

Locals and Personals

Born unto Mr. and Mrs. John C. Carey, October 8, a fine son.

Mrs. B. T. McDaniel is visiting in McCormick and Columbia this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Findley are spending several days in Hendersonville.

Ten pounds of sugar free at Edwards & Darsey's. See advertisement.

Misses Florence Stewart and Ella Lewis spent the week-end with Miss Louise Gravley.

Mrs. A. C. Few of Mountain View is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ella Brown, in Georgia.

Mr. O. R. Cochran, his wife and children, of Anderson were guests of Mr. Hevey Neely last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Euphre Cochran and children of the Prater's Creek section spent last Sunday with Mrs. W. A. Smith.

"Sheriff" Jennings says it is not too late to sow turnips, that the finest patch he ever raised was sowed October 10, 1907.

Mrs. E. R. Waldrop of the Wolf Creek neighborhood who has been in poor health for several months, is very much improved.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its regular meeting with Mrs. Vesta McFall on Thursday afternoon of this week at four o'clock.

Mrs. M. M. Chastain of the Oolenoy section was visiting her brother, Maj. J. M. Stewart and daughter, Miss Josie Chastain, last week.

The Keowee Pharmacy is advertising flower bulbs. They are also giving a glass bowl free to each purchaser of fifty cents worth of bulbs.

We are glad to welcome to our town Mr. Duncan and family of Greer, who occupy the house of Mrs. Florence Griffin on Main street.

Walter Hester, linotype operator for The Sentinel, has just installed a fine radio receiving set for Mr. B. P. Westside, general manager of the Easley Cotton Mills.

When the present special offer of The Sentinel two years for two dollars expires the price of the paper will be $1.50 a year and no other special offer will be made.

An unusually large crowd attended the singing at Cross Roads last Saturday and Sunday. The leaders of prominence were many. Some of them were Profs. Seaborn, Wams, Gresham and Lesley.

Mr. J. B. Holland of this place visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Holland of near Shelby, N. C., last week. Mrs. L. C. Rogers and daughter returned with him and spent several days.

Mr. John L. Thornley, who has been living in Clinton for several years, was at his old home here last week visiting his mother, Mrs. N. E. Thornley and brother, Mr. L. C. Thornley.

Communion services were held in the Baptist church last Sunday. Rev. F. T. Cox announced a protracted meeting to begin about the last of this month or the first of next. He will be assisted in these services by Rev. Mr. Granbery of Gaffney.

Edwards & Darsey's special sale of fall merchandise will continue through this week, closing Saturday night. They are offering bargains in each department. This firm has an unusually large stock of shoes and can outfit the entire family. They are also giving away ten-pound packages of sugar. Read their ad in this paper and find out about it.

Rev. J. C. Diggs is one of the best men in Pickens. He has the love and respect of all and holds a high place in the esteem of our people. He has been preaching day and night for more than a week and his words are full of wisdom and power. He had a house full of hearers Sunday night. The meetings will continue until Wednesday night.

The Pickens chapter U. D. C. will hold its next meeting with Mrs. J. P. Carey, Jr., on Friday afternoon, Oct. 13th at half after three o'clock. Each member is asked to bring a sketch of a World War soldier of Pickens county, and the roll call will be answered with names of World War soldiers of South Carolina who were decorated for bravery.

Mr. J. S. Cureton, wife and daughter, of Greenville, and Mr. John P. Cureton of Greenwood visited their brothers, Mayor C. L. Cureton and Dr. George Cureton, in Pickens last week. Mr. J. S. Cureton is general passenger agent of the P. & N. railway at Greenville, and Mr. John Cureton is connected with the Seaboard railroad. This was the latter's second visit to Pickens during thirty-six years and he says we have the finest country he ever saw.

How our hearts go out in thankfulness to our Heavenly Father, for the delightful, refreshing rain which came last Friday after the long, dry spell we had! How sweet and pure the air, and how lovely October! The beauty and grandeur of our hills is enhanced beyond description. The mountains seem to be nearer and the pretty, clear streams trickling on, bearing a glad song to the roaring river. Old Glassy mountain stands within an arm's stretch of us clad in her autumnal array of red, yellow and green. All nature is lovely at the approach of the dying year.

The M. E. conference of the Greenville District held its annual Woman's Missionary meeting last Thursday at Easley. It was called to order at ten o'clock by Mrs. M. B. Gibson, of Laurens, adjourning one hour at noon, during which time the Easley ladies served a bountiful feast of good things to eat. More than 100 ladies were present, representing most all of the societies in the district. There were several real good, instructive talks on missions and Bible study. The representatives from Pickens were Mesdames Vesta McFall, Hortense Lescaene, Rev. J. C. Diggs, R. H. Holden and Frank McFall.

The enthusiastic Girls' Auxiliary of the Baptist church had a most pleasant meeting on last Friday afternoon in the home of the counselor. Three new members were initiated by touching candles at each of the five flames held by girls who had pinned on their shoulders in large letter the words, "Prayer," "Study," "Enlistment," "Giving," "Doing." They all lifted high their lights and sang "The Light of the World is Jesus." Then the jolly G. A.'s have lots of fun when the serious part of their work is done, so they planned a Halloween party which they expect to have on the 27th since that is on Friday and the real Halloween day comes in midst of school work.

On Tuesday afternoon October 3rd, Mrs. R. R. Roark and Mrs. Weldon Christopher entertained the local D. A. R. chapter at the lovely home of Mrs. Christopher on Ann street. The program was especially interesting, being sketches of the lives of some of the distinguished sons of South Carolina. Several well-written, original papers were read. Mrs. J. H. Bruce had one on the life of Robert Mills, the very first distinguished architect of America. Mrs. S. B. Craig read one on the life of George McDuffie, America's great orator, Miss Aurie Kirksey, a fine one on Washington Alston, artist. Mrs. T. J. Mauldin read her own paper on the life of Robt. Y. Hayne. This is said to have been one of the very best meetings the D. A. R. has ever held here. Several members from Liberty were present. The hostess served delicious block cream and pound cake during the social half hour which followed the meeting.

The sixth birthday of Arthur Gravley was celebrated at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gravley, on last Thursday afternoon. Twenty-two little folks enjoyed the occasion. They had merry games out in the bright October sunshine for about an hour. Then Mrs. Gravley called them into the dining room, around two large tables and served ice cream and good old fashioned pound cake. This room was decorated in Halloween style. A grotesque pumpkin in one corner caused all to think of Halloween, and the baskets on each table carried out the color scheme of black and yellow. Delightful mints were served and souvenirs of black cats and owls were given. The children all enjoyed the games, particularly pinning on the big black cat's tail. Sue McFall was the happy girl that won the prize for this. Little Arthur will never forget his sixth birthday.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS

Every Confederate veteran in Pickens county is cordially invited to meet me at the fair Thursday, October 19th, and take dinner with me. The proverbial fatted calf, along with roasted shooat and 'possum and 'taters will be in evidence about "High Noon."

Assemble at the Craig and Jameson sales stable Easley, S. C., by ten-thirty o'clock in order that we may know how many plates to prepare. Your friend and servant. John E. Craig.
