LAURENS, S. C., AUG. 8, 1900.

The Democratic party in the United States for a hundred years has been supported by the whiskey men. Preachers, teachers, bankers, lawyers, land-lords, laborers and bar-keepers voted the democratic ticket. Therefore an unboly alliance existed between preachers and liquer. "That which you have not lost you have; horns you have heras." Proposition I that the democratic party has been the which we heras." democratic party has been the whiskey party, mind you, does not imply that it has not been the party of nonesty, of economical government, or low taxes, of home rule, of a low tariff o' equal rights for all and special privileges for cone. The millions of democrats who do not belong to the party of hypocrites, puritans, pharisies should have descried the party of Jefferson, Jackson and joined the party of old John Brown and the millions murderers, because for sooth a few voted the democratic ticket.

After the scrap and allowing reason After the scrap and allowing reason-ble cooling time our efficient policemen presented the city's modest little bill of $5.00 to the scrappers. Each expect-idg chief enforcer of the peace, squared the amount without ado. A candidate the amount without ado. A candidate expressed surprise that our little city was in such splendid condition with such a moderate tax for public exhibitions. Another said that it should have been allowed a free fight on an occasion of hospitality. Another that as no knives were "drawed or little pistols an occurrence so unusual in the State, th polite policeman should have publicly commended the Boxers. Another that he was surprised a fight was out of or-der in Laurens. Another that the public travelling this way would know how to prepare their change and so there was much good natured badinage.

Who constitute 'the old bar-room element?" Seven years ago the bar-rooms were closed and since then the former bar-keepers have been scat-tered to the four winds of the earth. Some are dead, some are well estab-lished in other business and some have jobs connected with the dyspensary system. Where is the old bar-room element?"

Mr. EDITOR: A very good way to get at facts is by comparison. Take one thing and contrast it with another thing, array one line of figures against another line. This is what we intend to do in this article. Laurens county stands third on the list of all the counties in South Carolina in raising the fairs ought to be run as cheap as theirs. Is this so? No! Concerning the Liquor Trade. EDITOR ADVERTISER, SIR: I have always been a Tillmanite and no one knows it better than the Editor of THE akes to go around over the State and lictate how they should vote, the very hing he pounced on Hampton for, I to exercising that God-given right we want no dictator. We are free people want no dictator. We are tree people and liberty-loving people and Tillman will find it out just as Hampton found it out. I have always been an advo-cate of the Dispensary law for I be-lieved with it properly enforced it was the best solution of the liquer question. Now let us see whether it is enforced equally on all of the citizens of South Carolina. Let us first take the mountain region of the Piedmont Belt. There we find poor people who can take a bul and in the coves and steep mountain sides make corn. After they make it hey have no way of marketing it, but they see they can make something out of their labor by turning it into whis of their labor by turning it into whis-key. Probably before they get started from home they are arrested by State Constables and if they show any signs of resistance they are shot down in the presence of their wives and little chil-dren like dogs. Now let us take Char-leston and Columbia. I have been told teston and Columbia. I have been told by reliable men who have been to Char-leston that the liquor men would act-ually walk out of their place of busi-ness and ask the passing-by people into lrink. Now comes along the little jack-leg Governor and tells the people that the Dispensary law is being as well en-forced as heretofore and he has saved the State twenty thousand dollars by cutting down the constability force. This looks like turning the run mil into a money machine. If the State is roing to make moneyout of the Dispen ary Law why is she doing a thing that she will not allow her people to do. My conception of the law was that it was to bring restriction on the sale of whiskey in every portion of the State, if it takes every cent of the revenue from the Dis pensary to do it. We have three candidates for Governor. If either one are elected, it will give the Dispensary law a rigid to be execut. If the people of the Piedmon 1.11 want the law enforced in Charleston and Columbia they can have it done by electing either Hort. have it done by electing either Hoyt. Gary or Patterson, but if they want the Charleston and Columbia blind tigers to still continue in business why ther vote for the present Governor. This thing about Hoyt being backed by the whiskey element is all bosh. The whis key dealers don't want either of the three that I have spoken of. They and they are going to try to hold to it August 4th, 1900.
