Richmond

Mosby, the Confederate scout leader and politician has this to say among very sensible things touching the

"Richmond is the city most likely to become in time the banking centre and commercial headquarters of this country, and therefore of the world The days of that famous old city as a The days of that famous old city as a political Capitol are past, but its career as the central point of manufacture for the whole South, and from there for the world at large, is just beginning.

Natural advantages bear out this prophecy, and the old Southern capitol will not have fulfilled her manifest destiny unless it shall be verified.

Dead and Live Issues.

Now and then and not infrequently what is Democracy is asked with super-cilious air. The "Virginia and Ken-tucky Rosolutions" written about a century ago by Jefferson has been for that period accepted as the creed. Perhaps not one in ten thousard of those, who claim like Hill, "I am a Demo-crat" has read them, and if he had would swear implicitly by their mod-ern or this day trend. And there are many issues of every day's cropping out that cannot be referred to their arbitrithat cannot be referred to their arbitriment. Can McLaurin be tried in the Primary of August 1902 for the conceded sin of voting with the Republicans in 1900? Can a political sin go out of date? As a rule it does not. It may happen, it is not probable that the Democratic party of this State, in 1902, may sustain McKinley's and Hanna's imperial expansion policy; it may be so; but then republicanism will be triumphant, the Democratic party having shed its skin and become Republiing shed its skin and become Republican. The issue is not dead. The Democratic Convention of 1902 will allow him to enter the lists. If he wins "Imperial Caezar" is the word, and the Democratic party imperial and resulting publican.

Alexander, the Great, conquered all Asis, the then known world "and wept because there were no more worlds to conquer." He was delighted with the soft and delicious Orient, and after many years in velvety luxury died in a debauch. A syndicate of the Western Powers, including the new Empire this side the Atlantic have leated the for side the Atlantic, have looted the far East, presumably skinned it and now Russia proposes to absorb Manchuria Russia proposes to absorb Manchuria, the chief Province bordering Corea and threatening Japan. It looks very like England, Germany and Uncle Sam will be buildozed and let the steal proceed. Thus the Cossack "Rough Riders" of the North of Europe will shame the achievements of the illustrious Prince of Greece, as well as the Western Powers of this day. China the South was ers of this day. China, the South was interested to keep wide open as a market for her chief stape. It is still a greater shame, after spending thousands of millions in Eastern adventure to surrender everything o these North "stand and deliver." McKinley made haste to rush to the help of the mongrels of Cuba and at Paris his henchman carried out the Philippine gobble. On the heels of this blunder he rushed over to China. It was all bad blundering but the September 1988. blundering, but the fight ought now to come and the wild Boers be checked. The advice of old Polonius to Laertes was sound: "Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but being in; Bear it, that the poser may beware of thee

Hon. John L. McLaurin applied to the President and the high Hanna gov-ernment cockolorums at Washington, and secured the promise of a government Exhibit at Charleston, provided a house is furnished for it. And now the Johny organs are guying about our B. R. T's failure.

If T had been standing to the government gentry as Johny has made

His presence will add much to the interest of the occasion and a large crowd may be ex-pected.--Herald and News. The Senator is accepting a good many invitations, but there is such a trick as utilizing an old sermon. And now the grave issue is ripe: who secured the government exhibit for the Charleston show? Tillman's announcement that "if the stealing had to proceed he wanted his state to get her share," is bearing fruit. We are enlarging the old-time qualifications for Congressmen. Thousands upon thousands of mules have left the great North-west for the British service in South Africa. And now the Boers and their friends want from seeking an outlet at that port, i an easy task is wanted.

Good-Bye, all Vestiges of Creation! Good-bye, bridges! Good-bye, roads and mills and trestles! Good bye, bottom lands! Good-bye, seeds in the ground! Good-bye, face of the earth! Noah and Shem and Ham and Japhet and the two elephants and the two camels and the two giraffes never saw anything like this! We are writing late on Tuesday afternoon, and we are thinking how much better chance Noah and his people had than we. We envy those Old Testament fellows. We are not at home and we never expect to get home. No ark awaits us. No beasts are coming in two by two. No ark-no matter how many cubits high-could matter how many cubits high—could stem the torrents that now swim and float Edgefield. Beaver Dam is bigger than Job's river, in which disported the Leviathan and the Behemoth And still it pours—and pours-and pours. Good-bye, everybody! Good-bye, everything! Good-bye, all vestiges of creation!—James T. Bacor, in Edgefield Chronicle.
