

17 Cents a Day Buys an Oliver

This amazing offer—the New Model Oliver Typewriter No. 5 at 17 cents a day—is open to everybody, everywhere.

It's our new and immensely popular plan of selling Oliver Typewriters on little easy payments. The abandonment of LONGHAND in favor of clear, legible, beautiful TYPEWRITING is the next great step in human progress.

Already—in all lines of business and all professions—the use of pen and ink is largely restricted to the writing of signatures. Business Colleges and High Schools, watching the trend of public sentiment, are training a vast army of young people in the use of Oliver Typewriters.

The prompt and generous response of the Oliver Typewriter Company to the world-wide demand for universal typewriting, gives tremendous impetus to the movement.

The largest sale of any typewriter in existence, was the logical machine to take the initiative in bringing about the universal use of typewriters. I always leads.

Save Your Pennies and Own The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Typewriter

This 17-cent-a-day selling plan makes the Oliver as easy to own as to rent. It places the machine in the reach of every home—every individual. A man's "pocket money"—a woman's "pin money"—will buy it.

Clers on small salaries can now afford to own Oliver. By utilizing spare moments for practice they may fit themselves for more important positions.

School boys and school girls can buy Oliver by saving their pennies.

You can buy an Oliver on this plan at the regular catalogue price—$100. A small first payment brings the machine. Then you save 17 cents a day and pay monthly.

And the possession of an Oliver Typewriter enables you to earn money to finish paying for the machine.

Advantages Service Possibilities

The Oliver is the most highly perfected typewriter on the market—hence its 100 per cent efficiency.

Among its sources of convenience are:

the Balance Shift the Ruling Device the Double Release the Locomotive Base the Automatic Spacer the Automatic Tabulator the Disappearing Indicator the Adjustable Paper Flaps the Scientific Condensed Keyboard

Can you spend 17 cents a day to better advantage than in the purchase of this wonderful machine?

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physician, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage.

It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

WESTERN BANKS HANDLE RECEIPTS

GOVERNMENT DEPOSITORIES FOR FOREST SERVICE MONEY.

All Moneys of the Service to be Deposited to Credit of U. S. Treasurer.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The names of six government depositories which are to handle the receipts of the United States Forest Service, after December 1, when its organization for the administration of the National Forests will be removed from Washington to six field districts in the west, have just been announced.

The designation of western banks to handle the moneys received from timber sales, permits for stock grazing and for special uses of various resources in the National Forests is an innovation which will mean that all the receipts of the Forests Service in the future will be deposited to the credit of the treasurer of the United States and made available for circulation in the part of the country from which it is derived, within the limits of the amounts allowed by law for government deposits, instead of being forwarded to the treasurer at Washington. The banks which have been named and which have all consented to serve the government are located in the district headquarters of the Forest Service at Denver, Ogden, Albuquerque, Missoula, Portland, and San Francisco. They are as follows:

Western Montana National Bank, Missoula, Montana. Headquarters of first district, including northwestern Wyoming, northern Idaho, northern Wyoming, and northwestern South Dakota.

Denver National Bank, Denver, Colorado. Headquarters of second district, including Colorado, southern Wyoming, South Dakota, northwestern Minnesota, Nebraska, western Kansas, southeastern Utah.

First National Bank, Albuquerque, New Mexico, headquarters of third district, including Arizona, Arkansas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma.

First National Bank, at Ogden, Utah, headquarters of fourth district, including Utah, southern Idaho, western Wyoming, eastern Nevada, and northwestern Arizona.

First National Bank, San Francisco, California, headquarters for fifth district, including California and southwestern Nevada.

First National Bank, Portland, Oregon, headquarters of sixth district, including Washington, Oregon, a small part of northern California, and Alaska.

The estimated receipts for the National Forests for the present fiscal year will be approximately $2,000,000, making the receipts from each of the six districts range from $275,000 to $350,000. The depositories will receive all remittances due the government for use of the National Forests after December 1, and deposit them to the credit of the treasurer of the United States. According to the plan which has been approved by the officials of the United States treasury, the Forest Service and the officers of the various depositories, when a timber sale, stock grazing, or special use application is made, the forest supervisor will fill out a letter of transmittal in duplicate and tell the applicant to remit the amount directly to the national bank which is the depository for the district. Remittances will be in the form of a national bank draft, express or postoffice money order, and will be payable to the bank, since forest supervisors are not allowed to receive money. The letter of transmittal is virtually a deposit slip to accompany the remittance. The duplicate copy goes to the district fiscal agent. All remittances will be assembled and checked up at the end of each day, a single certificate of deposit made out by the bank and mailed to the secretary of the treasury. This simple plan which has required months for the treasury officials and officers of the Forest Service to perfect, is one which will expedite business both for the users of the National Forests and for the force in the office of each district forester, and at the same time will make it possible for the government to deposit the National Forest receipts in western banks, and help the circulation in that particular section of the country where it is originally spent.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The much-talked-of inventory of the national resources is now practically completed. To consider the material it has brought together the National Conservation Commission has just announced its first full meeting for Tuesday, December 1, in Washington. At that meeting the first steps will be taken toward putting into tangible shape the results of the six months' hard work on taking stock of the country's waters, forests, lands, and minerals.

One week later, after the commission has gone over the inventory, it will hold a joint meeting in Washington with the government of the States and territories, or their representatives. At this meeting the inventory will be further discussed and the report which the president has requested the commission to make to him by January 1, will be formulated.

With less than six months in which to make the inventory, the four branches into which the commission is divided, aided by the co-operation of the governments, have brought together what is probably the most useful collection of facts about the material things on which national industry and progress are based that has ever been assembled at one time.

Reports presenting these facts and pointing out their significance have been prepared. These reports, summarized and indexed, will be submitted to the commission at its coming meeting.

All through the summer general interest in the work and object of the Conservation Commission has been growing. The public is now well posted on a subject of which only a few specialists had knowledge at the time of the Conference of Governors and experts at the White House, in May.

The governors carried the spirit of the conference home with them to their own people, and have kept things moving ever since by appointing State Commissions to study local problems, by writing and speaking upon the subject of conservation, and by keeping in close and helpful touch with the National Commission. They are ready to take part in the approaching joint meeting. The bare announcement that it had been set for December 8 resulted in a number of acceptances before the formal invitation of the commission had even got into the mails.

When the conservation movement was started, specific information about the actual state of our resources was partly wanting, partly inaccessible. Certain facts were broadly known. It was at least unquestionable that our resources had been wastefully used, and that some of them, notably the mines, were sure in time to be completely exhausted, while others, for example the forests, could still be kept perpetually useful by right management.

The first work was to get the facts, to show exactly what the situation was and how it could be improved by measures that would work. Without an inventory of the resources which should show the present condition of the resources and the way to develop them to the best advantage, conservation was in danger of staying up in the air.

But the work is now practically done. The facts are there, in dollars and cents, tons of coal, board feet of timber, acre-foot and horsepower of water, acres of land. And the possible reform measures have been weighed. The final report to the president will be the necessary supplement to the addresses at the White House Conference. The note of these addresses was a note of warning. The report is expected to show that the exhaustion of natural resources is not one day, to impoverish the nation, and it will also undoubtedly bring out how the country's resources can be developed so as to last the longest possible time and serve the greatest good of the people.

Store Talk. (By H. E. Sells.) A pleased customer will return.

Use the advertising matter sent out by the manufacturers. It is designed for the special purpose of selling goods.

Don't expect your goods to sell themselves. A good article can speak for itself until it is in the hands of the buyer.

Study the class of people who buy from you and strain a point, if necessary, to make goods and store appeal to them.

Aim to get new customers each day, but remember that a new customer will make a closer inspection of your store than an old one.

RATIONAL CURE FOR ECZEMA.

No More Dosing the Stomach—Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

When you have a scratch on your hand you wash it and then the skin cures itself. You do not take blood medicine to cure a festered wound.

The best skin specialists today are agreed that the only way to cure the skin is through the skin.

This fact that eczema is a skin disease and not a blood disease is evident from statistics which show that nearly all eczema sufferers are perfectly healthy in all other ways except as to their skin. If the eczema patients were really suffering from an inward malady, the entire body and not only the skin would be diseased.

You can prove immediately the relief of a true skin cure by using oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

This liquid attacks the disease germs, numbing them while building up the healthy tissue of the skin. We have now handled this meritorious and thoroughly scientific remedy for so long and have seen its reliable result so many times that we freely express our confidence. Gaffney Drug Company.

The South's Opportunity at Hand.

(Manufacturers' Record.) With the political agitation out of the way, with business reviving, the South has the greatest opportunity which it ever faced for big, broad development. With the United States Steel Corporation in Alabama, the South has the most powerful influence in the world for the building up of its iron and steel interests. With a re-awakened appreciation of the needs for broad railroad expansion and, therefore, a more friendly legislative spirit prevailing, the South ought now to enter upon the broadest railroad and industrial development period which it has ever enjoyed.

Keystone Traction Water Well Drillers Are Money Makers

Everybody uses water. A drilled well is the only means of obtaining a pure, cold and unfading supply. Dig wells and springs are simply cess pools for collecting disease breeding surface drainage. 85 per cent. of typhoid fever is contracted from bad water.

A Keystone Drill will penetrate the bed rock and tap the pure, unfading streams below. All surface water is securely cased off. A drilled well rarely goes dry in the most protracted drought. It is safe.

There is more money in a Keystone Drilling outfit than in a threshing machine, and you work all the year round instead of three months out of twelve. Machine is the most complete on the market and must not be confounded with cheap and flimsy outfits. Drills a 6-inch hole through any formation to any desired depth at the rate of 50 feet a day in ordinary formations. Costs $5.00 a day to run in fuel and labor. Will go anywhere under its own steam and can be set up and put to work in 30 minutes. Write for catalogue No. 1.
