Feeling Over Carnot's Death---The French Colony to Take Steps to Hold a Public Demonstration Soon.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The assassination of President Carnot has aroused the utmost horror an! indignation among the members of the French colony in New York. Joseph Thoron, president of the leading French society of New York, stated that he knew of no arrangements that had been made as yet for a public expression by French residents of their sentiments on the assassination. He intended, however, to see the French consul about the matter. Mr. Thoron said that a meeting had been called to consider preparations for the celebration on July 14 of the "Fall of the Bastile," at which all the leading French residents would probably be Prendergast's Jury May Seize the Opportunity to Warn Assassins.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The assassination of President Carnot, of France, has added fresh interest to the case of Carter Harrison's murderer, Prendergast, whose insanity case is now fairly under way. It was freely predicted in the court room that this latest slaving of a public character will have its effect on the Prendergast jury, the members of which are not denied newspap rs, and that material would be found in the person of Prendergast for an example to other assassins.

Mrs. Prendergast, mother of the assassin, was in court for the first time since the day the murler trial closed. She was dress d in black, and sat directly behind the attorn vs who were trying to save her son. The assassin sat n his customary place, and appeared ess nervous than heretofore. He teign-

SOME AFTERTHOUGHT.

President Cleveland's Dangerous Democratic Way-Feeling in Chicago.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The assassination of M. Carnot has excited some alarm in the senate. Since the tariff debate became hot, several senators have received threatening letters. The senate galleries are kept closely guarded and no person carrying a package is allowed to enter. The recent incident in the house, when a negro crank in the gallery arose and predicted the destruc-tion of the Capitol, has not been forgotten, and in the future the galleries will be even more closely guarded

President Cleveland's democratic way of riding about the city unattended has been discussed with some apprehension. Cranks turn up at the White House at the rate of two or three a month, but they never succeed in reaching the president's office. When the president goes driving in the country he is rarely accompained except by his driver. When living at Woodley he drove in and out each day, and no police patrolled the roads. Every pleasant afternoon he drives out over the bright wood road and he rarely has a companion, except when Mrs. Cleveland is in the city. The president's lack of protection on these rides is being generally discussed in view of M. Carnot's horrible fate.

RETURN THANKS TO BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS.

Their Presiding Officers --- The House Authorizes an Extentension of Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, June 28.-Vice President Stevenson laid before the senate the following cablegram:

Parts, June 26, 1894. The President of the Conneil and Minister of Foreign Affairs, to the President of the Senate, Washington: The government of the republic will communicate to the senate and chamber of deputies at their next session expressions of fraternal sympathy which it has received from the senate and house of representatives of the great American republic. But it does not wish to delay until that moment to communicate to you an expression of all its thanks, and to make known to you the consolation which the the resolutions of the senate and house of representatives have brought in the great grief which has stricken this country.

Laid Before the House.

A message from the president of the council and minister of foreign affairs of the French government in response to resolutions of sympathy passed by the house Monday was laid before the house by Speaker Crisp. On motion of Mr. Sayers a joint resolution was agreed to to provide temporarily for the expenditures of the government after the expiration of the present fiscal year, by extending the same rate of appropriations for July as the bills for the current year make for each month thereof.

A Remarkable Phenomenon.

WASHINGTON, June 27 .- Reports have reached the navy department of a remarkable phenomenon which occurred at the Norfolk navy yard one week age in which two men were instantly killed and a number of others knocked senseless by an electric discharge. Considerable mystery still exists about the occurrence, and not even yet has it been possible to obtain full particulars.

It appears from the account received that the steel cruiser Raleigh was in the Woodson dry dock last Wednesday and a number of men were working on her hull, when a thunderstorm swept over the naval station. The workmen sought shelter beneath the vessel, which rested on blocks in the center of the dock. Suddenly and without warning two of the men fell dead and most of the others were knocked senseless by an electrical discharge. Officers of the vessel, who were sitting about on the deck, did not feel the shock, but all of the compasses and similar instruments were affected, and the vessel was permanently magnetized in such a manner as to render the electric apparatus and compass useless without considerable repairs and adjustment. The only explanation that is offered by the naval officers for escape of the officers of the vessel from the shock was that the Raleigh was insulated by being on the blocks which were dry while the men who were killed or injured were in shadlow water on the bottom of the dock.

Agree on Increased Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, June 28 .- The senate committee on commerce, considering the river and harbor bill, has decided upon an increase in the appropriation for Norfolk harbor, without agreeing upon the amount. The same is true of Cumberland sound, Georgia, and of Key West, Fernandina and Charlotte harbors, and Apalachicola river in Florida. The provisions of the house bill regarding the improvement of the Ten-nessee river will be so altered as to designate the uses to which the $100,000 appropriation for that stream shall be
