MRS. BRONSON ENTERTAINS BARNWELL CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Mrs. Jessie J. Bronson was hostess to the members of the Barnwell Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, at her home on Friday evening. The rooms were made most attractive by the use of lovely spring flowers. The meeting was presided over by the regent, Mrs. L. M. Cave. After a short devotional, reports from all officers and committees were given. The chapter went on record as favoring the work for crippled children and bought a scroll for $5.00. This chapter also purchased a scroll last year. The paper for the month was given by Mrs. G. M. Greene, her subject being "The Makers of the Constitution." The hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. A. Cave, served sandwiches, home made cookies, salted nuts and spiced tea.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON CONTRACT CLUB.

Mrs. J. P. Scoville was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Contract Club at her home on Marlboro Street. The high score prize for club members, a double deck of cards, was awarded Mrs. B. P. Davies, Sr., and the consolation prize for club members was cut by Mrs. Edgar A. Brown, who was presented with a handkerchief. The high score prize for guests, cards, was won by Mrs. Basil M. Jenkins, while the consolation prize for guests was cut by Mrs. Geo. R. Evans, who was given a handkerchief. After cards had been laid aside for the afternoon the hostess served a salad course with coffee. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Scoville's hospitality, other than club members, included Mrs. Cuthbert, Mrs. Harold K. Tinsley, of Austin, Texas, Mrs. Basil Jenkins, Mrs. Geo. R. Evans, Mrs. W. W. Carter, Mrs. Ira Fales, Mrs. B. W. Sexton, Mrs. Calhoun Lemon, Mrs. R. E. Brown and Mrs. H. J. Phillips.

JUNIOR SMART-SET BRIDGE CLUB.

The members of the Junior Smart-Set Bridge Club were entertained on Friday afternoon by Mrs. B. P. Davies, Jr., at the home of Mrs. B. P. Davies, Sr., on Main Street. The high score prize for club members, a hot roll cover, was awarded Mrs. Solomon V. Brown and the consolation prize for club members, velvety match boxes, was cut by Mrs. W. L. Molair. The high score prize for guests, a deck of cards, was won by Mrs. Geo. R. Evans and the consolation prize for guests, fingertip towels, fell to Mrs. Harold K. Tinsley, of Austin, Texas. Mrs. Tinsley was also remembered by the hostess with a handkerchief. After cards had been enjoyed for several rounds the hostess served a delicious salad course with coffee. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Davies' hospitality, other than club members were Mrs. Harold K. Tinsley, Mrs. Geo. R. Evans, Mrs. W. W. Carter, Mrs. Perry B. Bush, Mrs. Ira Fales, Mrs. B. W. Sexton, Mrs. Thos. M. Boulware and Mrs. Martin C. Best.

G. S. Murphey.

George S. Murphey, 75 years of age, one of the most widely known citizens of Augusta, died at his residence, 1323 Baker Avenue, Augusta, Thursday morning.

Death was believed to have occurred about 6 o'clock. He was discovered by a member of the family at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Murphey was born at Bethany, Jefferson County, Ga., and had lived in Augusta for 60 years. He was a retired merchant, having been for years in the wholesale business, from which he retired in 1903.

Always of active mind, he took a wide interest in public affairs. For years he was a picturesque figure at public sales, being official auctioneer for city and county.

He was a member of the old volunteer fire department and its work was always dear to his heart.

A gifted writer, he wrote many articles for the papers, and his "Nuggets of Gold," a pamphlet of reminiscences, dealt intimately with the Augusta he knew when the machine age was creeping upon the simple life of the agricultural South.

He was one of the men who founded more than 30 years ago the Henry Bible Class at St. John Methodist church. For years he had been a member of the church, was first an active and then an honorary member of the board of stewards.

The Murpheys came of old colonial stock that joined with Scotch-Irish vigor in the rebellion against royal rule.

He was a descendant of Geo. W. Crawford, great Georgian of the early 18th century, whose health prevented his becoming president of the United States.

The vigor of his ancestors was carried on to the very last in the life of the widely known Augustan. He rebelled with vigor against injustices, both public and private. His tolerance and humor kept him personal friends with any whom he engaged in academic disputes.

He was the husband of the late Mrs. Mabel B. Murphey.

Survivors are one son, Lt.-Col. G. Derry Murphey, of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, one brother, E. M. Murphey, of Atlanta, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Henry C. Wingo, of Kline, and Miss Nina Murphey, of Galveston, Texas.

Grow more Corn

EXPERIMENTS and practical field tests have shown that potash will increase the yields of corn enough to make good profits after paying for the cost of the potash. In addition to increasing the yields, potash fills out the ears and reduces firing, root rot, and lodging. Dr. H. P. Cooper, Director of the South Carolina Experiment Station, says that much of the potentially good corn land in the eastern part of South Carolina has become so deficient in potash that corn is often almost a complete failure. Increase your corn yields this year by top-dressing with 100-200 pounds per acre of a nitrogen-potash fertilizer. Consult your county agent or experiment station about the plant-food requirements of your soils. See your fertilizer dealer or manufacturer regarding fertilizers high in potash. You will be surprised how little it costs to use more potash. Write us for further information and literature.
