CALOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose May Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism.

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great.

"And wasn't it?" replied the other. "Divil a bit," replied the first.

"Chorus girls in the aisles, hey? "Don't be foolish. Many of our society people come late to the theater."

TWO MEN ARE DEAD AND TWO WOUNDED

DEPUTY SHERIFF LEWIS BLEVIN IS ONE OF THE KILLED.

SHERIFF PRITCHARD ESCAPES

Clash Precipitated When Mitchell County Officers Invade Stronghold of Family.

Asheville, N. C. — Out of Bakersville, Mitchell county, at a section in the wilder part of the Blue Ridge, cut off entirely from the outside world through lack of telephone, telegraph or railroad connection, comes a story of a mountain feud which, long smoldering, reached a climax, when county officers, headed by Sheriff Clydd Pritchard invaded the stronghold of one family in search of blockade stills, at the instigation and under the direction of a member of the rival clan.

As a result, two are dead and two others seriously wounded, while four men wanted on charges ranging from simple assault to murder are at large in the wilds along the upper reaches of Big Rock creek.

Sheriff Pritchard, with a deputy, Lewis, Blevins, left Bakersville for the Big Rock creek section, where informants had told the sheriff several stills were in operation. Arriving at the home of the Hughes, two brothers, Garfield and Arthur, told Sheriff Pritchard they could bring him three stills within an hour. The sheriff agreed to wait, and a few minutes after the departure of the two Hughes, he heard shots from the direction where Deputy Sheriff Lewis Blevins had been waiting on his horse for the return of the sheriff.

Hurrying to the scene, Pritchard found Blevins dead, and the two Hughes with a man named Henry Troutman, in an automobile, Garfield Hughes, according to the sheriff handed over his pistol and said he had killed Blevins.

As the sheriff was in the act of disarming the two other occupants of the automobile, Deputy Sheriff Wheeler Melton, a relation of Blevins, in company with Will Byrd, rode up on horses. Arthur Hughes, in the act of handing his pistol to the sheriff, instead turned the gun on Melton, and shot him three times through the right side before the sheriff could interfere.

Pritchard said Melton and Byrd fled, and in the excitement Troutman escaped. Garfield and Arthur Hughes were taken to their home and placed under guard.

Navy Requirements Under Discussion. Washington.—Requirements of the navy for the coming fiscal year were discussed with President Harding by Secretary Denby and Director Lord of the budget bureau.

On his return to the navy department Mr. Denby immediately went into conference with his departmental advisers and representatives of the budget bureau, who have been handling naval estimates.

Nothing definite could be learned as to the specific points of discussion, although it is understood that estimates for certain types of construction, particularly for submarines and sub-chasers in conformity with agreements reached at the Washington arms limitation conference, which have gone over.

The item involving funds for the naval reserve also is said to have been a subject of discussion.

Navy department and budget bureau officials, it appeared, are deadlocked over certain items in the departmental estimates, which are subject to revision by the bureau before they are transmitted to congress, and it was said Secretary Denby intended to resume discussion during the next few days.
