Dining Room Furnishings

Attention is not directed here to the need of cups and plates, but that on which they rest.

If your table linen has suffered from the wear and tear of time the stock can be replenished here with quality and price in keeping with your own ideas from the high mercerized cotton on through the different grades of Union linen until the fine all linen double damask is reached.

The same applies to Napkins and Doylies. If this refreshes memory in other parts of the household that the stock of towels is giving out these also can be furnished at moderate cost.
