

AD TO STAY IN BED FOR WEEKS

na Citizen Says He Is Now Rid of Troubles That Had Kept Him Miserable for Years.

"I was almost out of commission when I began taking Tanlac, but it made me feel like a new man in short time," said W. S. Meadville, 104 North Twenty-ninth St., Omaha, Neb.

"My liver and kidneys were out of order and I had terrible pains in my back and sides and was so bad off I often had to stay in bed for two weeks at a time.

"The results I got from Tanlac were very glad surprise to me. It benefited me in every way and I believe the improvement I received will prove to be permanent and stronger and better than anything I ever had."

Headlines.
Sir Phillip Gibbs, the art connoisseur, recently told a group of Chicagoans about the editor of a small paper who had the village carpenter make type large enough to tell of a village scandal. "Great show we made yesterday," he told the publisher of the paper after it was all over. "Yes," said the publisher quietly, "but I always thought we'd save something like that for the second coming of the Lord."

Alice had been to Sunday school for the first time, and had come home filled with information. She was overheard to say to her six-year-old sister, as she laid a wee hand over her heart, "When you hear something wite here, you know it is conscience whispering to you."

"No such thing," responded the six-year-old; "It's just wind in your tummy."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Demure Taffeta Frocks; Consider New Lingerie

FASHION never ignores taffetas—they are too well entrenched in the regard of every woman. Every summer brings demure frocks of this silk, usually in black or navy blue, decked out with simple trimmings and little brightening touches, and every summer they go daintily rustling their lady-like way through the affairs of afternoon. Designers take them for granted and complacently present such appealing frocks as those of black taffeta, shown here.

things until the last minute. At this time, too, many June brides are intent upon trousseaus that will represent the very latest ideas in undergarments—and a pretty feast is spread for their eyes.

It is a silken mode this season, with emphasis put upon simplicity of design and trimmings. But replicas of silk garments, made of sheer, silky cottons, are less expensive and dainty enough for the most exacting taste—while there are still many women who

For Affairs of Afternoon.

Almost any seamstress can undertake to make either of these models. In the frock at the left, yards of little ruffles made of the silk account for all the decoration, edging the round neck and the elbow sleeves. Ruffles put on in deep points deck out the skirt and this self-trimming reaches its climax in little roses made of folds that are set about the waist.

On dresses of this kind it is easy to introduce any brightening color by means of narrow ribbon in rosettes and falling ends, as in the dress at the right. It has a plain skirt scalloped about the bottom and achieves a bouffant line by introducing corded ruschings over the hips. Pippings of taffeta are used as a finish and to join the bodice and skirt. prefer fine batiste, moussook and other cottons above everything else. The garments shown here may be made of crepe de chine or of batiste, using in either case, ribbon shoulder straps. The underslip is trimmed with val lace and insertion at the top and reveals a pointed ruffle at the bottom, paneled by lace insertions.

Step-in drawers of grenadine crepe de chine, with chemise to match, appear with a tailored finish of points instead of the usual lace trimming. Among the novelties recently arrived there are bodices of net or radium silk, with vestees of net and filet, or val lace insertions, which do away with the necessity of a blouse under summer coats. Sleeveless nightgowns have deep armholes edged, like their roses, set across the front, and ribbon, with colored edges, hanging in loops at each side, where the roses terminate, emphasize a front panel effect made by placing most of the fullness over the hips.

These same models, developed in the gayer colors, make enchanting dinner and dance frocks. Ruchings of taffeta, made of narrow strips frayed at the edges, covered cord, arranged in flat rosettes, flowers of the taffeta, ruffles and other self-trimmings adorn them, with narrow ribbons and millinery flowers and fruits adding their bit by way of enhancing the bright charm of taffeta in plain or changeable weaves.

In May, as in January, the stores put on special displays of lingerie for the benefit of those who have put off buying their summertime under-garments. Necklines, with narrow fllet lace. Narrow ribbons, tied on the shoulders, give them a caressing touch of color. Many light tints divide honors with white in the showings, where flesh, pink, orchid, peach, turquoise, and even pale green, proclaim that the courage of color has come to the point where it includes underwear.

In choosing between these alluring colors and white, the matter of laundering must be reckoned with. Only white will stand ordinary tubbing, but colored silk and batiste are not hard to launder. If they fade they may be re-tinted in the rinse water.

Buttons Long in Use

John J. Jones, a waiter in the dining cars of the Pennsylvania railroad, asked the other day for a new set of brass buttons to use with his white duck coat. When he turned in his old buttons in exchange it was noticed that they were not only unusually bright, but also that much polishing and use had almost worn off the lettering and that the front of each button was actually worn through in one or more places. Asked how long he had worn the buttons, he replied: "About twenty-nine years." They had been issued to him in 1892 by Maj. J. F. Trout, then superintendent of dining cars and restaurants.—New York World.

There never was a time when Goodyear Tires were so good as now.

They are bigger, heavier and stronger today than any earlier Goodyears ever were.

Yet Goodyear prices are lower now than ever.

Not even in those remembered days before the war did Goodyear Tires sell at such low prices as today.

Look at the figures listed below.

They represent an average decrease of more than 60% from Goodyear prices of 1910.

When you can get these better Goodyears at such prices, there is no question of the tire value at your command.

Your Goodyear Service Station Dealer will tell you that never in his experience as a tire dealer has he known the equal of this value. See him today.

TWO RICH PRINTER'S "BULLS"

Postmaster General Has Preserved Specimens of Work of the "Inspired Composer."

Postmaster General Work has two choice specimens of typographical errors which he keeps on his desk handy to show to the discriminating. Like most everybody else in the world, Doctor Work appreciates that sort of thing.

Both of these "bulls" occurred in connection with printed portraits of Doctor Work when he was appointed to the highest position in the postal service. One of them bears the title: "Dr. Herbert Work, physician to the pope. Was with the late pope in his last illness."

Evidently the inscriptions of the two photographs got mixed up, and nobody caught the error, on account of the title of doctor of both physicians.

The other sample was a picture of the postmaster general, and an inscription which should have read: "Colorado Man Appointed Postmaster General."

But it got in like this: "Colored Man Appointed Postmaster General."

Here's Good Advice: Relieve Your Fatigue With Sleep. Avoid Stimulants

THERE is nothing in the world so reconstructive as sound, refreshing sleep. During sleep the system rids itself of the fatigue poisons that have accumulated during the day. The food elements are taken up by the various tissues that require rebuilding nutriment.

It is important that you get plenty of health-bringing sleep. Anything that interferes with your sleep hampers and hinders you—mentally and physically.

A common cause of physical weakness and mental depression is the reaction following over-stimulation by the drug, caffeine, and other elements found in both coffee and tea.

If you have an idea that coffee or tea drinking may be injurious to your health, why not stop it for a week or so, and drink delicious, fragrant Postum instead.

Postum is a rich, golden-brown, pure cereal beverage. It contains no harmful elements of any kind. You can drink Postum as many times a day as you or the children desire a grateful, refreshing beverage.

Your grocer sells both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.
