GENERAL CONGLOMERATION

OF NEWS ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Some Short, Some Shorter and All Too-Short for a Heading, Yet None Too Short to Mention.

Rev. B. P. Robertson will preach at Providence church next Sunday at his regular hour.

There was one man who lives in town that got so full of new county Tuesday night that he did not know his own house. He took one of the Cherokee Braves home with him and said he would have to see the wood pile and wash pan before he could recognize it.

At this writing the voting is going on rapidly for the New County movement. The greatest enthusiasm is shown by merchants, citizens of the town and country. All other business is virtually suspended. Stores and banks are all closed while voters cast their votes.

The band wishes to add a number of new instruments to make it more complete. With this end in view a member of the band will wait upon the citizens for contributions. Don't be snappish and niggardly when he calls. We've got a good band and the boys should be encouraged.

Some one exchanged overcoats with W. O. Lipscomb at Lipscombs hotel one night last week. Mr Lipscomb would like for the party to return his coat. He can identify it from the fact that there were a pair of undressed kid gloves in the pocket and a paper with Mr Lipscomb's name written on it.

Interest has been revived in the boundary line between Greenville and Spartanburg. Two distinct lines were run. Which shall it be? Expert Hodgkins, of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, is now in Spartanburg with the view of determining the true line. Valuable interests are in the disputed strip, among them the town of Greers and the Pelham factory.

THE LEDGER was shown Monday, an old single barrel pistol, a muzzle loader, made by Mr. John Black, who was raised in York county, and made by hand complete—lock, stock and barrel, by Mr. Black in 1861. The father of J. A. Settle turned off the end of the barrel. The "grip" is formed of horn, nicely joined to the lock and barrel. The pistol is of extreme antique appearance, and resembles the old-fashioned duelling pistol of the period before the war. It is 13 inches long and of heavy calibre and rifled. It is a formidable weapon. It was brought to town by Mr. R. G. Black.

It is often a mystery how a cold has been "caught." The fact is, however, that when the blood is poor and the system depressed, one becomes peculiarly liable to diseases. When the appetite or the strength fails, Ayer's Sarsaparilla should be taken without delay.

We call your attention to the advertisement of the store of the Gaffney Manufacturing Company in this issue. They take occasion to improve the opportunity at hand and talk of advancement and progress in a patriotic manner.

PERSONALS.

People You Know and People You Don't Know.

Misses Kate Garrett and Cora Dilling, two of the handsomest young ladies of Kings Mountain, are visiting Mrs. J. F. Garrett. They will leave today for their respective homes.

Mr. D. A. Thomas shows his cheery face again, after a spell of la grippe. Tillman had not power enough to draw him out, but when the time arrived for casting his vote in favor of the New County no power could keep him from the polls. His heart has been in the movement from first to last.

Prof. Mack and Rev. B. P. Robertson have returned from the Baptist State Convention, recently held in Charleston. They report an excellent meeting in the old city. Charleston showed them unbounded hospitality, but at first the skies were threatening and the wind uninviting. We notice with pleasure that Rev. B. P. Robertson was made chairman of the Committee on Sunday Schools.

Lloyd Torrence of Charlotte was in the city few days ago.

H. Fay Gaffney left Monday for Charleston, S. C., where he goes as a representative to the Grand Lodge of Masons, which met on Tuesday. His wife accompanies him, and they will go from there to Jacksonville, Fla., on a week's visit of pleasure and recreation.

—Dont forget the talking machine entertainment at Masonic Hall, Gaffney, Monday night Dec. 14 Admission, 10 cts. Everybody come. You will be delighted.
