

Miraculous Benefit
RECEIVED FROM
Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

ELLI P. BABCOCK, of Avoca, N. Y., a veteran of the 3rd N. Y. Artillery and for thirty years of the Babcock & Munsell Carriage Co., of Auburn, says: "I write to express my gratitude for the miraculous benefit received from Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I suffered for years, as result of army life, from sciatia which affected my heart in the worst form, my limbs swelled from the ankles up. I bloated until I was unable to button my clothing; had sharp pains about the heart, smothering spells and shortness of breath. For three months I was unable to lie down, and all the sleep I got was in an arm chair. I was treated by the best doctors but gradually grew worse. About a year ago I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and it saved my life as if by a miracle."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING

MR. LEMONS AND MISS THOMSON UNITED.

The Presbyterian Church the Scene of Another Fashionable Marriage—It Was a Most Brilliant Affair.

The Presbyterian Church in this city was the scene of another brilliant wedding last night, the contracting parties being Miss Janie Thomson, of this city, and Mr. Baxter Lemmond, of Spartanburg. Mr. James E. Williamson, of Spartanburg, acted as the groom's best man, while Mr. J. C. Robinson, of Chester, was the groomsmen. Miss Alberta Thomson, of Spartanburg, was first bride's maid. The ushers were Messrs. J. E. McArthur, Tom Clarkson, E. L. Eison and Wardlaw Moorman. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. W. C. Thomson. Masters Harry Wheat and Norman Jones made capital little gate keepers.

It was a few minutes after nine o'clock when the bridal party arrived. The bridal procession was formed in the outer vestibule, the doors were thrown open and the organ pealed forth the strains of Mendelssohn's familiar wedding march beautifully rendered by Mr. T. H. Westrope as the procession entered the body of the church led by the ushers. Then came the groomsmen and bridesmaid down the side isles while the maid of honor came down the centre aisle, passing through a little gate of white chrysanthemums gracefully held open by the little gate keepers who were attired in diked suits. Then came the bride, who was escorted to the chancel rail by her brother. When the procession reached the chancel rail it was divided and the members filed to the right and to the left while the bride proceeded to the rail, where she was met by the groom, accompanied by his best man. In front of the spot where the bride and groom stood was spread a fine fur rug while over them was an arch of white and green from which was suspended a gilded harp on which was Tennyson's beautiful quotation: "Love took up the harp of life."

The ceremony was most impressively pronounced by the Rev. C. E. Robertson, and as the last sounds of the Amen died away the maid of honor lifted the bride's veil, after which the bridal party left the church as the organ pealed forth Scott's bridal march.

The wedding party were driven to the home of the bride's parents on Race street, where a reception was held. The house was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums. The parlor was decorated in pink and green and it was there that the bride and groom received the congratulations of their numerous friends in front of a bower of palms and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Thomson was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. H. L. Parks, of Concord, N. C., Mrs. Rudolph Brandt, of Chester, Miss Wardlaw and Miss Peden, of Gaffney. After the happy couple had received the congratulations of their numerous friends they repaired to the spacious dining room where refreshments were served.

The bride was very becomingly attired in a lovely gown of white organdy with trimmings of pearl, white satin and real lace. Thrown over her and reaching to the hem of her train was the bridal veil of tulle, held in place by a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. In her hand she carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair ferns.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid were gowned in very becoming costumes of white organdy with white satin trimmings, both carrying bouquets of white carnations. The ushers and groomsmen were attired in full evening dress with tan kid gloves. The presents were numerous and very handsome.

The bride is an accomplished and pretty young lady, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thomson, and possesses many noble traits of womanly character which have endeared her to the hearts of a large circle of friends who will regret to give her up.

The groomsmen is a prominent young merchant of Spartanburg and was at one time a resident of this city. He is a young gentleman of sterling worth and each is to be congratulated upon the prize they have won.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemonds left on the midnight train for Spartanburg, where they will reside in the future. May their pathway be strewn with earth's most fragrant flowers and no unhappiness mar their bright young lives.

A NEW TRIUMPH.

The Dreaded Consumption Can be Cured.

T. A. Slocum, the Great Chemist and Scientist, Will Send to Sufferers, Three Free Bottles of His Newly Discovered Remedies to Cure Consumption and all Lung Troubles.

Nothing could be fairer, more philanthropic or carry more joy to the afflicted, than the generous offer of the honored and distinguished chemist, T. A. Slocum, M. C., of New York City.

He has discovered a reliable and absolute cure for consumption, and all bronchial, throat, lung and chest diseases, catarrhal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh and all conditions of wasting away; and to make its great merits known, will send three free bottles of his newly discovered remedies to any afflicted reader of the LEDGER.

Already his "new scientific system of medicine" has permanently cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases.

The Doctor considers it not only his professional, but his religious duty—a duty which he owes to suffering humanity—to donate his infallible cure.

He has proved the "dreaded consumption" to be a curable disease beyond a doubt, in any climate, and has on file in his American and European laboratories thousand of "heart-felt testimonials of gratitude" from those benefitted and cured, in all parts of the world.

Catarrhal and pulmonary troubles lead to consumption, and consumption, uninterrupted, means speedy and certain death. Don't delay until it is too late. Simply write T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine street, New York, giving express and postoffice address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent. Please tell the Doctor you saw his offer in THE LEDGER.

Meeting Of County Commissioners.

There will be an annual meeting of the County Board of Commissioners on 3rd of January, 1899, and all persons holding claims of any kind against the County will please deposit the same with the Clerk of the Board on or before said date properly proven, in order that they may be audited and ordered paid.

N. LIPSOMB,
Supervisor of Cherokee County.
