AN EXPLODED EFFORT.
 The effort of S. M. Milliken of New York to destroy the reputation of W.
 E. Lucas as a cotton mill operator by means of an affidavit in which he repudiated his own acts and advices in regard to the Laurens Cotton Mills may now be said to have been exploded again. Two or three offers have been made, at different times by different parties, to buy the Milliken stock, leaving to the Millikens the option of naming a price. Of course everybody knows that W. E. Lucas individually could not buy the stock. He is comparatively a poor man.

No man who is not an idiot will maintain that a man who has not an exceptional reputation for ability and honesty could attract to his support capitalists who are eager to back him with three or four or five hundred thousand dollars and more at any time.
 Let the men here in Laurens who criticize Mr. Lucas, some of them individually worth in money two or three times what he is worth, step out into the open and try to buy or build a few cotton mills. Mark what we say—it's a mogul engine to a monkey wrench that the Millikens won't back them for a punched quarter. The Millikens are using them for other purposes. When the Millikens are done with them, the Millikens who laugh at them now, will dump them into the trash basket.
 More than all, the Laurens Cotton Mills, built under the direction of Mr.
 Lucas, who to our personal knowledge used to get up before daylight to see it built well and economically, is here with its record to say whether or not the great confidence he enjoys has been fairly earned.

Mr. S. M. Milliken has said under oath in the course of the Laurens Mills litigation that his house could not do the services that it had been doing for less than the four and three per cent rate that it had been charging.
 The leading financial authority in America, the New York Journal of Commerce, reports that the mill agents generally in New York admit that it is only a matter of time when the Southern Mills in sound financial condition will cease to pay four per cent and that at present a general breaking up of the four per cent system is impending.

We could name at least five South Carolina mills, including several with which Mr. Lucas has no connection, which since his rebellion against the methods of the Millikens, have succeeded in getting their commission rate reduced to two per cent and many more which are now paying three per cent.
 Mr. Lucas has won his fight—though it may be that the Millikens will be able to wreak their private vengeance upon him.

Taking Mr. Milliken's sworn statement in his answer to the Lucas complaint as true, it seems his house will have trouble in doing business in the South in future—with such mills as the house does not control by buying a majority of the stock.

ABOUT COTTON.
 Everybody knows that the profits are good in eleven cents cotton. The Southern Cotton Growers knew that when they made eleven the minimum for selling.
 THE ADVERTISER has said for 15 years that all men are infants in predicting cotton prices. We do not say now that cotton will not bring fifteen cents in a few weeks. But if we had cotton, we would take no risks, because we could sell now and salt down a comfortable profit with prices at the present notch. If Mr. Jordan means to elevate his sights each time that cotton moves to a slightly higher level, his advice will come to be disregarded, for the public will deny its sincerity.
 Meanwhile, the present prices are based upon the expectation in the North of a small crop. In South Carolina a good crop has been made—the enormous crop that was made last year but a very fair crop.

A man who owes no money and has cotton may keep it, if he likes. That is speculation and speculation in itself is not an offence. It is merely dangerous. The man who is out of debt can afford to lose five dollars the bale and he may gain five dollars the bale. At all events he may have the pleasure that a mild speculation brings.
 But the advice of Mr. Harvie Jordan to hold for 15 cents is worth about as much as any Laurens farmer's opinion and no more.

MRS. MARTHA ORR PATTERSON.
 In the death in California of Mrs.
 Martha Orr Patterson the people of South Carolina have suffered a profound loss. She was a gifted woman, lovable, full of tact, accomplished and endowed with rare intellectual talents.
 These talents she unstintingly gave to the service of her people. In late years she had been working assiduously for the establishment by the state of a reformatory for youthful criminals—an institution which THE ADVERTISER has heretofore referred to as being greatly needed. It is not unlikely, that had she lived, at the coming session of the General Assembly her efforts would have been realized. We still hope that her plans will be carried into effect.
 Mrs. Patterson has been active in the Woman's Federation of Clubs and she has been perhaps more helpful in the direction of its work upon lines of real improvement than any other South Carolina woman.
 Mrs. Patterson was a daughter of the late Governor James L. Orr and a sister of the late Col. J. L. Orr, president of Piedmont Mills.

JUDGE MEMMINGER'S ORDER.
 Declining to Hear Motion to Dissolve Judge Klugh's Injunction.
 In declining to hear arguments on the motion to dissolve Judge Klugh's recent order enjoining the Milliken faction from holding a stockholders' meeting for the purpose of electing a board of directors for the management of the Laurens Cotton Mills, Judge R. W.
 Memminger, before whom the motion was made at Saluda last Monday, issued the following order:

"This is a motion on notice to dissolve an injunction granted by Judge Klugh at Abbeville on Oct. 28, 1905, on various grounds set out with the notice of motion.
 "Judge Klugh's order enjoins the defendants against performing sundry acts and gives the plaintiffs leave to apply for a modification or revocation of the same after eight days notice before me at my chambers.
 "The preliminary question is made upon my right to hear this motion. I have been cited to various sections of the code and decisions of our courts in support of this latter motion and the main ground taken is that the order is practically a rule to show cause returnable, strictly according to its express wordings before Judge Klugh himself, and that I cannot, although the new presiding judge in this circuit, hear the motion and grant the relief sought thereunder without entirely ignoring Judge Klugh's order and practically undertaking to determine an appeal therefrom and violating the clearly written law which prohibits one circuit judge from reviewing or reversing the actions of another.

"As against this preliminary motion and on behalf of the defendants it is urged that Judge Klugh's order is merely a temporary injunction or an injunction granted without notice and under section 246 of the code may upon notice before me, as the presiding judge of this circuit, be considered, revoked or modified as sought in the motion, paper herein, and that words 'before me at my chambers' in Judge Klugh's order cannot restrict the rights given generally by law under said section of the code.
 "It seems to be a fact in the case that Judge Klugh is now at Abbeville at his home between the actual sitting of courts in the seventh circuit, in which he is now presiding judge. Both views of this question, however antagonistic they may be, have strong, logical and earnest support in the arguments of the lawyers who have presented them. I carefully deliberated the matter over night after the hearing and would be glad to weigh even more carefully and longer except that the exigencies of the situation seem to demand an immediate decision this morning.

"What special reason Judge Klugh had for so expressing distinctly his own personal control over this order, I do not know and cannot attempt to ascertain. All I can say is that it is written in his order and unless the right for me to ignore the same most clearly appeared, I am not willing to strain the point to do so.
 "Upon consideration of the matter generally therefore, I must sustain the preliminary motion and hold that I cannot proceed with the consideration of the motion to dissolve Judge Klugh's order of Oct. 28, 1905, and it is so ordered."

Saved by Dynamite.
 Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake at nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr.
 King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At Laurens Drug Co. and Palmetto Drug Co., price 0 cents and $1.00. Trial by titles free.

Plans to Hold 3,000,000 Bales.
 NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—Following the arrival of President Harvie Jordan, the Southern Cotton Association today perfected plans for taking off the market 3,000,000 bales of cotton by means of a series of pledges which the farmers will sign themselves, stating their name and address and the amount of cotton they will thus hold. The cotton held will not be sold for less than 15 cents according to the pledge.
 A representative of the association is to be sent into every one of the 817 cotton producing counties of the cotton belt at once. When the pledges are signed they will be sent to the central office of the association in Atlanta.
 President Jordan says that half of the crop has already been sold at an average of 10 cents and the spinners must have all the remainder. He believes that 15 cents for the remainder is a fair price and it will only average the spinners 12 1-2 cents while they have based all their calculations on 14 cents cotton.
