The Most Magnificent Array of Fine Goods

For Ladies and Gentlemen shown in Gaffney this Season.

MILLINERY.

We are pleased to announce that Miss McKnight will preside over this department, which has received special attention at her hands. With two weeks in the market she has selected with extraordinary taste, every item which goes to make a pretty Hat or bonnet, and has got all the advanced ideas in the construction of same. A visit and an inspection of this department is cordially invited.

DRESS GOODS.

The Grandest Display of Fine Dress Goods in the City.

These goods were selected with great care and embrace all the newest effects of the season. The trimmings also are natty and up to date, and every lady knows that nice trimmings are requisite to a nice dress.

WRAPS.

This department is complete in every respect. It embraces Cloaks, Capes and Wraps of all styles and shades. The prices, too, are just right, and while our Cloaks are made to fit anyone our prices also are made to fit the times. The beauty of Style, Finish and Shade are not surpassed by the beauty of prices in this department. Call and examine this line and secure the best of bargains.

CLOTHING.

Our magnificent line of Fall and Winter Clothing is one of the most extensive ever brought to this section and embraces all the latest styles and novelties. Suits from $2.98 to $20.00. These $20.00 suits will suit the taste of the most fastidious while the lower price goods are exceedingly good values.

Our fall line of Gents' Furnishing Goods embraces all the latest styles in Neckwear, etc. You can dress nice if you buy of us.

"ADVERTISING DO PAY."

SO SAYS GENIAL ARTHUR PRIDMORE.

A Little Want Ad That Drew a Number of Answers Which Greatly Astonished the Corner Groceryman.

"Wanted--A woman--Apply at a certain corner grocery."

The above appeared in THE LEDGER last week. That it was effective and demonstrated the value of advertising in THE LEDGER, our genial friend, the corner groceryman, will attest. For a long while Arthur had been saying he was going to advertise for a woman, so in order to have the gag on him THE LEDGER inserted it. Behold the astonishment of a crowd of ladies and gentlemen when they observed on Friday morning a group of seven pretty maidens as they wended their way in grotesque costumes to the corner grocery. The sight would have made a horse laugh. Of all the tacky rigs in the universe we verily believe those girls had the tackiest. And each one carried a recommendation. Some carried valises in which they said were their clothes. One had a budget in a cloth on a stick; another had a small trunk, etc., etc. Arthur was dumb-founded. For once in his life he was backed. The crowd laughed and yelled and some of the loafers nearly got down on the floor and rolled over. For several minutes the corner groceryman lost his speech and when he did finally recover it enough to say that the treats were on him he was knocked almost senseless by the witty reply of one of the young ladies that "they hadn't come for drinks, but wanted a man." The house came very near tumbling down. After jerring him as long as they wanted to they filed out a sad and disappointed lot for that was one ad in THE LEDGER that was not genuine.

The recommendations were signed by Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Cleveland and numerous other ladies now prominent before the American public. The following are the recommendations:

This is to certify that Bridget O'Brien ain't much of a cook, but she can sew on a button and fill a coat sleeve, and answers all matrimonial advertisements.

This is to certify that Amanda Black has been known in this country for years. She is a splendid cook, wants to marry and will do well if she has a chance.

This is to certify that Sylvia Green has conducted herself well, is a moderately good cook, wants to marry and will make a dandy wife.

This is to certify that Miss Susan Spunks is does very well in size and is willing to learn. She's good on a "tater" custard, and wants to marry.

This is to certify that Malindy Marthy Simpson is sprightly and nimble, but sorter weak in mind. She is married but wouldn't mind to marry again if she has a chance.

This is to certify that Nancy Jane Gate is of sound mind, has a very good disposition and cooks just tolerable well. She is right good looking and will marry if she can. She stayed with Mrs. Bryan two years.

This is to certify that sister McGennis is of a good character and a tolerable good cook and a moderate good mind. She can sew, cook and and wants to marry.

Mr. Pridmore will not advertise for any more women soon.
The New Railway From Blacksburg Assured.

Some time ago the O. R. & C. Railway Company proposed to the citizens of this city to build a branch of this road from Blacksburg to Gaffney on certain conditions. The conditions were that the citizens of Gaffney obligate themselves to pay the O. R. & C. company a certain amount when the road was completed to Gaffney. It was a liberal proposition and our people accepted it, and have this week filed a bond with N. W. Hardin, Esq., attorney for said road for the full amount asked. The bond was signed by our business men, and the same names signed to the bond would be good for a hundred times the amount.

J. G. GALLOWAY & SON, GAFFNEY, S. C.

We have now in stock the largest and most varied line of Cook Stoves and Ranges we have ever been able to show at one time.

We can sell you a small, light weight, poorly mounted stove for a little more than nothing, and hardly worth that; or we can sell you a medium grade Stove at a medium price, but when it comes to a good Stove at a fair price you save money, for we guarantee every one of them to cook and bake right or you get your money back. You stand no chance to lose anything.

The above illustration represents but one of the styles we handle in several sizes and is guaranteed in every way. If this kind don't suit you we have others in almost endless variety and styles, and will take pleasure in showing you through our new Sample Room, for we believe we can suit you both in quality and price.
