The hail storm of the 21st inst. thinned out the promising peach crop in Red Oak township.

The champion Easter egg fighter of Bamberg won twelve dozen hard boiled eggs Saturday.

Mr. Jack Mitchell, of Rosemary, killed an alligator 11 feet long at Fairmount a few days ago.

Grandy and Co. began work with 20 hands Monday on Mike Brown's furniture store, and Capt. Woodward will commence the corner store this week. The brick work of Messrs. Simms and Holman's new building will be completed this week. Mr. E. W. Vogel will occupy one, if not both, the stores and five lawyers will abide up stairs.

Capt. Harold A. Simms is back from two weeks participation in the Texas army maneuvers. His Citadel training made him one of the prightest figures on the soldier line.

Mr. Angus Patterson, aged 76 years, died on the 19th inst. at the residence of his nephew, Dr. A. Bethune Patterson, after an illness of about ten days. He was a son of the Hon. Angus Patterson, who for many years was president of the State Senate, and was one of the first to enlist in the Confederate Army.

Married by Rev. C. E. Burts, D. D., on the 19th inst. at the Hotel Jerome in Columbia, Mr. M. E. Black and Miss Lou Bell Cooper.

The hail storm along Buck Creek on the 8th inst. was even more destructive than first reported. A splendid wheat field of Mr. C. E. Grimes, promising almost ready to reap a crop of 25 bushels to the acre, was so completely ruined that it has been planted in a summer crop. Other farmers have had to plant over their corn and cotton crops.

Daisy Deals Death to Billions of Insect

One Whiff Causes Nervous Breakdown and Starvation to Flies, Mosquitoes, Etc.

Strange as it may seem, a beautiful red daisy closely related to the common field daisy with its orange disc center and white petals (she loves me—she loves me not) is the deadliest enemy of house flies, mosquitoes, moths and other perennial pests. Contact with this colorful field flower instantly gives the insects a nervous breakdown (no fooling!) and within a few seconds, unable to forage for food or water, they starve to death.

"Pyrethrum," scientists call the deadly essence, which they now use as a powerful killing constituent in insect spray. And today, when flies, roaches, moths or whatnots get on the harassed housewife's nerves she goes them one better. She flies for the spray gun and gives the flies a swift and deadly case of nervous prostration.

It was a Jugo-Slavish hausfrau who accidentally discovered the insect-killing power of the pyrethrum daisy when she picked a bouquet of the bright red owers and put them on a table in the house. Later she noticed a great number of dead insects around withered bouquet. Subsequently, small European manufacturers ground the flowers into a fine powder and distributed it around the continent as a dust to be blown at insects by means of small bellows. More recently, pyrethrum daisy growing has become an agricultural industry in various countries and the Gulf Oil Corp. of Penna.-Gulf Refining Co. imports vast quantities of the death-dealing yellow dust for use in its insect sprays.

According to Dr. William A. Simanton, entomologist at Gulf's Research Laboratories the killing action of pyrethrum is very rapid, when mixed in proper quantities with an especially refined hydrocarbon carrier and sprayed as a fine mist into a room or cupboard. When the fine mist comes in contact with an insect, it penetrates into the insect's nervous system, destroying the nerve cells, causing paralysis. Within a few seconds death results from starvation. The organs and functions of insect bodies are decidedly different in many respects from those of the human body and those of animals and birds. Hence pyrethrum, so deadly to flies, mosquitoes, roaches, moths and other insects and their larvae, has no effect on human beings or their pets.

So if the dog or the cat or "the old man" gets on the housewife's nerves, the Gulf spray gun won't do much good.
