White Responsibility. On all hands we hear the ery of "white supremacy, white supremacy." Of course, as George Tillman says. every respectable man is for white suremacy in its true sense-simply because the white race is really a supc rior race naturally and by training. But it may be well to fealize also that white supremacy has a counterpart, white responsibility—one is just as real as the other. And the moment we beto cant so much about white sunacy and shut our eyes to white consibility that moment we begin etrograde as a race and in so far ome less supreme. If the Anglo xon race is supreme, it has grown so by being manly and truthful, humane, merciful and just. When we neglect these and such kindred traits and rest ur claim to supremacy simply on our oud-mouthed asseveration of "white premay, white supremacy," we are very apt just then to be laying the foundation for some scheme of lawlessness, injustice or fraud that will certainly react on us and to that extent ower us as a race. If along with our boast of white supremacy, we remembered oftener the duties and responsibilities of a superior race, there would be less of the lawlessness, violence, te, injustice and tyranny that

'Tis distance ends enchantment to the view and those old fellows we named, it may be, were not such tall fellows after all. We therefore apologise for our unseemly comparisons and call upon our readers to gaze and wonder and admire our present Solons as they mount the pedstal of Cheves and Calhoun. Senator Tillman accepts the Mississippi plan, a chicken already hatched and crowing. There we have our stew to band. We may rest easy. We don't want big men; giants; those pigmies and small potatoes will be equal to the emergency. The negro problem is settled. We may rest easy. No more concern for the future. The members elect of the convention have nothing to do, but take the train or let the train take them, go to Columbia, vote aye, draw the per diem and mileage, pay the printer, vote a lovely doucer to far as this county is concerned, lection today will, or should be a very unsensational affair. There is no opposition to the candidates supposed to be the choice of the De. ocracy except possibly a Republican ticket which practically amounts to nothing. There is therefore no occasion at all for any one working himself up into fever heat over the matter: There is absolutely no excuse today for violence, lawlessness or fraud. The farfetched efforts of some to create excitement in this county, where no occasion for it exists might do harm if fortunately they were not so palpably quixotic. There is no reason why the election today should not go off with as little "fuss and feathers" as did the late pri-

It seems that in the late Primary in Newberry, W. W. Hodges, conservative, and one of the most upright men in the State, beat E P. Bedenbaugh by 4 votes. At a meeting of the county executive ecmmittee yesterday, it was ordered that the primary beignored as a nullity, and that the matter be settled in the general election today without reference to the Primary. This Executive Committee was by a large majority reformers. It is very easy to preach, stick to the primary, when you are in the majority, but some how the Primary ceases to be a very binding affair when the wrong man happens to be elected.

Governor Tillman has fooled a heap of people in his persistent insistence of being a plain unsophisticated man. The case of the man who caught a Tartar is pat to the point Hanibal with some ten legions lay around the vineyards in Italy some years and exhausted the liquor supply of the wine bibbing Romans, Scipio Africanus carried an army into Africa and Hanibal returned to defend his own domain. Now Senator Tillman is lecturing up in the old North State and "where are we at" if he should break up the mountain dew business in those classic regions?

In his missionary tour speaking to three thousand populist in North Carolina Senator Tillman denounced the tar heels for not seizing the machinery of the Democratic party. The unsophisticated descendants of Rip Van Winkle are still sleeping and are not up on the fad of wearing the livery of Heaven to serve a certain gentleman in ..... Let his name be nameless.

Tweedledum and tweedledee. Senator Tillman wants a silver democrat for President and failing that a populist. Whereupon the populists of North Carolina wants Tillman. Noah of old three babies had or grown up children rather; Shem, Ham and Jephet they we called; now who was Japhet's Governor Tillman has been speaking to the Temperance people in New Jersey. Having converted "my boys" at nome, like Alexander seeks other worlds to conquer.
