

THE FUNERAL

Of the Hon. Preston S. Brooks took place this morning.

At one o'clock, the Committee of Arrangements, pall bearers and mourners, attended at Brown's Hotel, and the corpse was removed, in charge of the Committee of Arrangements attended by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, where divine service was read.

The funeral then moved from the House to the Congressional Chapel, in the following order: Mourners of both Houses of Congress.

Those who attended the deceased. COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS. Hon. McQueen, Mr. T. S. Boscok, Hon. DeWitt, Mr. W. H. Sneed, John Wheeler, Mr. J. F. Dowdell, Daniel Mace, Mr. J. W. Denver, J. C. Allen.

PALL BEARERS.

H. A. Edmundson, Mr. J. G. Jones, Alex. H. Stephens, Mr. W. W. Valk, A. K. Marshall, Mr. A. Rust, B. B. Thurston, Mr. J. S. Harrison. The family and friends of the deceased. The Senators and Representatives from the State of South Carolina as mourners. The Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives.

The House of Representatives of the United States, preceded by their Speaker and Clerk.

The other officers of the House of Representatives.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. The Senate, preceded by their President and Secretary.

The other officers of the Senate. The President of the United States.

The Heads of Departments. Chief Justice and Associate Justices of Supreme Court of United States and its officers.

The Judiciary of the District of Columbia. The Diplomatic Corps.

The Comptrollers, Auditors, and other Heads of Bureaus of the several Departments of Government with their officers.

Officers of the Army and Navy at the seat of Government.

The Mayor of Washington. The Boards of Aldermen and Common Council.

Citizens and Strangers. Washington Star, January 29.

GIDDINGS.—We find the following account of the fainting fit of Mr. Giddings in the House of Representatives on the 17th instant, in relation to which we published a brief paragraph. He was discussing a point relative to the Court of Claims. He had been a friend to the Court, but still he considered the Judges fallible. "I am myself fallible," he said, and fell backwards in his chair, being seized with atrophy of the heart. The members and spectators at once were thrown into the highest state of alarm, the Speaker and numerous representatives crying out to those who pressed around him to stand back and give him air. Amid the excitement, an adjournment ensued. Mr. Giddings was removed to the lobby, where he was attended by several members who are physicians. It was some minutes before he could be restored to consciousness. He evidently suffered intensely, and was carried to a sofa in the Speaker's room, and several city physicians summoned to attend him, and every attention bestowed upon him. Mr. Giddings was removed from the capitol to his lodgings this evening. The prospects of his recovery are improving. His attack is much more severe than a former similar one.—Carolina Times.

MR. SUMNER.—In the Massachusetts House of Representatives, on Friday last, a communication was read from Charles Sumner, accepting the office of United States Senator to which he had been recently elected, though the letter did not indicate at what time he should take his seat. In accepting the duties of the office, he says among other things: "Alike by sympathy with the slave, and by a determination to free ourselves from the wretched thralldom, we are also summoned to the effort now organized for the emancipation of the National Government from the degrading influence. Hostile to civilization wherever it shows itself, even at a distance it is brutal and mean, and constitutes an unnatural tyranny calculated to arouse the generous indignation of good men. Of course no person who is not ready to say in his heart that there is no God, can doubt the result; but this result, like every great good, can be accomplished only by well directed effort." The Providence Journal says that many of Sumner's friends have advised him to resign his seat for the remainder of the present term, "and seek, in perfect retirement, the means of restoration." Whether he will follow the advice remains to be learned. On Saturday last, in the Senate of the United States, the credentials of Mr. Sumner, as Senator for six years from the 4th of March next, were presented.—Carolina Times.

THE ORCHARD.—Plant out, immediately, all the finest varieties of Apples, Peaches, Plums, Apricots, Nectarines, Quinces, Pomegranates, Figs, Grapes, &c., giving the preference in all cases, in trees and vines raised in the South. One tree set out now, is worth three set out a month hence. Orchards that have been allowed to grow up grass and broomsedge during the fall and summer, should be cross ploughed between the rows, leaving a space as far as the branches extend to be stirred up with a grubbing hoe. Be careful not to injure the roots by this working—dig in some well rotted manure (muck, lime and ash, &c.) cut away all suckers, and leave a space around the tree open and mellow. As soon as warm weather approaches, this space may be mulched with saw-dust, pine straw, forest leaves, long manure, or any substance that will retain moisture.

If your peach trees are suffering from the borer, now is a good time to apply scalding water. Bearing trees will require but little pruning, only take out the limbs which are crowded or rubbing each in order to give trees should now be pruned, other. Young trees a proper shape.

TEN YEARS IN JAIL FOR DEBT.—we copy the following from the Warrenton (Va) Whig: "An old man named Gregg, who has been confined in Fauquier county jail since the 1st of October 1846, for debt under the old law, was released on Christmas day by Jailor Cross, there being nothing left in the hands of the law to pay his jail expenses. We learn that this man had property enough to pay the debt against him, but that he preferred spending his weary hours within the gloomy walls of the county prison to paying the debt which he owed. The person who had him confined has been dead some years, but we learn that a provision in his will appropriating a sufficient amount to keep him in limbo as long as he lived. Some how or other this stipulation has given out; and of course Gregg becomes free again. When he left the jail door he appeared to be perfectly bewildered, and did not know which way to travel, but in a short time he became fully conscious of his freedom, and strutted about with the air of one who knew what liberty used to be in 'by-gone days.'

We find the above in an exchange. Imprisonment for debt is a relic of barbarism that is unworthy the age we live in. We regard its abolishment by every State in the Union as a blessing and an honor to humanity.

LATER FROM NICARAGUA.—The steamer Greytown has arrived at Aspinwall, from Greytown, with dates to the 18th ult. She brought thirty-five of Walker's men. They were transferred from the Granada and left immediately for Greytown, to convey the Fillibusters brought by the Texas and Adger to New Orleans.

Walker had evacuated Rivas and was at St. George, surrounded by the Allies. He and his followers are expected hourly to surrender. It is reported that the steamer Sierra Nevada had been captured by the Costa Ricans. The St. Mary's was going into Punta Arena immediately. Mercury.

STILL LATER CONCERNING THE DEATH OF MR. BROOKS.—WASHINGTON, January 28. The death of Mr. Brooks has produced a deep sensation in this city. He had recently been suffering with a cold, chilliness and sore throat, which finally terminated in laryngitis. A skillful surgeon could have relieved him by an external operation.

The South Carolina delegation have just held a meeting and agreed that the death shall be officially announced in Congress tomorrow, and that the body be deposited in Congress vault until his constituents send a committee, or a committee of the delegation be appointed to convey it to his last home.

The House adjourned this morning immediately after the reading of the journal.

FUNERAL OF MR. BROOKS, WASHINGTON, January 29.—Eulogies on Mr. Brooks were delivered in Congress to-day. His funeral was largely attended, and the body was deposited in the Congressional Cemetery. It will soon be removed home.—South Carolina.

CHALLENGER ACCEPTED.—The following is from the Laurensville Herald, of the 28d inst. "LAURENS C. H., S. C., Jan. 6th 1857. To Col. J. H. Lane: Having seen your challenge to Col. A. W. Doniphan, and Col. A. H. Boone, of Missouri, to settle the vexed question of Kansas, and save her from further outrage, and being one of those engaged in the recent troubles in that Territory, I accept your proposition, and will meet you upon the plains of Kansas, upon the terms and under the conditions mentioned by you. "Now, lay on Mac-Duff, and dashed he who first cries hold, enough." Yours, "A. C. JONES, of South Carolina."

ASSASSINATION.—News has been received by the Atlantic, from Liverpool, that the Archbishop of Paris has been assassinated. The circumstances of the bloody deed were as follows: While Archbishop White was officiating in the church of St. Stephen, in Paris he was stabbed to the heart by a discharged priest, named Verpe. The Archbishop instantly expired. This affair caused much excitement.—Examiner.

THE WEATHER.—After the coldest season our citizens have ever felt, we have had a damp, chilly and disagreeable time for a few days, but now the sun shines out cheerfully, and we are enjoying a comparatively pleasant season.

COURT OF EQUITY.—This Court begins its session for this District to-day. Chancellor Dungan is expected to preside. It has been two years since the Court of Equity has been in session here.

RETURN WEEK.—Next week is "return week" for this District. It happens that return day is on the 14th, and so the lawyers may have an opportunity of sending out their Valentines.

CHERAW AND COAL FIELDS ROAD.—We learn that the bill to charter this road has passed both houses of the legislature of North Carolina.

DEATH OF ALEXANDER SPARKS.—We regret to learn that Mr. Alexander Sparks, a highly respectable and wealthy planter of Darlington District, died at his residence at Society Hill, on Thursday night last.

OUR THANKS.—Are hereby tendered to the Hon. John McQueen for valuable public documents.

THE RIVER.—The news spell that we have had for the last few days, together with the rain, caused the river to rise on Sunday last, so much that it was out of its banks, it is falling at the present time.

DEATH OF HON. P. S. BROOKS.—The Washington Evening Star says: Instantly after the sad event took place it was known over the city, and the halls of the hotel were crowded with inquiring and sorrow stricken citizens and strangers. We never before know such an event to give rise to such wide spread real grief as was manifested in this community on that occasion. No man ever in Congress has been more universally and sincerely beloved here, for no other has been endowed with a nobler nature or more lovable traits of character; The heart-felt grief manifested last night by so many men of all parties of high intelligence, all of whom knew him well personally, affixes the stamp of falsehood to the partisan slanders concerning him, with which so large a portion of the Northern press has teemed, for political effect, for a year past. If ever a death touched the heart of this community—of all classes and parties congregated in the Federal metropolis—it is in this case. That of Preston S. Brooks is mourned, mourned, mourned.

"FLOWERS THAT ADORNED THE DEAD." J. B. EZELL, Esq., agent of the Adams' Express Company, received yesterday evening through the hands of Mr. W. W. Brooks, special messenger, a basket of the Wreaths and Flowers (that were placed by the friends of the late Hon. P. S. Brooks upon his bosom), to be borne to his family as a memento of their kind offices in adorning the body of their beloved friend. They will be forwarded this morning, almost fresh, from the brow of one of Carolina's noblest and most beloved sons? Peace to his ashes.

CHERAW, S. C. Tuesday February 3, 1857.

Death of Hon. Preston S. Brooks.—The melancholy intelligence of the death of this distinguished patriot has ever this been borne upon the lightning's wing to the remotest section of our country. He had been suffering for several days from an affection of the throat which resulted in enlargement of the Larynx and Croup, and terminated in his death on Tuesday, 27th January, at 7 o'clock P. M.

Thus, in the very opening of his career of usefulness, has one of the most faithful and devoted champions of the South been stricken down. Death found him at the post of duty, with his armor on.

South Carolina mourns her son, but mourns not alone. Wherever there are hearts to sympathize with insulted justice, and souls to appreciate the great principles of Truth and Equity, the gallant Brooks will find hosts of friends to weep over his untimely end. From the broad Potomac to the Neusee one universal voice of lamentation will proclaim how well he was beloved, how much he is deplored.

No man has done more than Mr. Brooks to unite the South. His gentlemanly deportment, his efforts to conciliate discordant parties at the South, his open, manly and decided course in political life, and his bold and timely defence of his Constituents, and their dearest rights have had no small share in producing that harmony of feeling and action which now happily exists in a greater degree than ever before. Such has been his deportment that even "his enemies praise him." But alas! just when there was promise of great usefulness, "The spoiler came, and all his promise fair, Has sought the grave, to sleep forever there!"

He will not soon be forgotten. No! not all his countrymen cease to be patriotic, and the vilest ingratiate shall take the place of virtue. Not while Carolina mothers retain their places by the cradles of their infants and instill into their young minds the lessons which shall guide them in manhood.

The Weather.—After the coldest season our citizens have ever felt, we have had a damp, chilly and disagreeable time for a few days, but now the sun shines out cheerfully, and we are enjoying a comparatively pleasant season.

COURT OF EQUITY.—This Court begins its session for this District to-day. Chancellor Dungan is expected to preside. It has been two years since the Court of Equity has been in session here.

RETURN WEEK.—Next week is "return week" for this District. It happens that return day is on the 14th, and so the lawyers may have an opportunity of sending out their Valentines.

CHERAW AND COAL FIELDS ROAD.—We learn that the bill to charter this road has passed both houses of the legislature of North Carolina.

DEATH OF ALEXANDER SPARKS.—We regret to learn that Mr. Alexander Sparks, a highly respectable and wealthy planter of Darlington District, died at his residence at Society Hill, on Thursday night last.

OUR THANKS.—Are hereby tendered to the Hon. John McQueen for valuable public documents.

THE RIVER.—The news spell that we have had for the last few days, together with the rain, caused the river to rise on Sunday last, so much that it was out of its banks, it is falling at the present time.

To the Ladies.—We have a proposition to make to you. Don't be alarmed, it's not such an one as will require a reference to "Ma," we are not Mormons, neither are we exactly in the humor for such a solemn ceremony as that would imply. Our object is simply to propose—there it is again!—to suggest then, that you give up Godey, Graham, Peterson, The Saturday Evening Post, Courier &c., and supply their places with the Southern Literary Messenger, Southern Quarterly Review, "Russell's Magazine" and "The Examiner." You have always been more patriotic than the men, more averse to Northern bondage, and more zealous for Southern rights. Now if you would do something to cripple the power of the North, you must strike at its press, and if you would add to that of the South, sustain and encourage the efforts of those who are seeking to elevate the press of the South, and to supply the reading community with the emanations of Southern intellect. You may suppose that publications like those we desire you to discontinue have no weight in the great contest which is going on between the two sections, but this is a mistake. Yankee ingenuity has adopted this very method of undermining our institutions. Just where you would least expect to find a systematic attack upon our section, just there it may be looked for. One would suppose that school books at least would be free from this objection, but as you all know, they are the avenues through which the most disgusting slanders are poured upon us. But though their magazines and journals should be silent upon the question of slavery, their proprietors are growing rich as Croesus upon Southern patronage, and expending their wealth in the unholy crusade against us, either directly or indirectly. In addition to this, they stand in the way of those Southern publications which are struggling for an existence around us, for as long as you patronize them, you have or think you have a reason for not patronizing our own magazines &c., You "can't afford to take both."

Now you may say the "Southern Quarterly" and "Russell's Magazine," are not of the kind you like to read; you prefer something of a lighter character. Exactly for that reason we recommend them. You ought to like a little substantial food; and you ought to create for yourselves a relish for that kind of reading which will serve you for more than a momentary entertainment. But, in the Messenger and Examiner, you will find a variety of articles which may answer for desert after feasting upon the more solid food spread before you in the others. Come now give us your hand—we don't mean in marriage—but to close a bargain that henceforth you will encourage your own literature.

We guarantee you will not regret it.

Col. J. W. White.—This gentleman who has been lecturing in several Southern States, for the purpose of furthering the cause of the pro-slavery party in Kansas, addressed our citizens on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of last week. Although the weather was bad, each of his lectures was well attended, and all who heard him were greatly pleased and interested.

We are glad the Colonel came among us, for really our people have done but little to aid the struggles in which they are common with all the South are so deeply vitally interested. For the sake of a few moments of amusement, we are ready to open our purses to strolling mountebanks and jugglers, but have hitherto been slow to contribute to the maintenance of our own fellow citizens who have embarked in a cause so worthy as this. It gives us pleasure therefore to say that the efforts of Col. White have resulted in the subscription of something over one hundred dollars from this community to Kansas.

Col. White has resided in Kansas for thirty-three years, and is therefore competent to speak of the character and prospects of that Territory. He was one of the first to advocate the introduction of the institution of slavery there, and the resistance of abolition encroachments, and is therefore entitled to our consideration and confidence. He believes that the decisive struggle will probably come on before the next fall, and urges the formation of aid societies that emigrants may at once take up their line of march. Surely all that has been done and suffered by southern men in Kansas will be in vain if nothing more shall be attempted! It would have been better, had we quietly permitted the North to take possession of the territory and establish their institutions, than after making a show of resistance, to withdraw from the contest on the eve of the battle.

Summary of News.—F. F. Warley, Esq., has discontinued his connection with the "Darlington Flag," as one of its proprietors, but will continue to edit it.

J. T. Bethen, Esq., has withdrawn from the Editorial charge of the "Marion Star." He will be succeeded by Mr. V. Little the proprietor of the paper.

The two houses of the North Carolina Legislature, agreed to adjourn on yesterday—so says the N. O. Argus.

The "Camden Journal" regrets to learn that a negro woman, the property of Mr. Charles Perkins, of Kershaw District was from death, on the 17th inst. It appears that she left her own home for the purpose of going to another, and the night being very dark and cold missed her way, and wandered off becoming bewildered and fatigued. It is supposed that she sat down and perished in that situation, as she was found—diligent search having been made—several days since, frozen to death at the foot of a tree.

The "Newberry Mirror" notices the fact that on Friday last, between the time of nine and ten a foul murder was committed on the person of M. P. Livingston, of that District. The circumstances were in substance as follows: The deceased with two other persons (females) was sitting in his house, at the time above mentioned, when his attention was attracted by the noise of a stone striking the door of the room. He went to the door to ascertain the cause of so strange a proceeding, and on opening it was shot through the head. He fell and died sometime afterwards. The murderer is not known, nor indeed has suspicion attached to any one. The verdict of Coroner Doyle was in accordance with the above facts.

Our worthy Post Master, Mr. J. I. Westervelt, informs us that the name of the Post Office heretofore called "Carolina Female College," in Anson county, N. C., has been changed to "Ansonville."

Philanthropy.—We copy from the correspondence of the Charleston Evening News, the following paragraph which speaks of the "Slave philanthropist," in tones of thunder. Their eyes are turned to the slave States, while waving their purse aloft, at their side there perishes, in want and starvation and a man of God. Let charity begin at your own fireside, before you dare to tamper with the "down-trodden slave," who is as far above you in the moral point of view, as he is in the social.

You will recollect a paragraph in one of my letters, not long ago, in which I related a timely rebuke administered by Bishop Doane to a fashionable congregation in Jersey City, for suffering their rector to live in penury. That rector died from absolute neglect of last Friday, and was buried to-day. His name was Douglas, and the craven-hearted wretches, who would not give him bread here, turned out out en masse at the funeral. Such is life!

What Means It?—The "Miller" at that "Grist" mill, up in Yorkville, has sent forth a most "Mellin" appeal in their last, as they find that their situation is not worth a dam. Instead of "pitching in to a free fight," they have changed their tactics, and gone to hugging, for they have embraced the whole Editorial corps in one short paragraph. Look out young ladies, their designs are laid bare, they are single and cannot bear to be alone, some mischief is "brewin." We must get the "Bombie B's" in the Times office (Bro's Britton & Bowman) to stir them up again.

"Poke 'em, lets hear 'em growl!"

Communications.—FOR THE FREE PRESS HERALD.—MRS. EDITORS.—You will please publish the following appointments made for this District, by the Legislature at the last session and oblige.

THE SENATOR AND REPRESENTATIVES. Commissioners of Roads. George W. Spencer, James Funderburg, Wm. J. Gaddy, A. Sidney Douglas, Joel Brewer, George W. King, John F. Ellerbe, Neil Graham, George W. Brewer, Alex. J. Periss, John H. Perkins, Neil Crawford, William J. Pughes.

Commissioners of Free Schools. Homer LeGrand, Alfred M. Lowry, John T. Coit, John Ellis, John S. Miller, Dan'l Wadsworth, Angus Leach, Gideon W. Duvall.

Manager of Elections. At BRUNN PAV.—I, Ellerbe Douglas, in the place of Hugh Bushaw, removed from the District.

THE LAST MOMENTS OF HON. PRESTON S. BROOKS.—Hon. Preston S. Brooks was taken on Saturday night with cramp and swelling of the throat and Monday night became quite ill. Dr. Boyle was sent for, and every attention was paid him by the physician and his numerous friends. Tuesday morning he was so much improved that all danger was supposed to be passed. He was visited throughout the day by his constituents in Congress, by Judge Butler and other Senators, and was apparently comfortable and cheerful.

At half past 7 o'clock Tuesday evening there were with Mr. Brooks, Drs. Boyle and Hall, of Washington; Dr. Lynch, of the United States Army, and Hon. Messrs Orr and McQueen, of South Carolina. Suddenly Mr. Brooks was seized with choking—every remedy was availed of, but he expired in about five minutes.—South Carolina Union.

An itinerant quack doctor in Texas was applied to by one of Colonel Hays' rangers to extract the iron point of an Indian arrow from his head, where it had been lodged for some time. "I cannot extract this stranger," said the doctor, "be ease to do so would go nigh killing you; but I can give you a pill that will melt it in your head."

SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR, AS A LIVER MEDICINE. THERE has long existed a demand for such a remedy that could be relied on as safe and effectual. This remedy has been prepared to meet that demand; and extensively tried of its virtues has shown how universally it has accomplished the purpose designed. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by the use of the Invigorator we mention Liver Complaint, which is the cause of many other diseases—among which are, Biliousness, Headache, Pain in the Side and Loins, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Jaundice, Indigestion, Langour and loss of Appetite, Listlessness and Irritability—all of which are caused by a diseased action of the Liver. The Invigorator is compounded with particular reference to the Liver, and when that disease is removed all the rest are cured, as the cause of them is taken away. A few doses of the Invigorator rarely ever fail to stimulate the Liver to a proper action, and by its continued use to remove the disease. It has been taken with great success in cases of Cholic, Dysintery, &c., and for these it has been found a very efficacious remedy. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach to a healthy action and restores the appetite and vigor. One dose will relieve the oppressive uneasiness experienced by eating a hearty dinner, as it excites the digestive organs to vigorous action. For a debilitated state of the system the Invigorator has no equal which experience proves, as it restores the system and removes the yellowness from the skin, which is the result of a diseased Liver.

Prepared and sold by Sandford & Co. 188 Front St., New York. Price $1 00 per bottle, containing forty doses. Also sold by MALLOY & COIT, Cherraw, S. C.

And by A. N. BRISTOW, Bennettsville, Oct. 27, 1856, 20—1y.

PEOPLE OF AMERICA!—Thousand of you have suffered long years with liver complaints, pain in the side and loins, biliousness, headache, irritability, and other diseases that all the remedies tried, failed to cure, and Physicians pronounced incurable. You need suffer no longer. Dr. Sandford's Invigorator will make you well again. Great cures are daily reported as having been performed by the use of this remedy, and none who use it are disappointed in its effects. A distinguished Physician says in his practice he never found anything so effectual in relieving the above named diseases as the Invigorator.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. I was attacked with dysentery, and it soon became very distressing; I used this medicine according to the direction, and was cured in three days. My wife was also attacked with pain in the stomach, in consequence of eating too soon after a fit of sickness; she was relieved in a few minutes after taken this medicine.—To use her own words, she said she felt the pain remove after she had taken it, as quick as you could see a lump of sugar dissolve in cold water. My son was burnt so badly the skin was off; I applied the medicine immediately, and it took the fire out and healed the wound in less time than I ever saw one healed before. One of my children fell over a chair and bruised its head very bad, but the bruise was soon dispersed by bathing in this medicine. I will mention one case more of its wonderful effect in curing a wound inflicted by my son's falling out of doors and cutting himself badly; the pain was soon relieved, and the wound healed by this medicine. In fact it is the best family medicine I ever used for colic, coughs, and a number of other complaints incident to the human family.
