

McKINLEY TO VIRGINIANS.

TRIBUTE TO THEIR GREAT MEN

The President referred to the Old Dominion in War and Peace—The Great Historical Events at Yorktown and Appomattox.

The launching of the torpedo boat Shubrick, built in Richmond, Va., and named in honor of Commodore Shubrick, a Southern man, was a notable event in the history of Virginia, and the occasion was honored by the attendance of President McKinley and members of his cabinet.

"Mr. Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen: I am glad to meet my fellow citizens of this interesting celebration in honor of the launching of the torpedo boat Shubrick, built in this city of American material, by the labor of American workmen."

"This is not the first contribution which Richmond has made to our splendid navy. She equipped the warship Essex with her engines, her boilers and engines, which were tried and tested with entire satisfaction in the brilliant naval engagement in the harbor of Santiago, which that gallant vessel so gloriously assisted in the destruction of Cervera's fleet, winning a memorable victory and hastening an honorable and enduring peace."

"What can be more gratifying to us than the present contribution of the great city upon its industrial and upon the notable prosperity it is feeling in all its business enterprises. You are taking advantage of the commercial opportunities of the world."

"I am glad to meet my fellow citizens of this interesting celebration in honor of the launching of the torpedo boat Shubrick, built in this city of American material, by the labor of American workmen."

"The news of Dr. Grier's death struck me with grief as well as surprise, for I held him in very warm esteem, and had ardently hoped to meet him in the city of Washington."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

A WAR STORY OF BILL ARP.

HOW HUTCHINS SAVED HIS MEAT.

Bill Arp's war story is a tale of a man who saved his meat during a difficult time.

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

THE WONDER OF THE WORLD.

The Telephone is a Faint Resemblance of the Voice that Moses Heard on Sinai.

The wonder of the world is the telephone. Everything else can be accounted for by the explanation, but when the telephone works, the mystery is all there.

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

TRIBUTE TO MRS. PICKENS.

A LOVELY AND TOUCHING SCENE.

Beautiful Eulogy by One Who Knew Both Mrs. Pickens and Her Illustrious Husband—Two Great Friends of the Confederacy.

The following is a brief outline of the excellent address delivered by Mrs. F. W. Pickens at the graves of her husband and her children.

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

AN INTERESTING STORY.

One of the Original Corps of Surveyors of the Building and Equipment of the Old South Carolina Railroad.

The Augusta Herald gives the following story as related by a pioneer railroad builder, which the young folks will read with great interest.

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

THANKING DAY.

The Governor Calls Upon the People to Give Thanks for Abundant Blessings.

Governor McWeeney has issued his first Thanksgiving Day proclamation. The people of this State have been abundantly blessed during the past year.

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Quaint and Curious Paragraphs Gathered from Various Sources.

Negotiations will soon be opened at Madrid for a new treaty between the United States and Spain. It is useless to acquire knowledge unless you have a little common sense with which to season it.

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

CASORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Casoria is a powerful medicine for various ailments. It is the kind you have always bought.

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."

"I was with him only two or three days then, and I saw him no more; but I never forgot that bright face."