

The People.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1884.

Local, all prices of the day.

The Sheriff will call no real property next Saturday.

The season for shooting deer will expire February the 1st.

I will have notes at Mrs. Molair's.

Capt. C. E. Pease had a family lots for Orlando, Florida, on Tuesday.

Gen. F. M. Beaman sold eight acres of his and makes on Saturday.

The man who stole our overcoat will please accept our thanks for sparing our umbrella.

Cheapest prices in the country at Mrs. Molair's.

It is no longer cost or effort to kiss the bride at the wedding. Take it out on the bride-side.

The kitchen garden must not be forgotten—rain or shine—Prepare your hot beds for tender plants.

Hanckel's, mourning and in colors, Mrs. Molair's.

It is certain that the old crop which will not be a failure this year. The new crop is certainly safe.

Mr. William Dicks has been appointed postmaster at Greenville, vice George H. Bates, Esq., resigned.

Fichus and Embroideries at Mrs. Molair's.

Jesse Dunn left for Kentucky last Thursday, but "the girl he left behind" says she is not yet down with him.

This is Lap Year, g狂. Make the old bachelors marry or leave the world and climb a sapling."

Ladies and children's collars and collar-ets at Mrs. Molair's.

Dr. J. Myers in Smith will be at Mrs. A. L. Walker's, to-day at 12 o'clock, prepared to meet his Barnwell engagements.

It is understood that the girls have adopted the following as their motto: "We always appoint our church committees. We've been there."

The Jury Commissioner and his assistants commenced on Monday and completed on yesterday the preparation of the jury lists for this year.

Mr. J. L. Ellis, an energetic young gentleman from the Lower Luis, has removed to Atlanta, where he will go into business.

We learn that T. G. Robinson has executed his bond for the Bamberg postmaster. Dr. Webster of Gratzburg is one of his sureties.

Mr. J. E. Estirling, so well and popularly known, is now traveling for the old and reliable use of Henry Black & Co.

"Who would be without women?"

not a writer, it's hard to determine which way the majority would drift, but a man would account of debt and out of trouble, and a good many others would be out at the felloes.

The young ladies are having it all their own way now; but just wait till they "pop the question" and are safely landed on the matrimonial shore—then they will learn a new lesson and sing a new song.

MARRIED, on the 16th inst., at the residence of the bride's parents, in Red Oak Township, by the Rev. F. J. Sanders, Mr. P. G. Britton, of Sumter, and Miss Rosa, daughter of Mr. James Lutz.

Mrs. W. J. Mixon will remove the post office to the building on the south side of the street opposite the People's Club.

Cannabis and cabbage growers should commence soon. The former should plant early and the latter prepare hot beds. Five dollars cash will secure candidates front seats in our picture gallery.

At the municipal election in Allendale on the 14th inst., the following ticket was elected without opposition:—Ivan and L. L. Tolson, Esq.; W. W. Wren, Mayor; L. W. Wren, W. H. Hiles, F. H. Green and Ben Myers, councilors.

The backbone of winter is broken. We have this upon the authority of several well known here. Therefore can be depended upon. Now is the time to lay in a new stock of fire wood and overcoats.

A subscriber asks us for advice. We respectfully refer him to his brother half, who is better acquainted with him and far more willing and competent to advise him than we are. He fails to satisfy them with his advice.

He was sentimental and she was sensible, and both were on the wands—gazing at the comet. He sighed like a furnace and said: "To me this world is so desolate; no one loves me." And she, like an angel of mercy, replied in soft-like tones: "You are mistaken; God loves you—and loves all his creatures." We went home before ten.

Gov. Haigood's Saluda stock farm has been conducted on business principles and is a pronounced success. Five hundred head of stock are kept all the year round and in a few years only two have been killed by dogs and none have been stolen. A shepherd and his well-trained dog bring up all the animals at night and pan them in secure and comfortable quarters.

Better to court a girl for her money.

Than to marry a gold-digging wife;

Better to eat your bread without honey;

Than to have diamonds through life;

Better to live a life of poverty;

Than to be carried round in a hack;

Better to keep your wife out of society;

Than to owe her a sixpenny sack.

For the information of any of our readers who contemplate raising crops we will state that the next distribution of German corn in our State will be made next November and December. All applications must be made in the name of the persons wishing the corn. In no case will more than twenty bushels be sent for one pound. Blanks for making applications may be secured by addressing Col. A. P. Butler, Columbia, S.C.

G. W. M. Williams, Esq., of this county, has been tendered the directorship for a railroad Company which will require the establishment of offices and yards near Atlanta, Ga. The Company offers him a guarantee of five thousand dollars a year as counsel for the Company. He has declined the offer unless they will make it a guarantee for five years at least. If the Company secures his services we are sure that they will be most productive, for, to great mental ability Mr. Williams adds tireless energy and spotless integrity. He will be well deserved upon him.

FOR THE CHILDREN'S GARDEN.—Joseph Harris, Rochester, N.Y., offers to send seeds to the children at 25 per cent less than catalogue rates. His seeds are the very best. We have used them and can recommend them. Catalogue for 1884 free. Send for it.

On and after February, 1884, the subscriber will transact his law business during Mondays Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week at the office of G. Duncan Bellinger, Esq., Master in Equity, and on the remaining days of the week at his office in Williston. Letters addressed to him will find him at either place on the days appointed.

H. M. THOMPSON,
Attorney at Law.

OUT F. PIRATE.—In the list above, a young gentleman of this place provided himself with a quart of the popular antidote for snake bites. On the 1st instant he turned over a new leaf and swore off. On the 9th instant he concluded that he might be bitten again next summer, and as an ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure, concluded to take time by the forelock and prevent. A legal friend was invited to join him in so doing and they started off to "smile" together, but, alas! a practical prohibition had captured the physician and the law remained a dry study.

ANGEL'S VISITS.—Four of the loveliest and the best, the sweetest and the prettiest young ladies that ever graced an editor's sarcum, or made glad the heart of a lonely bachelor, visited the Press and Lawyer office last week—but our absence at the time will be a source of life-long regret—Abbeville Press and Banner.

Can't fool me. You saw me coming and I'll see you at the back door. Ought to be ashamed of yourself, so you had—Edge-Hall Monitor.

Under the circumstances we don't blame poor Wm. A. According to our experience the prettiest girls in the congregation are always appointed on church committees. We've been there.

CABBAGE.—There is money in cabbage—A few years ago large quantities were imported from Germany to New York. And now good cabbage are very scarce and high, selling in our market at 25 cents a head. It is an easy matter to grow 500 good winter cabbages on an acre with little more labor than it requires to grow an acre of potatoes. The greatest point is to get good varieties suited to head. Joseph Harris, Rochester, N.Y., a large farmer and seed-grower, in his catalogues for 1884 tells all about cabbage and offers the best of seed at very low rates. Drop him a card and he will send you his catalogue free.

Brother Holmes, of the Barnwell People, is so awfully bashful that it would be a mark of courtesy on the part of some young lady, who proposes to live up to her leap year privileges, to coquettish. If anything like this isn't done we are very much afraid that he is destined to go to his grave an incorrigible old bachelor.—Times and Democrat.

You are right, Brother Sims; you always are. We thank you for your offering aid and hope to see the "power of the press" exalted in the fulfillment of your wish. As one good turn deserves another, we pray that a widow may die before you before the leap year dies.

STATE NEWS.

Columbia has 44 barrooms.

The State is now paying the Railroad Commissioners to do nothing but hold their offices.—Abbeville Monitor.

The railroad agent at Fort Moore mysteriously disappeared from his position about a week ago, since which time no ring has been heard of him.

M. J. Giese is acting to his stead.

Mr. George Davis, of the firm of Davis & Moore, died at his residence, No. 14 Rutledge street, Charleston, Thursday morning, at the age of sixty years.

NOTICE.

OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Barnwell, C. H., S. C., Jan. 8, 1884.

Notes is hereby given that on and after the 30th day of this month no rations will be served or furnished prisoners outside of the Poor House, unless by special order of the Board, and all merchants throughout the county are hereby notified to furnish no rations to paupers after that date unless by special written order of the Board.

There is an association of bachelors in Marion. They met the other day and passed resolutions censoring the Hon. T. C. Moody, who was recently married, for breaking away from the Board.

Subject to exception when circumstances call for it in the opinion of the Board, no application will be received unless accompanied by the written recommendation of twelve respectable citizens of the county, who live in the neighborhood of the applicant, setting forth his fitness in relation to the capacity and necessities of the applicant, and also the certificate of a practicing physician of the county as to the physical qualifications of the applicant to work for his or her living in whole or in part.

By order of the Board.

NOTICE.

ABBEVILLE MEDICAL: Last Thursday week a most inhuman crime was attempted just below McCormick, on the Augusta and Knoxville railroad. As the engineer of one of the down trains was running along at full speed about three miles from McCormick he discovered a child on the track. He did all in his power to stop the train, and succeeded in doing so just as the engine reached the child. Then it was discovered that the child, a white boy about four years old, had been tied hand and foot to the iron rails, so that a horrible death was sure. The railroad men unbundled the little fellow and took him up to Augusta. There is some suspicion as to the parties who attempted this diabolical crime. If discovered they should be burned.
