Country Club Dance.

The regular dance was held at the Sweetwater Country Club on Saturday evening. These dances have become quite popular with the members and their friends and quite a large crowd was present for the Saturday evening affair. The next one will be held in the near future.

Sidewalks on Washington Street

Work on the paving of sidewalks on Washington Street will get underway as soon as the property owners on that street sign up a form giving the State Highway Department permission to move any fences which may be on the right of way, according to a statement made by J. P. Scoville, resident engineer.

This street, which was surface treated about 18 months ago, has become one of the leading thoroughfares in Barnwell since that time and carries quite a bit of traffic. The sidewalks are in a rather run-down condition, thereby forcing pedestrians using the sidewalks to use the street, particularly at night. This has greatly endangered the safety of the persons walking and in response to a petition signed by the property owners, the highway department has agreed to pave the walks.

LEMPESSIS-HALEY MARRIAGE.

The marriage of Miss Katherine N. Lempesis, of Charleston, and Thomas S. Haley, of Barnwell, was solemnized at the Greek Orthodox Church in Charleston, at five o'clock Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Priest Dennis, of Savannah, Ga. The bride wore a bridal gown of white satin with high neck and long puffed sleeves with a long train. She wore a wreath around her hair, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Constance Lempesis, sister of the bride, carried a bouquet of asters as did the bride's maid, Miss Julia Lempesis, cousin of the bride.

The best man was W. T. Davis, of Charleston and the groomsmen were Gusta Russo and John Lempesis. The ushers were T. N. Lempesis, brother of the bride, and Pete W. Lempesis, cousin of the bride.

For flower girls, little Miss N. Russo and Miss A. R. Russo served. The ring bearer was Happy Lempesis, brother of the bride, and the halo bearer was W. N. Lempesis, also a brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a cream lace dress and had a corsage of pink roses, while the bride's aunt wore a cream dress trimmed in tan and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Lempesis, of Charleston, and received her education in the public schools of that city.

The groom is the manager of the Hotel Barnwell and Coffee Shop, where the couple will make their future home.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the relatives, friends and out-of-town guests. The bridal dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lempesis.

EXTRA SPECIAL!!

Subscription Price of The People-Sentinel Reduced to $1.00 a Year (for a limited time only)

The publisher of The People-Sentinel takes pleasure in announcing that (for a limited time only) the subscription price of The People-Sentinel has been reduced to only $1.00 a year. This reduction is being made in the face of rising costs of publication and in spite of the fact that the size of the paper has been increased from six to seven columns per page, the larger size giving our readers eight more columns of reading matter each week, or a total of more than 400 columns during the year.

Effective immediately (and subject to withdrawal at any time) the new subscription rates will be as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Rate and Amount. One Year $1.00, Six Months .75, Three Months .50 (STRICTLY CASH.)

These rates will apply to both old and new subscriptions, but none will be accepted for more than two years in advance. Delinquent dues will also be accepted at the $1.00 a year rate, and at this new low price there is no reason whatever for any subscriber to remain in arrears. In fact, we cannot continue to send the paper to those who fail or refuse to co-operate with us in this all important matter, and, after a reasonable length of time, delinquents will be dropped from our mailing list. At the same time, we hope to increase our circulation by offering a larger and better paper at a reduction of 33 1-3 per cent. Sample copies are being sent this week to a number of prospective subscribers and it is hoped that they will take advantage of this special offer and send us $1.00 right away for a full year's subscription.

Friends who felt that they could not afford to pay $1.50 a year—and have been "borrowing" a neighbor's copy of the paper—can now have it mailed direct to their address each week for less than the cost of a two-cent stamp.

REMEMBER: This offer is subject to withdrawal at any time, so act PROMPTLY.
