

Local and Special.

See addition to Town Ordinances.

Fried slices are coming to the front.

Hot slices of apples are good for a breakfast dish.

A Barbecue has been arranged for the 19th, TILLMAN'S day.

The Sibley Mill strikers, of Augusta, have returned to work.

Umpire HENSON came near being mobbed in Charleston a few days ago.

The trial of the Edgeline lynchings has been postponed until the next term of the court.

Mr. H. M. Sparks' dwelling house of five rooms to rent. Apply to E. P. McGowan, Esq.

Capt. B. R. TILLMAN, has been invited to deliver an address at Winnsboro on September 1st.

Go to Wilkes' Book and Drug Store for the cheapest line of Toilet Soaps. Soaps from 5cts. to 50cts. a cake.

He is a fool who thinks by force or skill.

To turn the current of a woman's will.

The eighth annual session of the Laurens County Sunday School Convention will begin to-day, 11th, at Mount Bethel Church.

Hon. W. H. PERRY has our thanks for reports of the Department of Agriculture for 1885.

Notwithstanding the financial depression, the dry goods trade at Laurens has been as good, if not better, than at this time last year.

Capt. John Moore is again building in Jersey. Mr. Elliott, contractor, began work on Monday last. It will be a neat 7-room cottage.

There was a bountiful picnic at Laundford's Station on Thursday. A few candidates were present and ventilated their views on the stump.

There was a delightful picnic at Chestnut Ridge on Friday. We had the honor to receive an invitation but were prevented from attending.

Mr. J. C. Elliott has commenced work on a large and elegant residence for Dr. Thos. McCoy, to be erected on the lot adjoining his office on Main Street.

The depot for the Greenville and Laurens Railroad, at Greenville, has been commenced and will be completed and a schedule arranged in a short while.

The current report that the Laurens Branch of the Columbia & Greenville Railroad, has passed in the hands of the Georgia Central is believed to be without foundation.

Mrs. S. F. CHAPIN delivered an interesting address in the Court House on Thursday night, on the subject of Temperance. She was the guest of Mrs. MARY Y. GARLINGTON.

Now is your time to buy books at Wilkes' Book and Drug Store. In order to make room for my Fall stock, I propose to sell books of fiction, etc., at nett cost. Call and examine.

Mr. H. W. ANDERSON has been appointed post master at this place in the stead of J. M. ROBERTSON. Mr. ANDERSON was formerly post master at this place for ten years during and after the war.

The bank building at this place is nearing completion. The works is under the supervision of Mr. O. BURGESS and when finished, will be a thing of beauty. A neat sign has been placed over the door.

The Rev. J. Y. FAIR, the new pastor of the second Presbyterian church at this place, filled his pulpit last Sunday morning and was greeted by a large congregation. He made a good impression on all and the congregation appear highly pleased with him. -Charlotte Observer.

In order that THE ADVERTISER can catch the trains early Tuesday morning, it is necessary to go to press by 7 o'clock. All matter should be handed in by Monday 12 M. Communications should reach the office by Friday, in order to insure publication.

N. S. HARRIS a recent graduate from the Citadel Academy is desirous of getting a school in Laurens County. He is requested to teach two years in the public schools of the County.

Last week we stated that Mr. Harris had returned home to spend vacation. This a mistake, as he has received a diploma from the Citadel Academy.

A Telegram. When the result of the convention in Columbia was made known at this place a dispatch to this effect was sent to delegate from Laurens: "Come home; no use for Laurens amateurs to buck against professionals."

Something Wrong. We have heard considerable complaint in different sections of the County as to irregularities and delays in the mails. This is a great inconvenience and we hope the proper authorities will seek to remedy these irregularities.

Deaths. Mr. B. F. SHAW, a highly respected and prominent citizen of this County, died on the 7th inst., of congestive fever. He was in his 75th year.

On Sunday, the 8th inst., his wife, Mrs. Evalina Shaw, having survived her husband one day, died, also of congestive fever. She was a daughter of the late John Simmons, of this place.

See What It Will Do. As an evidence of the merit of newspaper advertising, we call the attention of those interested to a striking fact and practical illustration. In our issue of last week, Mr. J. D. SHEAHAN published some prices on clothing, stating the figures plainly, and asserted that the goods must be sold. The result of which, he sold to one party in Spartanburg County three suits of clothing, which he would not otherwise have sold. In addition to this, seven coats and ten pairs of pants went off his hands. He is a strong advocate of judicious advertising, and he is right. It always pays.

Jino do Army.

We understand that several ambitious members of the Laurens Guards are seriously considering the situation on the Mexican border, with a view to volunteer their services.

Agricultural Congress.

Commissioner A. P. Butler has appointed J. B. Humbert and J. F. Austin from the 4th Congressional District, as delegates to the National Farmers' Congress, which meets on the 25th of August, at St. Paul, Minnesota.

Personal.

Mr. A. P. SULLIVAN'S family are at Caesar's Head.

Capt. JOHN MOORE is painting his house in Jersey.

Mr. A. B. SHRYVER has opened a store in the Harris Building.

Miss ELLEN O'DELL is visiting her brother, Mr. J. H. O'DELL.

Mr. J. H. TRAYNHAM, is building two Dwelling Houses on Simpson Street.

Mr. J. PAUL DRISCOLL of Augusta Ga. is now with JOHN D. SHEAHAN.

Miss DELLA WRIGHT, of Augusta, is visiting the family of Mr. JOHN D. SHEAHAN.

Mr. TOWNSEND, of Ninety-six, is visiting Mr. W. H. GARRETT and family.

Mr. Horace E. Walker, of Spartanburg, is visiting Mr. W. W. Ball, of this place.

Mrs. Dr. L. S. FULLER and children are visiting Capt. JOHN R. FULLER of Waterloo.

Mr. THOS. F. JONES is in attendance upon the State Normal Institute in Greenville.

ROBBIE and MELMOTH MCCASERS will spend the Summer at the Bendella with their aunts, Miss MCCASERS.

Miss Besse Wheeler, who has been visiting Miss Lula Pitts, returned to her home in Newberry last Friday.

Mr. ASHMORE DAVIS, formerly with GRAHAM & SPARKS is now employed in the Store of MYSTER & JAMIESON.

Miss Mary Williams, a beautiful and accomplished young lady of Virginia, who has been teaching in this County, visited in town last week.

N. B. DIAL, Esq., left for Saluda N. C. on Thursday in obedience to a telegram from Mrs. DIAL, calling him to the bedside of their little son HASKELL, who is very ill.

Our esteemed townsman W. H. Gilkerson returned last week from a short visit to Farquhar White Sulphur Springs, Virginia.

County Correspondence.

WATERLOO.

BILL.

Mr. W. B. Anderson, and wife, of Ninety-Six, are visiting his Father, Capt. D. W. Anderson. Mrs. Nickolas, of Cornacow, is visiting friends relatives at this place.

Mr. J. T. Boyd, has gone on a visit to Johnston.

Maj. T. B. Anderson, has been quite sick for several days, but we are pleased to learn, is much better.

Mrs. Lindsey, has been quite sick for some time.

Mr. Ed. Seymore, of Bradley, is visiting his father, the Rev. R. W. Seymore.

Dr. J. W. Kennedy, and wife, who have been visiting relatives at Bradley have returned home.

The principle subject of discussion around town, is the Barbecue, Baseball and dance that is to be given here on the 14th of July, by Mr. Casper Smith. The programme for the day is, dance all day, a match game of Ball in the morning and afternoon. Mr. S. says that no stone will be left unturned to make it one of the most enjoyable days ever witnessed, in Waterloo.

Three of "sweetest" girls from Laurens are visiting at Cross Hill.

Mr. A. L. Cranford has finished the cat-house and turned it over to the council.

It was our privilege with several of the young gentlemen, of this place to attend a pleasant entertainment last Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. N. E. Davenport, we trust Mrs. D. will accept our sincere thanks for the opportunity given us of spending a most delightful evening.

CROSS HILL.

MACK.

R. D. Nance has a sick child.

R. S. Reeder has been quite sick for two weeks, but is now improving.

This is the season for plagues and barbecues and there have been some very pleasant and successful ones in this community.

Capt. Jas. McCreavey has returned from West's Springs, in Spartanburg, much improved in health.

Base-ball is still raging and we are longing and hoping for a change. The thing is getting monotonous, and even a change to leap frog would be a relief.

A few candidates are coming to the front, but the advance is slow and cautious. Are we lacking in patriots who are willing to serve their country "for a consideration," or is somebody a little, just a little, frightened, and afraid to make the venture upon the troubled sea of politics.

We are very glad to be able to announce that we are to have the pleasure and privilege of hearing the celebrated "Bill Arr" lecture at this place. Maj. C. H. Smith, ("Bill Arr"), has consented to lecture here in the interest of our school, on Saturday night, the 14th inst. We are expecting a rare treat and hope for a large crowd. The lecture will be delivered in the Presbyterian Church.

Some of Laurensville's fairest young ladies are visiting friends at this place. They have made a "mash" among the young men.

CENTERVILLE.

HANS VON SMASH.

Mr. Dempsy Roberts, of Georgia, is visiting relatives here.

Farmers are about done work and protracted meetings and picnics have commenced.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Milam have returned from a visit to relatives in Fairfield County.

Mr. Jas. Downey, who has been very sick with fever for some time, we are glad to report, is improving.

Messrs. John Wolf and Willie Culbertson are the delegates from Centerville to the Sunday School Convention.

Miss Letitia Roberts alternate.

Married, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. John A. Cooper, Aug. 5th 1886, Mr. P. B. Roland to Miss Sue Owings; all of Laurens County.

An ordination meeting was held at Union Baptist Church last Friday, for the purpose of ordaining a deacon. The Presbytery consisted of J. B. Davenport, Moderator; John M. Hudgens, Secretary, John A. Cooper, E. C. Watson and the deacons of Union Church. The ordination sermon was preached by Rev. E. C. Watson.

SIMPSON MILLS.

NIX.

Mr. James Downey, who has been sick for some time, is at this writing improving.

Mrs. Hannah Watkins and family, of Honca Path, are visiting relatives in this section.

Married, on Aug. 5th, by Rev. John B. Davenport, Mr. Preston Packett to Miss Lee Mayberry; also, by the same, Mr. Calvin Check to Miss Lula Culbertson, and several more are expected soon, but you must understand there is no prospect for us.

We are to have a new post office at Cross Roads, to be known as Duvall's. Mr. R. P. Milam is to be post master.

The best cotton crop in this County from what we can learn, is just below here, on Rabun Creek. There is a certain man living there who says that he has seven acres of cotton that is waist high all over, and will average one hundred grown bolls to the stalk. The owner of the crop told us so himself, but I tell you that's a powerful big cotton crop for this year, and it's strange we never can make such crops. But I reckon we don't work hard like that man. We learn there is to be a picnic at Centerville, Saturday before the Fourth Sunday. There will be speakers present, and everybody is invited to come and bring their baskets, for Centerville was never known to fail on a picnic. We extend to the Editor of the ADVERTISER a special invitation to come and spend the day with his country friends.

[Will be on hand.—Ed.]

FOR THE ADVERTISER.

Chestnut Ridge Picnic.

Mr. Editor:—We had the honor to be invited to, and pleasure to attend, a picnic at Chestnut Ridge Church on last Friday. The attendance was small, but the meals were in abundance and the occasion was a most enjoyable one in every respect. The trees are surrounded by a beautiful growth of oak, hickory, chestnut, and hickory, and the view is a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard by, in every direction, a beautiful undulating country diversified by hill and dale, and covered with promising crops. Amid all these beautiful and attractive scenes, the writer will be pardoned in saying that the young ladies present were the most attractive, and by nature the most adorned of all things else. Here the sons of "thorny handed sons of toil" met for the first time, and the spectators turning his eyes outward from the elevated and hallowed spot, sees hard