Tamed So-to-Speak

Washington, Feb. 19. - President and Mrs. McKinley gave their regular anoual dinner at the white house to-night in honor of the Supreme Court. Senator and Mrs. Tillman, Representative and Mrs. Rixey, Representative and Mrs. Fleming and Representative and Mrs. Elliott were among the

We all change with the times A few years ago it was plain Ben Tillman, of "Rosers," making his weekly visits to the little town of Augusta to dispose of his surplus butter, ergs and other farm truck. Now we have our home-spun Senator, who formerly dodged the Co-lumbia Club as a Pest House, in full evening costume, with his legs under the manogany of Bochinham Palace, Washingt n, kissing glasses with the great dignituries of the Federal Court. Really his constituency don't object, while they see exemplified the theory that the destrine of evolution is true and there is the manufacture. and there is in the moral material and political or d continuous growth and development. Hercules, one of the demigods, was always a presented with his clob, and of couse when the historic his clob, and of couse when the historic painter co es to perperuate these social occasions our hero will be faithfully represent d with his pitchfork and claw hammer costume. Tillman is a Senator of talent and of course well equip ed to shine in any company and we feel easy that old South Caro ha is well represented. And a good dinner, with all the game preserves of earth drawn upon, and the seas, and the vintage of all lands and times to sparkle tage of all lands and times to sparkle with the effervescent and intellectual salt, is not to be ignored every day. As a matter of fact we are all glad that our Senior senator is wanted and appreclated when the goot things are going.

J. J. Bozeman, M. D. This prominent surgeon and good man, died on the 19th inst. at his home, Ninety Six. Wherever there is a survivor of the Hampton Legion and Gary's Brigade, the news of the death of this gentleman will fall as the less of a brother He was anable, devoted and conscient ous surgeon and physician and as a friend as true as the needle to the pole. It can be truly said of him that "none knew h'm but to love him."

The writer was for four years his messmate in the tented field and knew his noble colf-sacrificing character. It was his nature to think of, and love himself last. Peace to his ashes, and rest to us tender and noble a soul as was ever called to meet a last earthly sum-

The Greenville Daily News.

Compelled from regard to his health Mr. W. H. Wallace retires from the editorship of this, the leading Journal of the Piedmont region of South Carolina. Ar. Wallace was a conscientius, scholarly, experienced and judicious editor. His retirement is a distinct cditor. His retirement is a distinct loss to the Press of the State and particularly to Western South Carolina. He is succeeded by Mr. J. A. Moroso, a young gontleman of talent, bred at the feet of Gamaliel, and already of large experience. We look to see the News hold to the high standard of independence and excellence which has invariably characterised its editorial conduct.

Somewhile ago there was trouble in Greenwood county, one of the Tolberts being a candidate for congress, culminating in a riot at Phoenix, when a white Democrat was killed and Tolbert badly shot, who was a Rebublican ca didate for e-ngress. Six negroes were kille dead and wo young men were waylaid and shot, but not seriously. A member of the Tolbert family at McCorm ck's, the post-master of the town, was forced to leave the community. Peace has reigned however for more than two years. The McC rm ck to bert returned to his home a few days ago when a troop of home a few days ago when a troop of white men visited the town and shot Tolb rt to pieces. This was all wrong. There are white republicans in every town in the state and the necessity for sh oting them out is not at a 1 apparent. Our registration laws entirely protect us and for the present at least, our civilization is safe. The dominant and ruling white men of South Carolina are not alarmed at the presence of lina are not alarmed at the presence of republicans and their associations with

The general assembly just adjourned managed to get rid of a good deal of money, but in our opinion there was no waste. The provision for a state geologist was in the line of progress and development of our recources. The nice point is now the election of a competent person to locate any minerals that may lie concealed and hidden in our hills and valleys and to show where they can be devoloped to the enrichment of our people. We must confess for a fancy for following in the ruts of our great. people. We must confess for a fancy for following in the ruts of our grand-parents, for raising wheat, corn, pigs, poultry and cotton, but we would like to see the wealth of the bowels of the earth brought to the surface and made

The people of South Carolina are not stingy towards the schools. Up to 1895 the constitutional school tay was two miles and a deltar poll tax. The two miles and a dollar poll tax. The constitution of 1895 gives to the public schools three mills, the poll tax, and besides a share of the dispensary earnings. Again many school districts vote special taxes for the supert of the public schools. With Clemson, Winthrop, the South arolina College, the Citadel and a half dozen other great institutions in the State there should be no lack of accomplished teachers to be no lack of accomplished teachers to guide the young idea how to shoot.— With all these advastages there should be plenty of learning in the state in a very short time and the complaint of Pope, the poet, "A little learning is a dangerous thing, Drink deep or taste not the Pierian spring" ought not to apply to conditions in South Carolina.

Anderson and Labor Contracts. Judge Benet at Anderson found a specimen of an agricultural labor con-tract used in that county which brought out a most elaborate lecture to the Grand Jury If that contract is the rule, then the lecture was pat to the point but we take it that the specimen in the hands of His H nor was the exception and hardly proves the rule. We rather think that His Honor should have done the subject in a doz n lines, instead of indulging a voluminous harangue. There is danger of the intense humanitarianism of our North-

Current Events.

For sometime it has been argued that an extra session of Congress would felow the fourth of March. The Cuban constitution and the ship subsidy bill are matters of pressing importance. The president has called the senate to meet in extraordinary session on the fourth of March and this looks very like no extra session of congress. It is understood that the president and Mark Hanna favor an extra session, while republicans and democrats all repudiate

One Thomas-Carpet-Bagger.

A colored man named Thomas, of Ohio, has published a book about the negro, not atal complimentary of the race, dealing with the negro with gloves off. A Massachusetts paper quotes largely from the contents and the Columbia State re-publishes them. Thomas was a one-armed carpet-bagger and in the '76 campaign spoke in the Court House in this city and showed great tact in getting through with his speech and with our boys. He was a Trial Justice in Newterry in 1877, was convicted of oppression in office in seizing and selling property without regard to law. Judge Kershaw presided at the Court and the writer prosecuted as Solicitor. Thomas writer prosecuted as Solicitor. Thomas left the State, going to Ohio, and it was said that a message came to Newberry requesting that Thomas should be allowed to return there, as he had converted a Democratic District in Ohio into a Republican District. He is a bright mulatto.

Attorney General Bellinger's Report. Attorney General G. D. Bell nger sends us a copy of his report to the General Assembly for 1900. The contents embrace the criminal statistics in the State, convictions and acquittals for the various crimes charged in every county with expend tures in the office and opinions upon various matters by the Attorney General and his assistant U. X. Gunter. There were 50 convic-U. X. Gunter. There were 50 convictions for this county in all, and of these only 5 were white men, three of these for violations of dispensary and two for assaults. The report is valuable for legislators and specialists, but of little interest to the unprofessional reader. The report is creditable to the Attorney General's office.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunk-en, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sives, no appetite—gradually in back and sives, no appetite—gradually growing werker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement.
