WANTED --- "PORK."

Mayor Heyward Mahon of Greenville will expose himself to the enfilading volleys of Democratic ballots in a race for Congress this year against the past, present and possibly future incumbent, the Hon. Joseph T. Johnson whom we mightily helped to raise-meaning by "we" not the editorial "we" but Laurens county, - though the editorial uous Joe Johnsonian.

be strong in Laurens though the Hon. Heyward Mahon is said to be one of the best men on the inside of jeans. We have no objection to Mr. Mahon acting as pace-maker for the statesman from Ware Shoals-exercise will do the latter good and keep him from putting on too much flesh-to which he tends, the only man in the District whom Johnson can beat.

Meanwhile what about that postoffice good and strong and constant for every Congressman and United States Sena- for trial. tor who has been in office from this District and State since 1886 and where are the emoluments? Laurens is standing by Tillman, Laurens is standing under Johnson and Laurens even voted for that well known fire-extinguisher, the Hon. Asbury C. Latimer and Laurens has nothing more than the average outfit of free rural routes to show for these exertions. Meanwhile we hear of talk of public buildings for Anderson, Union, Chester, Rock Hill and all the other sites of ancient and ruined taverns in South Carolina; while in Greenville, Florence and a few other trysting places for disappointed lovers the buildings are actually rearing their stately heads and piercing the blue Cerulean with tall towers and glittering minarets.

In this year of beauty and bounty and good cheer we hope that Messrs. What! I'll be all of a month succumb-Johnson, Mahon and others, if others there be, will run for as well as in the county and town of Laurens.

A $75,000 post office would do us though it might have cost two million in this town-which ought to be a convincing argument - saving to the federal treasury $1,925,000 and all good purposes served and appearances main-

THE JUDGESHIP.

This is from the Columbia Record:

"All judges whose terms had expired were re-elected. So long as a judge fills the duties of his office acceptably there is every reason why he should be retained. Life tenure for judges is a proposition growing in favor, but in the absence of that the principle of retaining them as long as they are competent ind satisfactory is just as good.

We endorse the Record's expression. It expresses our view exactly. Because we would have been glad to see our fellow citizen, Senator Frank McGowan, a judge we said nothing before the election. It would have seemed ungracious for a Laurens newspaper to interfere with the aspirations of a worthy Laurens man, but we do say here and now that we believe in the wisdom of retaining on the bench any and all judges who show even ordinary efficiency. A common place lawyer elected judge will develop rapidly if he be given to understand that his position is secure. The ablest and best of judges, on the other hand, will be influenced more or less by political considertions if the office is to be regarded as a political prize.

We do not know Judge J. C. Klugh but we have heard lawyers say that he is an honorable and capable man. We and Judge George W. Gage and Judge only been there two weeks, but he until they choose to retire.

Our friend Mr. McGowan deserves to be a judge, and we have no doubt that he will be elected to a judgeship some of these days. Vancancies will occur and Mr. McGowan will be in demand.

MR. COCHRAN'S JOB.

The Chester Lantern says:

"The press throughout the western section of the state seems to unite in the belief that Mr. Ernest Cochran, the new district attorney, is the man for the place. Mr. Cochran is said to be unbiased by personal friendships and untrammeled by unwelcome business, connections which seems to have been the trouble with his deposed predecessor." "Don't pay for poems. Pay them for washing the windows and scrubbing the floor."—Chicago Daily

No mortal man can be a Republican office holder in South Carolina and escape being "trammeled by unwelcome connections", - not ordinarily of a business character. A man of great firmness and integrity of purpose may be able to perform the duties of his office well and to keep himself undefiled. This Mr. Cochran's personal record appears to be good, but he invites upon himself new trials, he ventures into a filthy morass foul with infections. We hope that he will sustain himself and preserve the respect of those of his fellow citizens in South Carolina whose respect is worth preserving but we do devil. not envy the successor of John G. Capers holding office by the grace of a President who cannot understand what is needful for the South's good. If Mr. Cochran remains inactive in politics he will displease his political master. If he becomes active in politics he bids farewell to the esteem which he now enjoys and ought to preserve at any cost.
