrs. Dr. Kirksey, Vice-Regent, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frank McFall, various matters of interest pertaining to the work were thoroughly discussed. The corresponding secretary was instructed to write a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Johnson one of the members of Liberty who recently lost a brother at Ninety Six.

A paper on Pendleton was read by Mrs. Frank McFall which told how that old place was once the pride of upper Carolina—of the magnificence of her homes of ante bellum days and above all of her old "blue bloods" of those same times. It also told of the Old Stone church and the grave yard there where so many of our brave and gallant heroes and others of equal importance are sleeping their last long sleep. This was followed by a piano selection, "Humoresque," by Miss May McFall who charmed her listeners by her exquisite touch.

Mrs. Wayne Mauldin read a good article on the life of General Andrew Pickens which was very instructive.

The hostess, assisted by Miss Elinor Mauldin, served delicious block cream and pound cake while a half hour was being spent socially.

OVERHEARD

"Look here, man, someone must have remembered you in their will, didn't they?"

"No, why?"

"Just look at the clothes you are wearing."

"Oh, well, this is a STYLEPLUS suit I bought at Edwards & Darsey's and it not only fits and feels good, but it wears well."

"Oh, yes, those clothes are guaranteed."

"But what about those shoes you look so dressed up in?"

"Yes, I got them there too. Thought I'd try a pair of FLOR-SHIEM shoes this time."

"Well you certainly got a good shoe for I know what they are."

"You know they carry a good line of stuff, their hats and shirts are hard to beat."

"Yes, not only in ready-to-wear, but the ladies are talking about such lovely patterns in dress goods, and they are right up to the minute in style and quality."
