

SIDE DRESS WITH NITRATE of SODA

For Quick and Sure Results Use Only NITRATE OF SODA
You Can't Afford to Lose Your Season's Work by Experimenting

With a late Spring and many weevils expected, a Nitrate of Soda side dressing of 100 to 200 pounds per acre is absolutely necessary to set squares before drouth or weevils can hurt them. A Nitrate of Soda side dressing insures yields and increases profits.

QUICK: To be effective a side-dresser must be quick acting. Official results obtained in this country and abroad show conclusively that only in Nitrate of Soda is the plant food 100% available immediately it is applied. It leaves no acid residue.

SURE: J. W. Gaston, a prominent farmer of Duncan, S. C., and breeder of Gaston's Cleveland, says:

"I have been using Nitrate of Soda for about twenty-five years with fine results. On cotton I have side-dressed with nitrate immediately after chopping out at the rate of 50 to 100 pounds per acre. Since the boll weevil came I have used Nitrate of Soda as my source of inorganic ammonia under my cotton to push it forward and make it early as possible.

"On corn, I put 75 to 100 pounds around the crop when knee to waist high with good results. On oats I broadcast 100 pounds per acre about March first."

Years of actual results show Nitrate of Soda the best side-dresser

Mrs. Lucretia Sanders Creech.

This aged and beloved woman who had passed her four score years (she was 82), after long illness, patiently borne, finally passed away to her heavenly crown, April 13th, 1926, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rosa Creech Sanders, in Barnwell.

She was the daughter of William Seaborn and Liety P. Sanders, being the 7th of ten children. She was born and reared seven miles south of Barnwell and near the old Mount Olivet Baptist Church. At this place she attended Sunday school in early life and while young she became a member of Mt. Olivet and so remained until her death. Her life was that of a consistent, faithful Christian and church member for about 65 years. She loved her church and had a deep affection for the people of God.

Mrs. Creech was married to Richard C. Creech, several years before the War Between the States. Her husband — always brave, true and patriotic — left her and several little children in the Autumn of 1861, and he served devotedly until the conflict ended, in April, 1865. At first, he was a member of the company of Capt. Wm. Thomas Sanders, 17th Regiment of Infantry, Ex-governor Means being the Colonel. Later on he was transferred to Lancaster's Regiment, S. C. Artillery, Co. G, of which Fred J. Sanders was the first captain. Richard C. Creech died years ago, after which time his widow, Mrs. Lucretia S. Creech, continued to live on the plantation below Mt. Olivet, and then in Barnwell. She was a devoted wife; tender loving mother; affectionate sister; true friend, and devout Christian. In going, she left a very numerous posterity — consisting of children, grand children, and great-grand children. They were all sweetly devoted to her, and they all deeply mourned her departure. But they have every possible consolation in their grief; and chiefly that of her assurance that she is with her Lord and Saviour. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." R. W. S.

Superpower for South Carolina

Power for Home and Store, Farm, Factory and Public Buildings

A long stride toward progress has been made by a combination of producers for the distribution of electric energy.

The joining of resources and facilities of the Edisto Public Service Company, (Denmark, S. C.) the Carolina Light and Power Company, (Aiken, S. C.) and the Augusta-Aiken Railway and Electric Corporation of Augusta, bring a guarantee to the residents of this community that unlimited power, at very favorable rates, will be available to do all sorts of useful work for the farmer, the housewife, the storekeeper and the manufacturer.

The output of these three corporations is drawn from the streams of our own neighborhood—Augusta alone producing 24,000 horsepower from the Savannah River. Added to this great volume are all the steam plants that the central towns, which in the past, have been the sole source of electric supply. By this modern arrangement, these steam equipments will be held in reserve, to be used as auxiliaries, to be operated only at very infrequent intervals, when repairs may be needed to the water wheels, or other branches of the service.

To anticipate future needs, and provide for the boundless commercial and agricultural activity already awakened in this section, the Augusta-Aiken Railway and Electric Corporation has recently completed a physical connection at Toccoa, Georgia, with the limitless supply of hydro power generated in the five States of Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, North and South Carolina, and distributed through the switch boards of the Georgia Railway and Power Company at Atlanta.

These are the visible—the tangible evidence of the supreme faith shown by the managements of these corporations in the business possibilities of the district in which they have spent, and are spending, hundreds of thousands of dollars to provide the most important agent—the most needed essential, for the development and prosperity of a favorable section, that needs but the work and faith of its citizens to achieve the very limits of industrial success, commercial supremacy and cultivated home life.
