JUDGE PRITCHARD FILES DECISION

Another Order in Laurens

Federal Judge Hands Down Order Restraining President Lucas from Pro-

ASHEVILLE, Oct. 7th.—Judge J. C. Pritchard, of the United States Court, to-day made an order in the case of S. M. Milliken and others against W. E. M. Milliken and others against W. E. Lucas and others, granting an injunction restraining the Defendants from proceeding further in the State Courts of South Carolina, and with interfering with Milliken and others in the Laurens Cotton Mill case. Judge Pritchard's order briefly reviews the progress of the cause, beginning with the action instituted in the Court of Common Pleas, of Laurens County, by William E. Lucas, in May, 1905, which action resulted in an order of injunction restraining Milliken and others from voting stock at the approaching meeting of the stockholders of said corporation. Subsequently W. W. Ball, F. J. Pelzer, T. R. McGahan and William M. Bird, on their own petition, were made parties defendant in that action, and they appeared therein and joined the plaintiff in demanding the relief sought in his complaint.

According to the accounts of the af According to the accounts of the affair it seems that Abercrombie had tried to get Magistrate Hellams in his official capacity to assist him in regaining possession of his children who were living with their mother from whom Abercrombie had been separated for a month or more. Failing in this, it appears that Abercrombie then nother than to stop employing his children Hellams to stop employing his children pears that Abercrombie then notified Hellams to stop employing his children to pick cotton. This all took place two or three weeks ago, it seems.

Friday afternoon Abercrombie called at Magistrate Hellams' home and after exchanging a few words Mr. Hellams, believing that he was about to be attacked, retreated and entered an adjoining room. Abercrombie guessing Hellams' purpose, entered at another door and cut Hellams off before he could reach his gun. Abercrombie seized Hellams, pushed him up against the door facing and otherwise assaulted the door facing and otherwise assaulte-him before Mrs. Hellams and a Mr Curry, the latter who happened to b passing, interferred and prevailed upo Abercrombie to leave. Finally he agre to go. After leaving Mr. Hellams came upon Morgan Gwinn, who was picking cotton near the road. Without a word of warning Abercrombie is said to have deliberately fired upon Gwinn with a rifle which he had with him when he called at Magistrate Hellams. H missed his mark, however, and Gwin-is said to have lost no time in getting out of range of other possible shots. Wharton for the office of railway commissioner, which he now holds, will have no easy job, and will likely fail. The reason is that the winning ways which candidates assume when seeking election are normal to Col. Wharton, and he is a good officer besides.

With Dr. Bailey and other friends I was entertained at the association by Pastor James O Martin, and most pleasantly. Bro. Martin is a very prstor and an excellent man. The people love him.

Constitution and By-Laws and Some Important Resolutions Adopted by the Laurens Association.

The County Cotton Growers Association which met Saturday was addressed by the Hon. E. D. Smith, President, and F. H. Weston, Secretary of the South Carolina division of the Southern Cotton Association. The Court House was comfortably filled when the speaking began shortly after 11 o'clock. Quite a number of the stores were closed for the meeting and there were strong delegations from all the town-ship clubs.

Both speakers for the occasion were in fine voice and their speeches were eloquent and appealing. They urged farmers, bankers, merchants, profes-sional men, everybody, to join in this great fight. While here President Smith received

While here President Smith received telegrams from every Southern State saying that the general disposition was to hold cotton off the market since the decline and several stated that much cotton would be held for the price fixed by the Asheville meeting.

Saturday's meeting was a very enthusiastic one and after the speaking many pledges were given, thus strengthing the local forces in a great movement, which Messrs Smith and Weston declare is bound to win out.
