You never hear the complain,
Nor hear it when nor wait;
But, if I wish, I can unfold
A very painful tail."

We notice that our delegate to St. Louis, W. B. Dial, Esq., will take in Chicago before he returns.

The recent enforcement of the vagrant law has had the effect of ridding our town of some very questionable characters. We have a few left yet.

The Waggon Factory company decided last week to push the enterprise to completion at once. $10,000 is the capital stock, all of which is subscribed.

The McCrory building on the corner of Saxon and South streets is being remodeled and converted into a hand some residence. Mr. H. E. Gray is superintending the work.

A negro boy by the name of Wedeman stole some money from his father and left. He was captured upon a telegram at Greenville and returned to this place and was turned over by his father to the authorities.

Spartanburg rather got on to the boys yesterday from all accounts. The score stood 20 to 24 against Laurens. Much dissatisfaction has arisen from the fact that Spartanburg put up a hired battery, another game will be played to-day, which may possibly reverse this record.

Improvements and alterations are being made in the Babcock Block, and the two store-rooms, corner of Main and Harper streets are being fitted up for J. P. Martin & Co. as a hardware and hardware establishment. Large doors have been made to connect the two rooms.

We noticed Mr. Adolphus Shell among his friends in Laurens. He has for several years traveled extensively in England and the West, and is now located in New York city. He will remain with friends and relatives here several weeks.

J. F. Martin & Co. and John B. Deshields have formed a co-partnership to engage in the furniture business at this place on an extensive scale. They have secured a house in the Watt's Block, and rented Watt's Hall for a warehouse.

Dr. Clarence L. Poole, a young and talented physician of this place, and Miss Lula Little, a popular young lady of our town, were married on Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. G. F. Little, Rev. G. O. Peterson officiating.

Capt. R. H. Hudgens has been given the contract to repair the Court House, corner of which will have to be pulled down and rebuilt owing to the foundation giving way. One of the county commissioners informed us that if the funds held out they propose to do some much needed painting on this building.

Rev. Joe Jones, the revivalist, passed through this place last week, with his bride whom he wedded on Wednesday. He seems that the mother of the young lady, Miss Jessie Farlow, of those anchors without her son, for several days and frustrated the marriage, but at length, by that of strategy and persistence, the twain were made one, and here ended the opposition. Mr. Jones left this place carrying his four young children who had meanwhile been born with relatives, to his home in Cartersville, Ga., on Friday last.

F. P. McLoway, Esq., of the firm of Bonet & McLoway, has applied to the Supreme Court for mandamus to compel the Comptroller general to allow the claim of a widow who has applied for a pension. The woman's husband was killed in the war, and she would be entitled to a pension but for the fact that she married again. Her second husband is now dead and the case involves the construction of the pension act. The question to be decided is, whether the woman is the widow of her first or second husband, or both.

On the evening of the 5th inst., at half past nine o'clock, a little blaze was discovered in the store of J. H. Jones, which came near being a disastrous fire. Being discovered in due time however, it was promptly extinguished by removing the burning articles. The fire department responded and beat the roar in getting a full head of steam, but the engine was fortunately not needed. The fire was supposed to have been caused by rats igniting matches. The stock was insured in the Northern and Royal company, Tranyham & Dial, agents, and the loss was adjusted on Monday by the agents. The damage claimed was $30.39, which was the amount paid.

The Coming Event.

Everything is now being done towards making the commencement exercises of the Laurensville Female college a grand success. Teachers are busy and pupils are fitting themselves to come up to the ultimate in making the occasion attractive, while the bare mention of the distinguished speakers is a guarantee that all who attend will be amply repaid.

Thursday evening, June 21st is "Children's Night," and Friday night will be given to the Male Academy, and in the College chapter the pupils will declaim and also hear the address which Col. Ball has been invited to deliver.

Sunday, June 23rd, at 11 o'clock a.m., the Bazaar committee will be delivered by Rev. A. A. Marshall, D. D., of Anderson.

Monday evening the celebration of the Literary Society of the Female college.

Tuesday, June 26th, address by Rev. D. R. Kirkland of Columbia.

Tuesday evening, alumnae essay by Mrs. Ewing and of Greenwood, Essays of the graduating class, presentations of diplomas.

Deaths.

Mr. Henry Fullner, a well-known and highly esteemed citizen, died rather unexpectedly at his home eight miles from his place on Monday last.

Mrs. Temperance Mahaffey died on Sunday last at her home near Eden.

What the County Organization of Farmers Accomplished—Not Disposed to "Unite" but Rather To Go to Tribune.

In accordance with the call of G. W. Shell, President of the Farmers' Association of Laurens county, the Executive Committee assembled on Saturday last. Being a secret session of course this little paper was denied admission, as was expected. The following gentlemen were present: G. W. Shell, W. A. McMechin, J. B. Byrd, W. H. Hunter, G. W. Davall, J. B. Bell, Mrs. C. Cox, G. C. Young, L. E. Farley, Dr. S. W. Wolf, L. W. C. Blakely, G. M. Sullivan, E. G. Mitchell.

At 12 o'clock the Convention was called and the delegates, together with a few spectators, assembled in the Court House.

On motion of J. M. Hudgens, Mr. L. M. Johnson of Greenville, was invited to sit on the floor of the convention.

came forward and addressed the convention. It is a pleasure to me to meet the farmers of Laurens, and this pleasure would be greatly augmented if I could remain during your deliberations, but I must return on the next train. I have reason to feel a genuine pleasure in being with you to day, for it is no pleasure to me when I say that I could not afford to expose my feelings when I read your warm resolutions concerning emancipation. I said then I had rather be defeated with the support of my fellow farmers than elected with out it. I am in favor of the Constitutional amendment, but I do not believe it will pass away such institutions. Are you willing to let it be? Are you willing to be taxed $5,000,000 to frisk away on such institutions? Are you willing to pay those enormous salaries? We have in this country what we call a free school system, a poor miserable system. Out of this school finds not only the Commiss'ioner's salary, but all the expenses of the school and we have $100 per capita for the poor children, 1000 students at the University, 40 at the Medical and 3500, nearly 3000 students, for what? Not sons of the poor men of South Carolina. Do you see the discrimination? I say it and I don't care who it offends, the South Carolina Military Academy is only an alma mater for papa's sons, broken down aristocrats, who are too lazy to work, I would not mention these things but I want you to see the discrimination.

I have a few words to say to conclusion. We have something to do and it is this: There is a strong opposition to the Farmers' organization and it must be met. We are on the eve of a campaign which reaches from the President down. In a few days you will see in the Advertiser, Cleveland, Ohio, and the Advertiser, at the Capital and in the Advertiser, the whole ticket. It is this year with it and eight. You should begin in to-morrow of to see that only sum pure are elected, and what I mean by sum pure means men then whence in full sympathy with our movement. Then immediately with you and if they do not win out then heads off to the other delegations to be characterized with nomination."
